118: Intro

Acro, Billy Bear, Jeremy, Sheriff Pook, Pussy Bear, P.J. Bear, and Dave Harley are in California still trying to get Sam Osprey and the Corporation.

Fart Senior, Grease Monkey, Commander Sims, Ceston Sims, Captain Picardo, Sonya Sims, Charlene Smith, John Smith, Johnny Smith, Sped Strong, Arison Gerrison and Gtison Gerrison are all aboard the S.S.

Captain Sellers, Commander D.J. Jerne and Space Station Atlantis are getting along well. 729

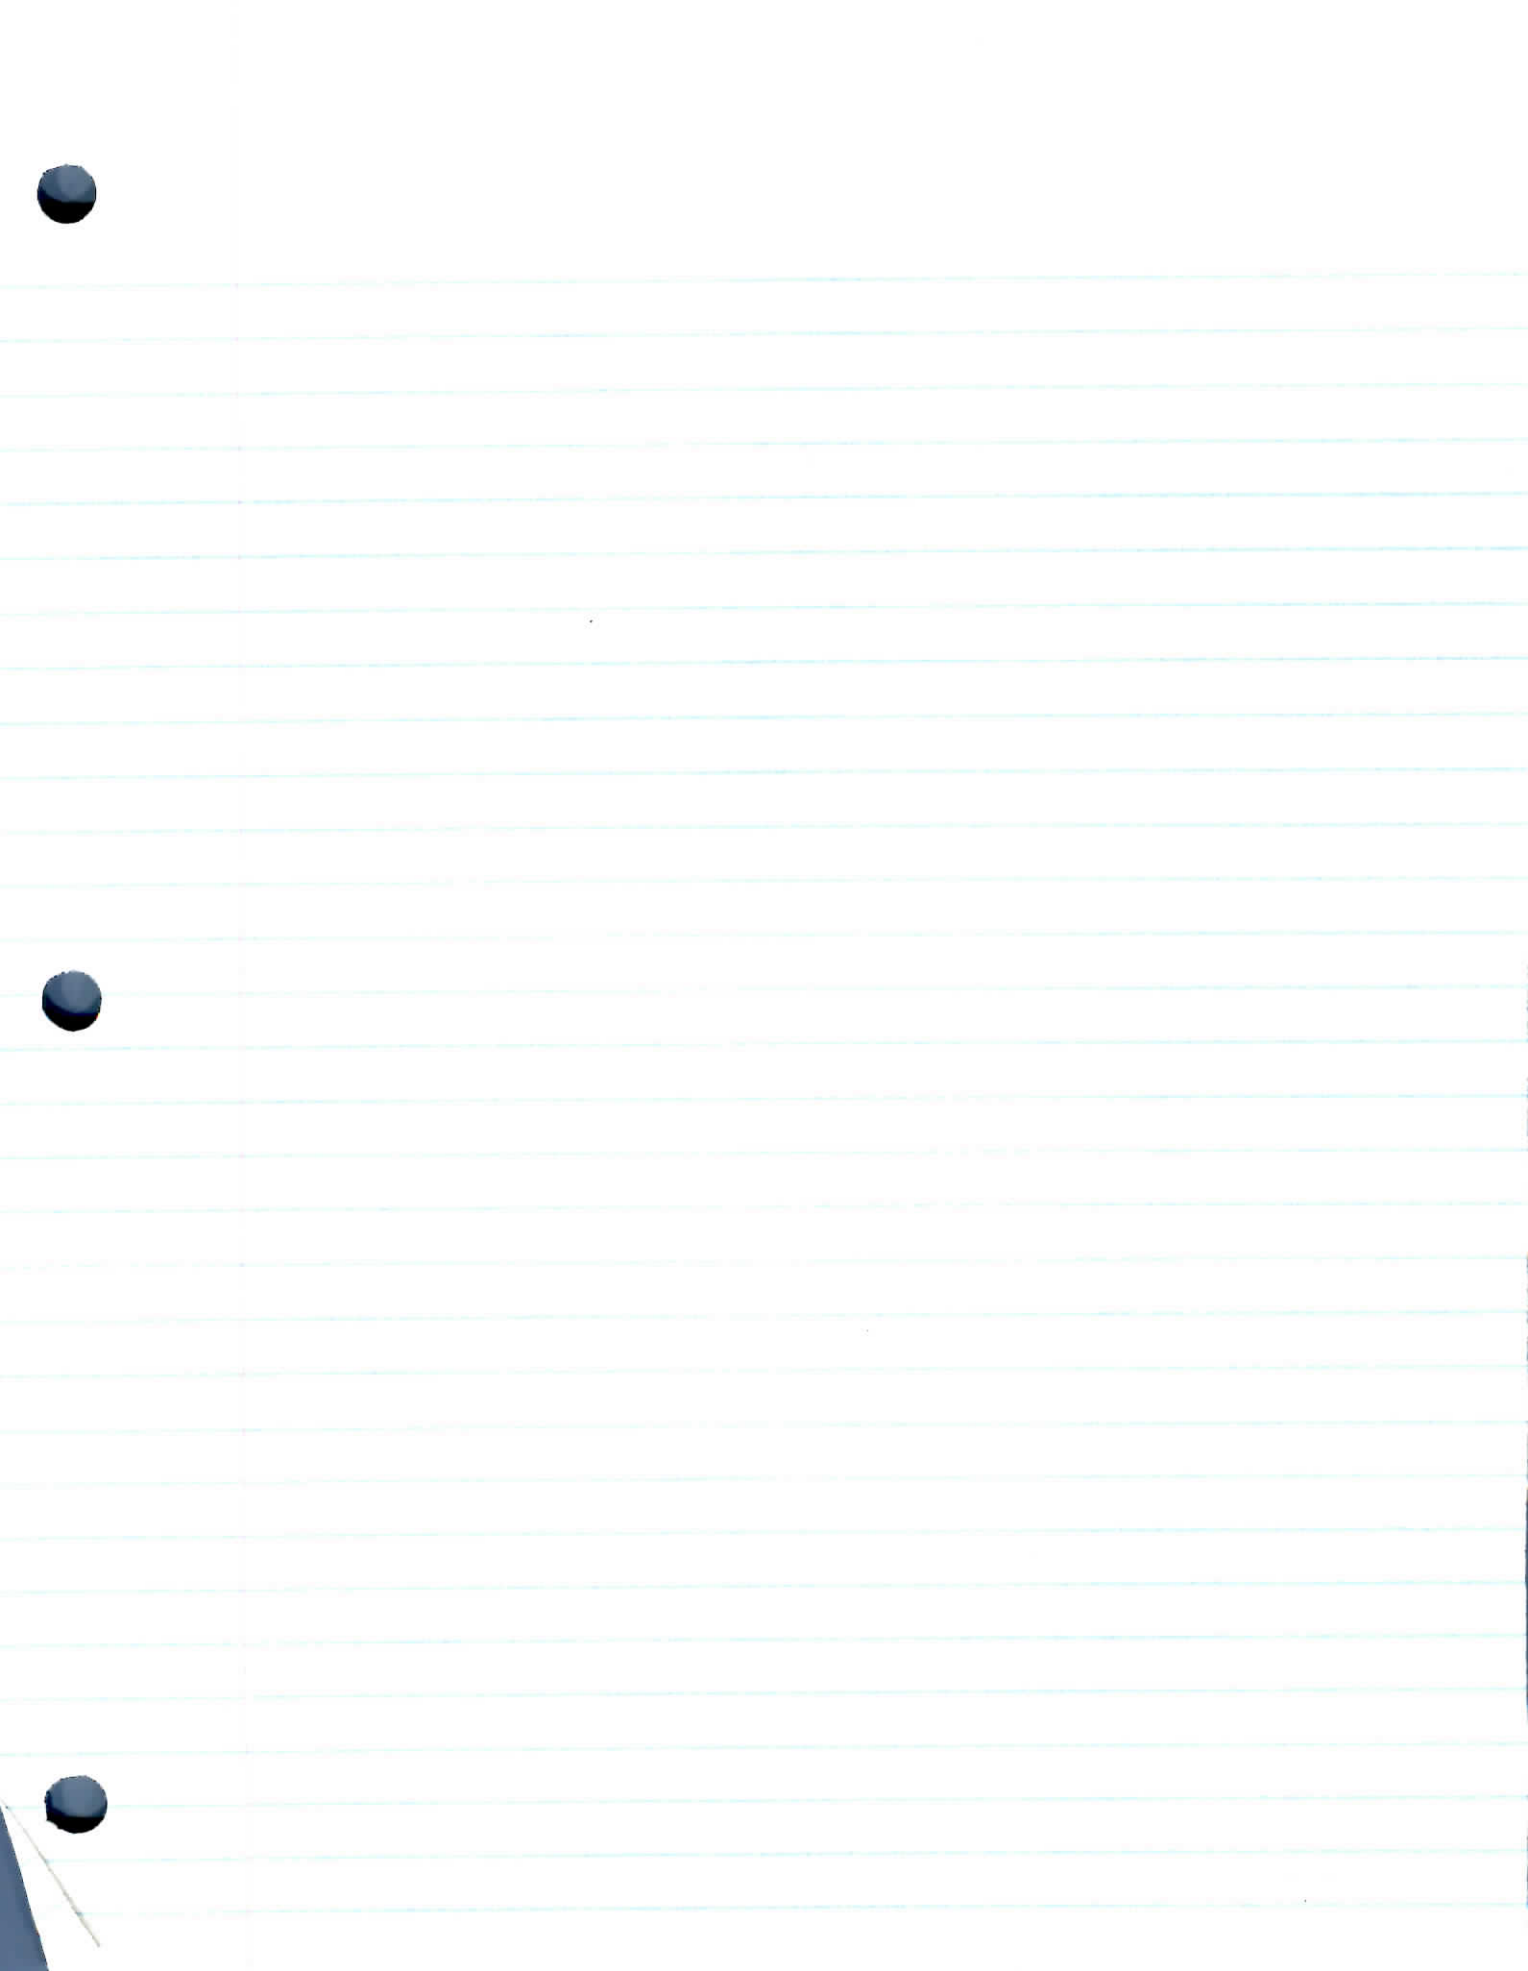

Jason Neff and his new recruits are aboard Space Station Petya.

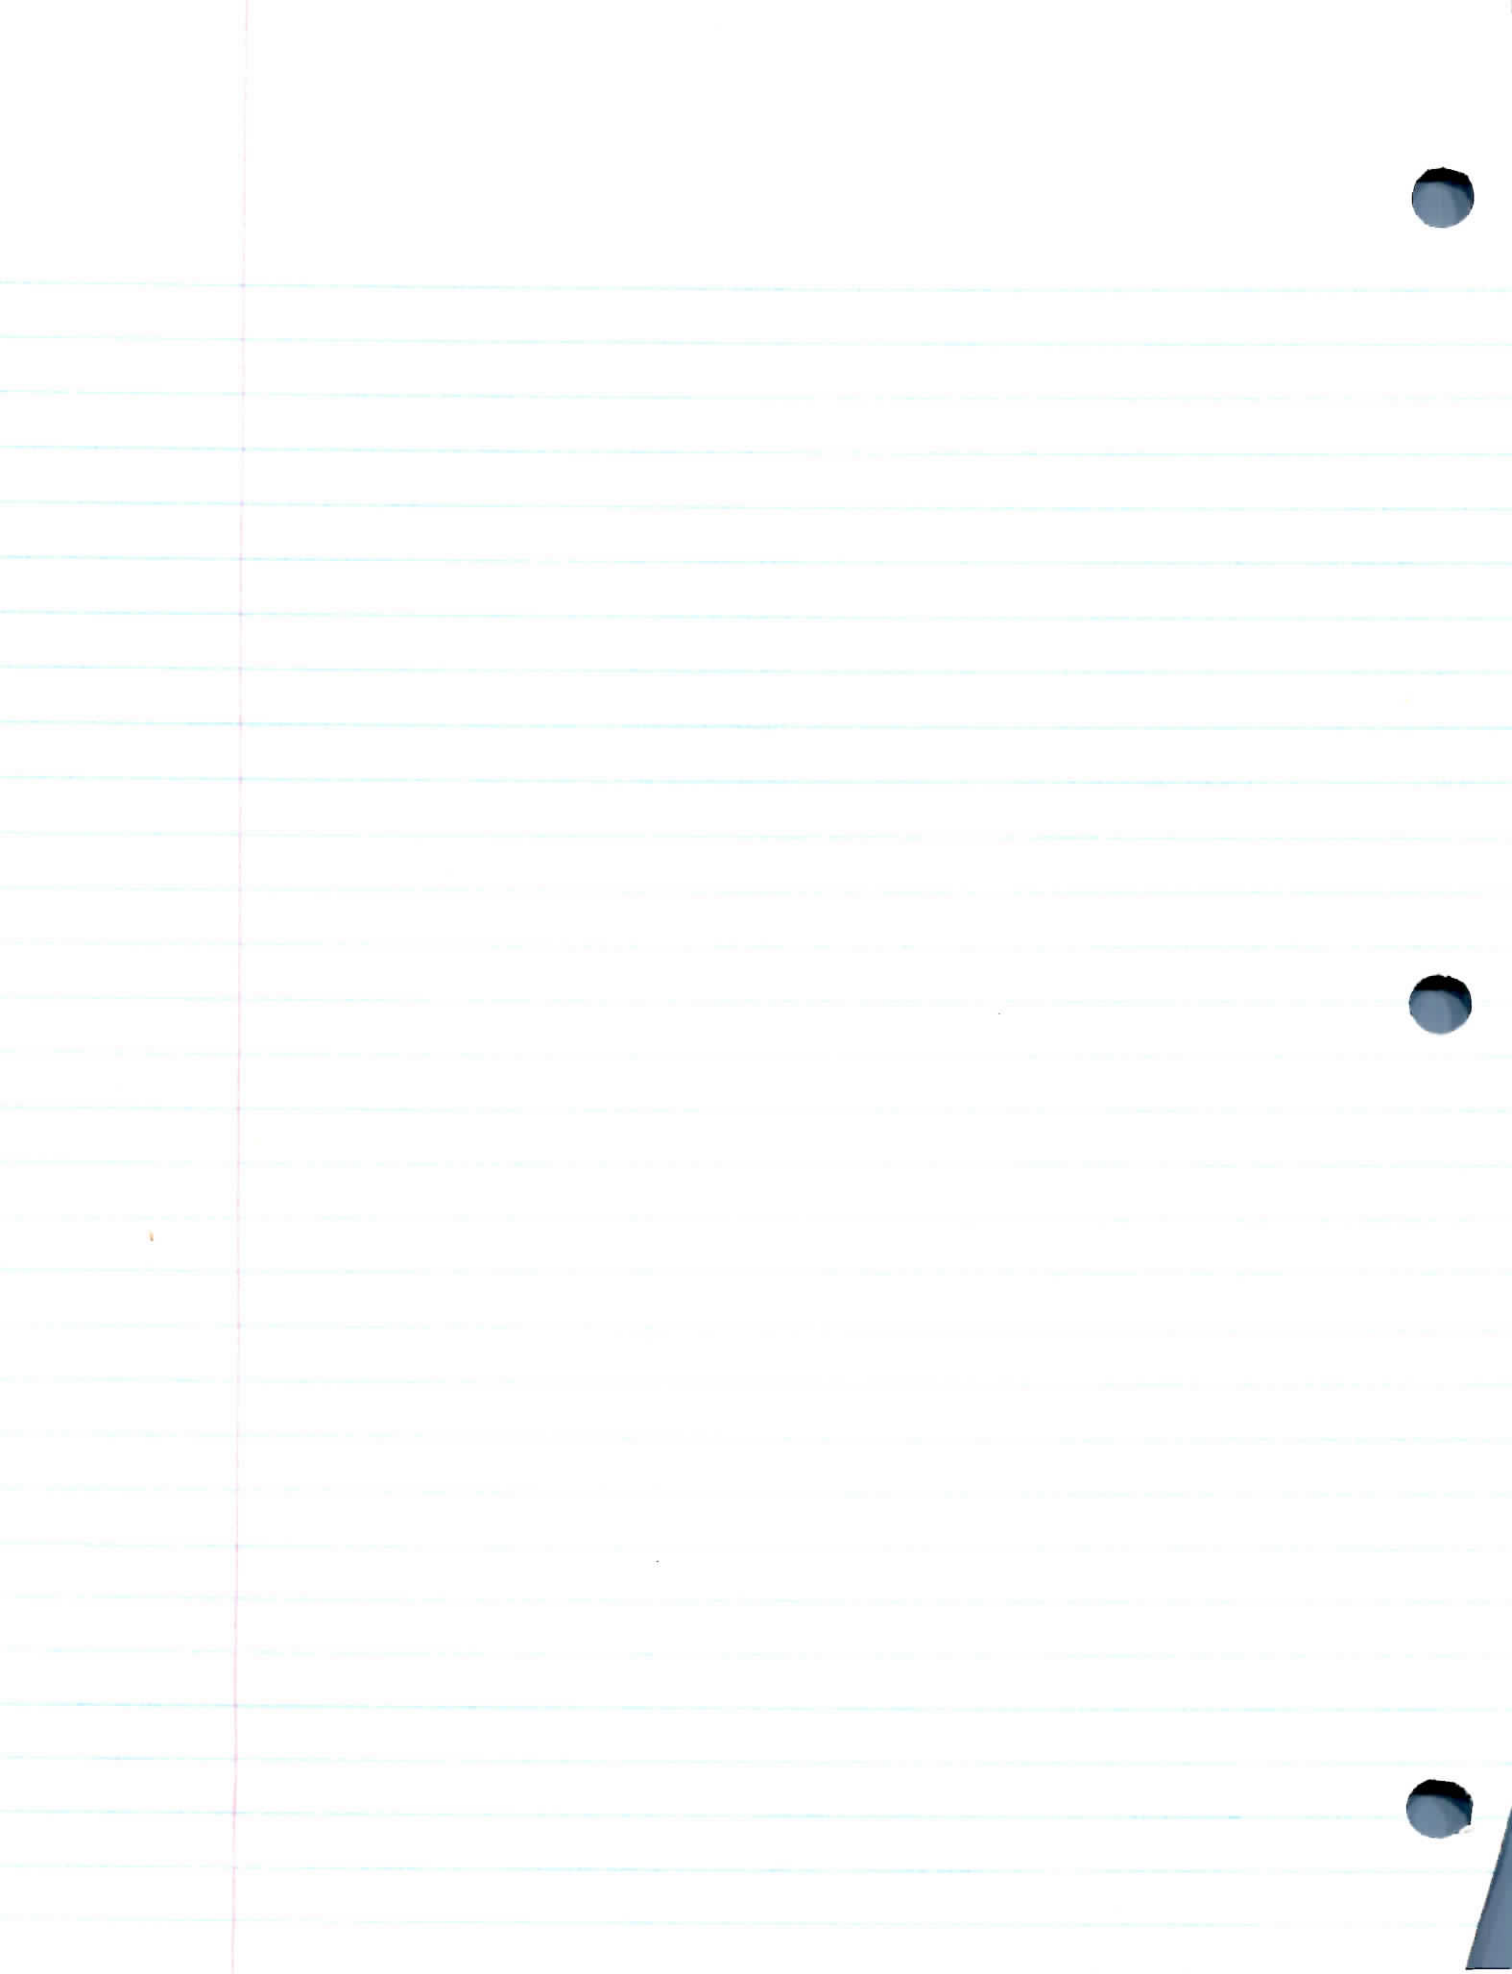

Cairge, The Claw, Cathleen Cooby, Deem, Sadonja Majewski, David Majewski, Mike Mason, Jordan Ripstein, Standon, Stefan, and Raven are all dead.

K.A.G. has broken up with Willy G. Herand K.A.G. are on a shuttle to rendezvous with Space Station Petya.

Willy G. and Erica are now dating.

The Dorodans of the Crystal Planet and the Humans of Earth are now at total everlasting peace.

119: Total Domination

At the White House:

"Two women to see you sir," the lady receptionist buzzed to Deen.

"You know I only let people in with appointments," Deen answered, "get their names and tell 'em to come back in an hour." Deen looked at the picture of his father.

The doors swung open, "I said no one is to enter! Servicemen!" A woman in all red clothing walked inside. She was very beautiful.

"Who do you think you are?" Deen asked, "where are my servicemen?" The doors opened wider so Deen could see both of his servicemen making out with the receptionist and the other woman the woman in red brought.

"My name is Cinda Elery."

"I don't give a da-m who you are! Scott!" Deen yelled.

"What's up Deen," Scott walked in and sat in a chair, "this lady Cinda is great. She changed my mind about a lot of things."

"What did you do to Scott?"

Deen was getting scared.

"I reprogrammed him to serve me," Cinda grinned, "oh pardon me - I'm a Retrodan."

"What?" Deen was confused.

Cinda clicked her fingers. A clear, transparent person came in (it looked exactly like Scott tape in the sense that you could see straight through it). It was as clear as water. It had absolutely no color.

"What the fu-- is that?"

Deen tripped and fell into his chair (sitting in it).

"Don't move," Cinda put her hand on Deen's shoulder. He felt a warm surge of energy flowing 732 throughout his body, "It won't hurt Mr. President. You won't feel a thing. In a little bit of time, you won't feel anything ever again." Cinda seemed to be in control of Den's movements as long as she held him. She stood Den up and walked him over in front of the colorless being.

The being walked into Den, literally. It simply went into the body of the President. Cinda let go of Den.

"I understand you Retrodane now and am under your control," Den announced.

"I know," Cinda grinned, "now knowing the Retrodane's mission, give all the names of the available people who can jeopardize our mission. I also want any special abilities so we will be able to compensate ahead of time. I'd also like to know where I may find these people."

"That's the easy part," Scott replied, "we're already throwing a one year party since the end of 733 of the Dorodan Wars."

"Did you say Dorodans?" Cinda asked, "they are our distant cousins by abilities. They have molecular forms of solids, gases and crystalline. Us Ketrodans have forms of plasma, energy and liquids."

"Science huh?" Scott asked.

"Are there anymore Dorodans?" Cinda asked, "I want them out of the way now."

"Look at all of these female protestors!" Karyn pointed to a line of picketers.

"They seem to be in front of that hair salon," Jerry held Karyn's hand as they walked to the crowd.

"Excuse me, what's goin' on here?" Karyn asked politely and curiously.

One lady came up, "Men have ruled for much too long. They treat us like their personal property. It won't be like that anymore." She took a breath.

"What the fu--?" Karyn and Jerry said astonished.

"That shi- went out in the late part of the 20th century. Women have gotten their equality," Jerry told Karyn as they walked on.

A red Ferrari drove up. The window rolled down. "Why don't you get your hair done?" Cinda aimed a laser at Karyn and Jerry.

"Sorry - maybe when Earth gets taken over by aliens," Karyn said sarcastically.

"Who is this Jerry?" Cinda asked.

"Who are you and how'd you know my name?" Jerry replied.

"Just go in," Cinda said as the picketers surrounded Karyn and Jerry. They were cuffed by energy cuffs and led in. Cinda took off.

At Mike Speed's house:

"So do you think you have a future in the Olympics Paula?" Mike asked.

"I'm what they call an Olympic hopeful," Paula was honest.

"Fuck, you almost beat me in a race - the 500 yard dash I believe," Mike got a glass of milk. He started laughing.

"Get fu - - in' real," Paula hit Mike, "you gave me a 250 yard head start yet you still lapped me about ten or more times."

"You limbered up?" Mike asked.

"I wanna win," Paula jogged in place, "I'll race you to the car." She ran outside to be greeted by space force guards.

"Oh shi-", she accented shi-. The guards unloaded their shotguns. Paula ran but could not beat the bullets. She jumped into the house which allowed her legs to be open and exposed. Her rolled white pants became a shredded, bloody mess. Paula let out a large scream. Her torso was minced.

"What's wrong?" Mike ran to her side and almost threw up, "Oh no - no not again. You'll be alright!" Mike went outside to see who did it. He only saw puddles on the grass, "Puddles?" 736

Mike turned to go inside. He heard the cocking of more than fifty guns.

"You're fast - but not that fast," Cinda said as energy cuffs were put on Mike's wrists and ankles.

At the hair salon:

"Can I get my hair done here - what are your prices, I'm in big hurry," a lady named Virginia Jordan replied.

"Why sure," the lady barber led her to it.

"Why am I in the seat with the drier," Virginia asked.

"It's the new feminine mind changer," the lady put the head piece over Virginia's head. The lady turned it on and Virginia went completely limp.

The lady got on the phone and dialed the seven digits, "Cinda, I'm reprogramming K.A.G.'s girlfriend. Yes we still have the captives. Alright, we'll do it then." She hung up and took the drier off of Virginia's head.

"You're gonna get those three space stations back to Earth. 737

We can't eliminate your friends or repossess them yet because the Dorodans or the S.D.C. can detect us. We couldn't win the Crystal Planet so we'll make the Plasma Planet," the lady explained.

"I love every bit of it, but why didn't you repossess me?" Virginia asked.

"The Dorodans would detect you. We need you for another job."

Five minutes later Cinda arrived, "Here Virginia, you know your mission, now go through with it. Use this even if people get in your way."

"We gotta get out of here," Gerry struggled with the energy cuffs.

"Here's three more friends for you," a space force guard pushed Mike, Deen and Scott in and closed the door and locked it.

"You three too?" Karyn looked at Gerry as they thought of a way to escape. The two had the same I.I. and were the smartest two people on the earth.

"Who's left?" Scott asked.

"What do you mean?" Mike was confused, "You know who. Why you ask a shi--y question like that."

"He didn't mean it, just chill," Deer stood up for Scott.

Once again Karyn and Jerry looked at each other. They knew each others thoughts. They wondered why Scott asked a question like that and why Deer stood up for Scott with that type of attitude and language.

"Look, my girlfriend got blown away," Mike started crying over Paula, "gu - jus - t fu - - - off."

"What I wanna know is how'd they know about us?" Jerry asked.

"And who are they or 'what' are they?" Karyn continued.

"I haven't the slightest idea," Deer answered, "Do you Scott?" Deer felt uncomfortable in his energy cuffs.

So did Scott but only Deer was able to lessen the energy to loosen the cuffs a little.

"I don't know either," Scott said.

"Remember Cathleen Cooke?" Mike asked, "you remember how it felt when she died?"

"Two or three times I believe," Gerry rubbed it in.

"And by Edmund Sims - what a hunk. She liked him better than you, but between us five, I'm glad that bitch - is dead."

Mike, Gerry and Karyn seemed to be on the same wave length. They knew Scott's oversensitivity.

"Oh well, I have to put that behind me," Scott replied.

Mike, Gerry and Karyn looked at each other and knew that wasn't Scott.

"How'd it feel to be a bastard?" Mike asked Deer.

"Your father was stupid to 've had you," Gerry continued.

Karyn followed up with the clincher, "your mom was even raped by Claw, isn't that different?" They knew Deer was very sensitive toward his family.

"Sad isn't it," Deer changed the subject, "When will the S. S. C., S. S. A. and the S. S. P. be back?"

The three were satisfied with their observation. They knew they were almost going to be tricked. But Scott's and Don's characters are so distinct that they are very predictable. Scott should have thrown a tantrum and sworn while Don should have been aware of the insulting verbal gestures he had gotten. He should have at least had his feelings hurt and cried. Any normal person would have at least told the insulters to stop. It is just too obvious. The behavior was just too abnormal for anybody, even the hardshell-ed Edmund Sime.....

At the Gurtalian Beach:

"Can we go in the water Angelica?"
E. J. asked.

"Who taught you how to swim?"
Edmund replied.

"Mike and Paula," E. J. said.

"Well okay, but be careful," Angelica waved them away. She 741 put her arms around Edmund, "What's on your mind Edmund?"

"You," he got on top of Angelica and kissed her, "One whole year together. I hope to have many more with you."

"Oh Edmund, I love you. You're my prince - have you ever thought about that?"

"Why not King Angel?" Edmund asked.

"Commander and Captain are the queen and king of the Crystal Planet, Angelica explained.

"You're the greatest Angel," Edmund praised.

"How many women have you said that to before?" Angelica laughed, "That's the third time you've said me."

"It's one of my favorite lines."

"Edmund!" Virginia came running down the beach.

"Hello Virginia," Angelica greeted K.A.S.'s girlfriend.

She ignored Angelica, and spoke to Edmund, "I've gotta call Dad, it's very urgent."

"Is this about the party?" 748

Edmund asked.

"Why are you telling us this?"
Angelica asked Virginia. Once again she did not answer the question.

"Well I'll go make the call,
Edmund kissed Angelica goodbye,
I'll be back in a few minutes."

Edmund dialed the numbers,
Isleen there."

"Hello Edmund - do you keep tabs on your wife?" Cinda asked.

"What?" Edmund was confused,
Who the fu... is this?"

"Nevermind that now - you will obey me," Edmund was falling victim to the hypnotic voice."

M.J. started crying as soon as Virginia sat down next to her. This was unusual because M.J. was asleep and then just started crying.

"I'm sorry - she's usually a quiet child," Angelica apologized.

"Oh that's okay - it happens."

"A buddy - you gonna be on the phone all day," a strong 743

judgy man with a hairy chest and legs asked, "A are you-did you here me. Answer me da--it!"
The man pushed Edmund across the room freeing up the phone.
The guy hung up and got his conversation going after he dialed his number.

"What an as-hole, Angelica," Edmund ran outside to see Angelica lying holding herself,
"What happened."

"I-immense p-pain. It feels l-like im-my body's falling apart-what ever that feels like," she smiled at Edmund.

Edmund held her and rocked her,
"Who did this - Virginia?"

"Yes-b-but w-why?" Angelica was fading away fast, "He kissed her and she closed her eyes, "I-I'll be you"

"You as-is from in' dress Virginia. The same fa--in' day I lost Erica. Goodnight Angelica."
Once again he held in his tears.

120: The Saviors

At the local hospital:

"What's wrong with her?" Edmund asked the doctor.

"After looking at her crystalline molecular structure I noticed abnormalities. It seems her molecules have shattered like glass," the doctor explained.

"What could have caused this and what'll happen to her?" Edmund was curious.

"I'm no Dorian scientist but she's body-dead. I haven't the slightest idea what could have caused it. Should I remove her from life support. There's nothing we can do," the doctor was negative.

"No, don't," Edmund replied, "there's 745 nothing "you" can do."

"Aye Edmund," Erica Smith and Willy G. walked over.

"Aye Cous., what's up Will?" Edmund greeted his friends.

"Is there anything we can do?" Willy asked.

"Get the gang together," Edmund ordered.

"We're already ahead of you," Mimma and Matt walked in.

"We couldn't find Jerry or Karyn," Matt announced, "I don't know where they are."

"I think there's something up at the white house," Edmund replied.

"Aye get the fu-- outta the way!" a familiar voice sounded.

"Yeah we have reservations." "You don't make reservations at a hospital and we don't let ruffians in or their bimbos," the nurse said, "Help police!"

"It's alright," Edmund ran out, "put her down 'Fart."

"No one calls my bit - a bimbo except me," Fart dropped the nurse flat on her butt.

"Yeah - no one," Erin Lewis said while chomping on her gum.

"You really should treat that lady with respect Gert," Mr. Sellers helped the nurse up.

"Her brown color bled into her brain leaving her hair blond," Gert joked around, "the brown color made her stupid like all blonds."

"Fu-- you Gert," Edmund looked at his wife.

"You dumb as-- look," Willy pointed to the bed.

"So what's the plan?" Matt asked.

"Who do you think did it?" Mr. Sellers asked.

"Virginia Jordan," Edmund replied.

"K.A. G.'s girlfriend?" Erica replied, "Why her?"

At the White House:

"Now it is time that you become completely loyal, Scott and Virginia," Linda said.

"Anything, for you Linda," they said at the same time. The Retrodams entered the bodies of Scott and Virginia.

"Put on your captive clothes 747 and your energy cuffs," Cinda ordered, "and get back in the cells. It's time to put part two into affect."

"Get back in that cell," one woman pushed Scott in while another attempted to close the door. Karyn and Jerry aimed their laser watches at the guards hitting both.

"They absorbed it!" Mike was astonished.

"Take her to Cinda," Virginia ordered, "she must become an accessory to woman supremacy." More female guards came to carry off Karyn.

"Get go of me you bitc-es!" Karyn squirmed and struggled.

When they were well away from the cell and the door was about to close, Jerry shot out the top light.

"What the he-- are they tryin' to do?" the female opened the door as two more flashes showed.

Mike had been freed by Jerry shooting off the energy cuffs at the part where the energy is emitted, "Love Karyn! She can use the watch as a laser with wrist impulses but she has to activate the force field by hand!"

"I'll make it there but first," Mike cocked a shotgun an unloaded it at a high speed. The body had been mutilated but still stood. The colored body fell out to the floor, of the alien outline.

"Pure plasma and energy," Jerry said softly and then screamed, "run! You're faster than sound but not light!"

The alien jumped into the power socket and wound up out of the light in the holding room, "You talk too much!" Mike ran in to save Jerry as the alien fired a plasma energy blast that ate away the wall.

"Thanks for the shortcut!" Mike picked up Jerry and ran into the president's main office.

"How did you get in here?"

Cinda wasn't surprised, "Take her body now and catch the first one."

"Get outta here Mike," Gerry ordered as he put on his force field. He aimed his laser watch at Karyn's bonds.

After she was freed she turned on her force field. The energy unit jumped at her to take her body but bounced across the room as soon as he hit her.

"Thanks Gerry," Karyn caught up to Gerry and they ran to the exit.

"You're not going anywhere!" Scott and Deen jumped out of the power sockets and guarded the door.

Karyn aimed her laser at the ceiling panels which were made of a thick fluffy insulation. Gerry fired at Deen and Scott making them emit an energetic glow since they were trying to absorb the energy on the outside of their bodies. The insulation stuck onto Scott and Deen. They 750 were paralysed in the insulation.

"Look - they've fallen," Jerry started.

"-and can't get up," Karyn continued. They ran outside to be greeted by a pair of ropes.

They were held by Willy and Beavis, "Hurry y'all. Willy and me don't have all day."

The two scientists climbed up stealthily. Some of the Retrodons jumped through the television screens and came out the White House antenna to greet the four humans.

"Take off!" Willy ordered. Jerry and Karyn escaped but Cinda came out of the electrical panel.

"Where you goin' - boys?" She put her hands on their chests and emitted a strong electrical shock much like the one that comes out of the blue plasma stun (self-defense) weapons. They instantly fell unconscious, "Take their watches and collar the young one. I know the Colombian has a girlfriend."

Karyn's and Jerry's fighter landed at the Space Force base, "Put up the Negative Energy Shields and shut off all power!" They were so tense that they said it at the same time.

"What's up?" Edmund asked.

"Where are your children?"

Karyn asked. They had a pretty good idea what had happened to Angelica after seeing the weapon.

"With Ms. Dibe," Edmund was confused, "what's wrong?"

"Where's Angelica - your children are in deep trouble," Jerry explained, "call them up and tell them to shut off all power at their house."

At the Sims household:

"Why do we have to watch the news?" E.J. asked, "It's gone straight to the dogs."

"After the name you gave your cat (they call him Bit-)," Ms. Dibe explained you could use some education."

She flicked on the television, "Wear the new fem collars. The ultimate sexual wear. Go out and buy them now. All men should have one. It's for all you freaks that wanna take things further. Only women may purchase it."

E.J. changed the stations. On every station there was a woman on. There was a woman even on the 24 hour a day - seven days a week cartoon channel, "Somethin's up."

"I said news E.J.!" Mrs. Dike sounded firm as she snatched the remote away from E.J.

The reporter announced, "This country as well as Canada, Mexico, all South American countries, Europe, Asia, Africa and anywhere else where there are civilizations has fallen under feminine rule. All males with girlfriends are to be collared and placed under complete obedience. All females are to report to a Retrodon conversion station. All others that were not said before 753 must be bleached."

"Bleached?" Ms. Dike was angry, "I want the news E.J., not one of your silly 3.0. shows." She looked at the screen as a Dorodan jumped out and entered her body through her eyes.

"Grandma?" M.J. started to cry.

"Hey - she did that when Virginia Jordan came up to our mother. Bitch, we need a Reversion!" E.J. used his mind power to communicate with his cat. The cat tore the skin off of Ms. Dike's leg when it bit her.

"You little piece of shi-!" Ms. Dike used a large energy surge to electrocute the cat, "It's your turn, Dorodan!"

Cinda walked in with Don, Scott and Virginia, "Use the disrupter." The three aimed at E.J. as E.J. put M.J. in back of him. He had much fear in his eyes. M.J. got the cat while crying. The beam came out of the disrupters and hit E.J.

He started to scream but the beam went through him. It hit the television screen and the screen shattered on contact.

"What the fu...?" Cinda was astonished. M.J. was still crying.

"Shut that la-m baby up!" Ben fired an energy blast at M.J.

E.J. used his telepathy to transport the cat and M.J. to his side. Ms. Dike came up behind them. E.J. turned into his gas form and entered Ms. Dike pushing out the Retrodan.

"Get the baby!" Cinda pointed for the Retrodan to take over M.J.

"Don't forget me," Paula ran in and got Ms. Dike and E.J.

"Paula!" E.J. felt he was in good hands, which he was. They sped off to the space zone base.

"What does it take to get rid of these fu--ers?" Deen asked.

"You should know," Linda cornered him, "what does it take?"

"I - I don't know," Deen was a little scared.

"Well neither do I, Linda backed off, "but I will find out."

At the Space Zone base

"We know these are plasma energy beings that can possess human bodies. They seem to use up the body's energy and then own it after the person dies. If the body can no longer function the plasma entity must leave," Grayn explained.

"We have a new member - Paula Speed," Jerry waved his hand toward her.

"I can't believe you made her faster than my father and me," Mike jealously peered over at his girlfriend.

"She only has the speed of light," Erin said as she sat on Bart's lap making out with him.

"Fu-- you," Mike replied.

"We know that they absorb energy and repel negative energy or are repelled," Jerry announced, "as long as you're wearing your watches you're fine. Don't use your lasers. It's useless against them. I just wish we had a way of detecting them."

"We do," E.J. said, "whenever M.J. is near a Retrodian, she cries."

"That explains and proves what happened to Angelica," Edmund felt more secure.

"But what about that weapon that?" Mr. Sellers asked.

"E.J., you said something about bleaching and coming out of the G.V.?" Erica asked, "Do you think this could concern Willy and Beavy?"

"It might," Karlyn said, "I don't have a very good idea of what might happen."

"We used to be strategists," Matt spoke for his wife too, "we should have decoys. One couple should go in for collaring and repossessing."

Mimla continued, "and another person for bleaching."

"I'll go for bleaching," Mr. Sellers agreed sadly.

"Are you sure?" Paula asked.

"If no one goes to get the info," Mr. Sellers explained, "we won't be able to save the planet. One life for millions of lives."

"That's deep," Mike admitted, "you're alright man. That's why you've always had my respect." Mike shook Sellers's hand.

"Now what couple can we spare?" Edmund asked, "Matt and Mimla are too important. The Speeds are very important. That leaves Fast and Erin."

"What the fu--? Uh-uh, fu-- all of you, you need us," Gary dropped Erin off of his knee.

"You need us." Erin said rubbing her butt.

"That's right, we do," Erica was clever.

"Won't the Aerodons have their memories?" Ms. Dike was actually concerned.

"We already thought about that," Gerry announced, "we'll have 758 to blank your memories."

"E.J. and M.D.," Karyn replied, "you have a big part. You have to, you must monitor and observe all of their activities. You're the only ones small enough and inconspicuous to do it. Your powers'll even help you out E.J."

"When do we start?" Mr. Sellers asked.

"Right now - we can't wait," Ms. Dike rushed them.

"When you get close to there use this," Gerry handed them all a ball point pen.

"Put it on your forehead," Karyn explained, "it will erase all information of or about the space force. It will also make you get rid of it."

"Why does Erin need it?" Mike asked sarcastically, "She doesn't have a brain to blank anyway." The whole room started laughing - even Erin.

"How do you think Pook and them are doing?" Erica asked Edmund.

"The same as we are," Edmund replied.

"That reminds me," Mimla announced, "shouldn't someone try to alert them of our status?"

"That's right Mimla!" Matt agreed.

"I'll go," Ms. Dibe agreed, "but only if I have company."

"We've already arranged that," Karyn smiled as Gerry carried Bit-over.

"He's got the speed of a cheetah now," Gerry announced.

"As well as the strength," Karyn continued.

"I'm not going," Ms. Dibe said in her own stuck up way.

"Come on Mom," Edmund pleaded.

"I'm not your mother," Ms. Dibe got angrier, "Marileva's dead because of this kind of shi-!"

"Oh she is?" Marileva walked in.

Edmund fell to his knees and broke out crying for the first real time in all of his life.

"She broke him down," Erica was astonished, "he's never cried before."

"How Gerry?" Edmund raised up 760 to look at his woman.

"Just reversed the mind drain process from Angelica's body: dead body to Marileva's brain-dead body," Jerry was happy for them.

"Really simple procedure, really it is," Karyn patted Edmund on the shoulder, "that gun that Angelica was shot with used a plasma that emits an extremely high pitch that nothing on Earth or the Crystal Planet could hear."

"Not even dogs could hear this," Jerry continued, "it literally shattered Angelica's crystalline, molecular makeup. It didn't work against E.J. because of his half human molecules protecting the half dominant do. o. dan molecules. This is a weird case of the recessives covering up the dominants."

"Uh - well leave you two alone," Karyn dragged Jerry out of the room.

"I'm ready for that rematch Mike," Paula replied, "I'll take that two hundred fifty yard head start."

"Fu-- that," Mike disagreed, "I get the heads start." They left.

"Might as well leave 'em alone, but Mathew?" Mimi asked.

"Yeah - why not?" Matt agreed as they walked out snuggled against each other.

"It's been one whole, long year without you Marileva," Edmund announced.

"I agree," Marileva took Edmund in her arms, "too bad, really."

"What do you mean?" Edmund asked.

"We're not even married," when they first, supposedly got married, a law by Commander prevented the marriage from being legal. Edmund remarried Marileva's clone when the law was revoked, "there must be some omen against us."

"That really sucks shi-," Edmund explained, "that means E.J.'s a bastard-."

"Shut up Edmund," Marileva smiled at him, "Did you miss me?"

"Yes," Edmund was honest, "in body. But your mind or soul were 762 within Angelica."

"mother?" Marileva looked over at Mrs. Dike who was sobbing.

"I'm fine," Mrs. Dike wiped her tears, "just leave me be. Oh and Edmund."

"Yes m'am, Edmund answered.

"Treat my daughter like a lady," Mrs. Dike ordered.

"I wouldn't treat her any other way," Edmund looked into Marileva's eyes.

The cat came and sat on Mrs. Dike's lap. She picked him up and carried him out.

"My mom really is a good person," Marileva said.

"I know," Edmund laid a big kiss on his girlfriend.

"Oh Edmund," Marileva was surprised as Edmund picked her up and carried her to their room.

Mike and Paula stopped for a little rest, "You're fast Paula, but I'm the best."

"That's a challenge isn't it?" Paula was up and ready.

"Let's get it on," Mike stood 763 up, "But what do you think of all this fem-ocracy?"

"I think it's wrong the way the ~~retro~~ rods are using women's and men's cruelty in the past to take over the world. They're using women to get their way, just as the men did in the past. Good cause but bad motive. Now quit stalling."

"Fleece mother fu--ers!" in a matter of seconds the two Speeds were surrounded by police.

"Hey - can't we talk this over?" Mike asked. The police pulled out all automatic weapons, cocking, steadying, and aiming them.

"I don't think they wanna talk," Paula announced.

At the Space Force base:

"We need a way getting to a space station," Matt pounded his fist on the table.

"We can't transmit through a negative energy field," Jerry announced.

"Yeah, but we don't want to 764 get our last hope involved," Mimla replied.

"Yeah, if they get captured, we're all fu--ed," Karyn used powerful words.

"Let's sleep on it," Jerry suggested.

"Is that a date Mr., Dr. Garrison?" Karyn played hard to get, "Cause I except.

"I'm kinda sleepy too Mimla," Matt started to leave.

Mimla grabbed him, "Don't you dare leave with out me."

Mike and Paula used their supersonic speed to unload all of the police officers' weapons.

"Take your best fu--in' shot fu--ers!" Mike dared.

"We can't get in," Cinda replied, "and they can't get out. Sooner or later my friends you'll have to contact someone for help. When you lower that shield, we'll have you."

"We finished getting their information Cinda," Virginia announced.

"Excellent," Cinda grinned. "I'm curious to hear what they have to say."

"Any last words?" a female cop asked.

"Do questions count?" Paula asked.

"Don't become a smart as-, " the cop said as she signalled for a Retrodan to come. It carried a collar.

Scott and Den walked out, "Just give in Mike - you can't even stop us. We're the future."

"I thought the children were," Mike said.

"I hate smart as-es," Scott cracked his knuckles.

"We might as well get our as-es in gear," Paula said as she sped off with Mike.

"Get them!" Den pointed.

Scott extended the antenna on his portable phone, "Cinda, we've spotted Mike and Paula on route to the Space Force base."

"Good," Cinda praised, "this'll 766 change my plans though. I'll have to talk to you later."

"Don't waste your bad breath bit-," Willy said.

"Torture him until I get back," Aida put Virginia in charge, "that'll make me wanna stay out longer." She left.

"So Gin - what's up," Beavy tried to make conversation.

"How'd you get free?" Virginia was surprised.

"It's called a gun," Erica came up behind Virginia. Virginia turned and Beavy knocked her unconscious with a crow bar he had found.

Willy rose to his feet, "a Erica." They kissed as she shot off his energy cuffs.

"Let's get outta here," Erica suggested.

"You're not going anywhere," the Retrodome exited Virginia's body.

"Wanna bet," Edmund jumped out of his fire place and put his banana clip on his up, "lights out." He dropped his up and pulled out a laser. It was hooked up to Angelica's brainducer. He was going to inject the negative energy into the being when it jumped back into Virginia.

"You can't hit a girl, can you?" Virginia dared.

"Shi- you got me there don't you?" Edmund asked as he kicked his leg over to Willy.

"You wouldn't shoot K.A.G.'s girlfriend either," Virginia relaxed a little.

"Then again, I'm not human," Marileva took the brainducer from Edmund, "I'm half Dorsidan, and you're not a girl." She pulled the trigger, shooting the needle into Virginia. A surge of negative energy went into her.

"Why can't you just use your laser?" Beavy asked.

"It'll bounce off of 'em," Erica answered.

"Matt and Minla ran in, "We've checked the whole White House premise."

"Mike and Paula have them 768 runnin' all over the place," Mumma replied.

"Did you guys find the transmitter?" Edmund asked Gerry and Karyn as they ran in.

"I hope Mr. Deke made it," Gerry said as the colorized version of Virginia fell out of the transparent one. The transparent one completely disappeared off a dose of negative energy. Marileva retracted the needle and put the gun strap around her shoulder.

"We couldn't get word to the space stations with this equipment but I hope we got to San Francisco, Calif. it's the last unconquered place in the world," Karyn explained.

"We also found documents that tell very completely how all of their procedures work," Gerry held them up.

"What about Zart, Sellers, and Erin?" Mumma asked.

"Way ahead of you," Linda walked 769

in.

"Shi-," Matt replied, "but how?"

"Scott and I pointed them out," Deen bragged.

"Now we're just like them," Sellers walked out with Fart and Erin.

"Oh and your son was no match for my superior powers," Cinda replied, "we've had a tail on him for the longest."

"Where is he?" Marileva asked firmly, "and where is my daughter?"

"Don't you even care about your bit-y mother?" Virginia said as another Kerosene entered her body.

"I'm one of them too," Ms. Dibe came out.

"Oh and your son," Cinda clicked her fingers, "he'll be here soon."

Suddenly all of Deen's, Scott's, Virginia's, Fart's, Erin's, and Sellers's color disappeared.

"Up, all up," Cinda smiled as they walked into, "their times up & have six, your children make eight."

"Is this your bleaching process?" Karyn asked curiously.

"Since your friends were directly 770 exposed to the plasma in my people for a long period of time, they just - fade - away. Then my people become more than energy and more than human. I absorb them and I in turn get more powerful. Now you'll see the bleaching process. Once I get ten, there's only one thing you can do to get rid of me. By using women's rights as my excuse - I'm invincible."

"You could've had ten people easily - wh -", Muma was cut off.

"I like the challenge you space di - - s pose," Cinda said as E.J. was brought in wearing a collar. Another woman walked in while carrying M.J.

"What do you hope to accomplish by taking them," Maileva asked.

"This whole planet," Cinda laughed, "by containing a Drodan, I won't need those extra two." One woman handed Cinda a syringe, "I'll simply inject plasma into your children and have their color run away.

"mother," E.J. looked at Maileva. 771

Cinda pulled the leash pulling E.J. to her; "Lighs out honey." She injected E.J. with the plasma and rejeed all of his color. Cinda absorbed him.

"Ya--bein' a gentleman!" Willy blew all of the women away except for Cinda.

Erica pulled the gun away; "That won't get them back."

Marileva used her powers to catch M.J. before she hit the ground.

"Nooo!" Cinda raised her hand; "Stop. You can't win. It's over."

"That's where you're wrong," Mimla replied.

"It's never over, bitc-," Marileva said.

"Ooh--big words," Cinda looked at Marileva; "your son feels good inside me."

Edmund held Marileva back by holding her hand; "What exactly is happening to these people you have absorbed?"

"I can answer that," Jerry said; "She has all of their souls and strengths. Since she's an energy-being invading an alien 772 body, the absorbed people's strength helps her overcome the host body again taking another soul with strength. The souls helps her live longer in the body. She can live out each of their life times, one after another."

"So they're as good as dead?" Willy asked.

"You humans are also smart," Cinda replied.

"What happens to their colorings?" Blavy asked.

"I use it as," Cinda hesitated, "as, how can I say this, my after dinner wine. It's very good really. I can't wait to pi-- out your son Marikva."

Edmund held his girlfriend back, "Let me go Edmund."

"Yes Edmund let the pitbull go," Cinda raised her arms and fired a blue electric beam at the last of the Space Force.

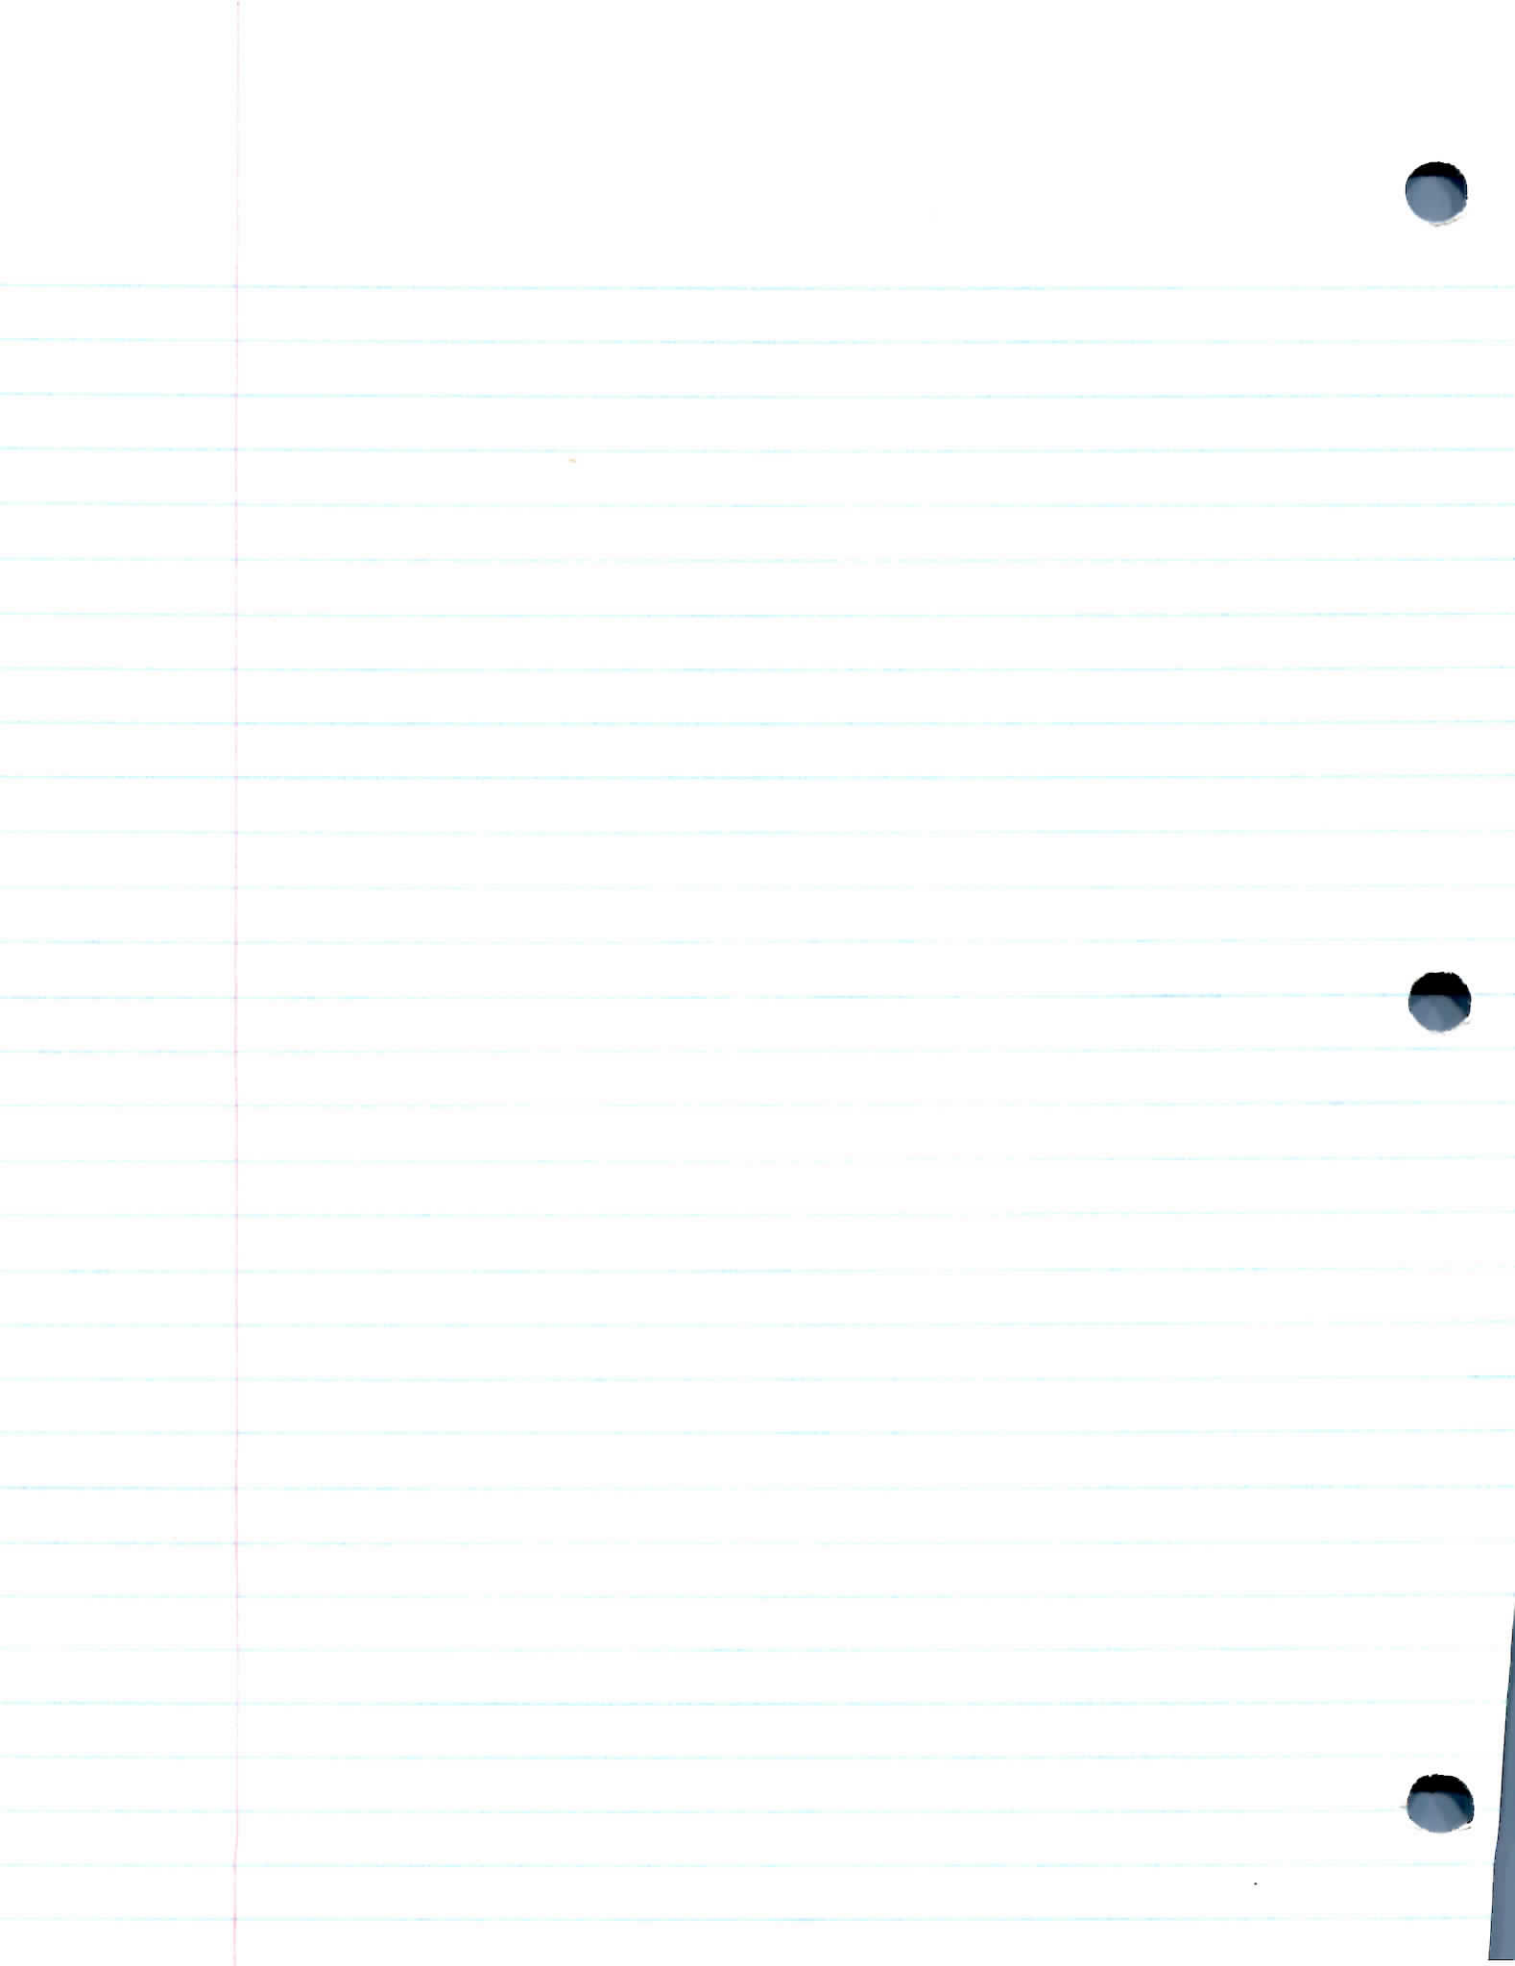

"They're headed toward the White House!"

"I have your Space Force, I 773 have your friends. I have your world. I will have you. Give me your souls." The space force were all on their knees trying to resist the soul and energy-draining beams, "Give in to me."

There was a large rumbling sound.

121: The Retreat

No one had the will to fight Cinda. Their hopes and dreams were shot. They were all unconscious.

Cinda walked over and removed M. J. from Marileva's arms, "Beautiful, beautiful baby. Too bad your mother is such a bitch."

"What do we do with them?" Space Force soldiers walked in, "We can't touch them with their negative energy shields on."

"I want no time wasted," Cinda ordered, "shoot them and then blow up the White House."

"With them in it?" the guard leader was a little scared.

Cinda put her hand on the guard's forehead. "He disintegrated," "Don't ever question my rule."

"Yes mistress Cinda," the guards feared her and obeyed her. They quickly loaded their guns and cocked them. Cinda left. The guards also set the explosives on ten minutes.

Marileva felt around for M.J. and then her eye. Neither of them were there. Since she was the strongest of all of them, she was the first to awaken.

"You've gone way, too far Cinda!" Marileva said to herself.

Eight guards walked over to the captives. They aimed their weapons and fired. Since no one shot at Marileva, she used her powers to disintegrate the bullet before it hit Edmund.

Mike and Paula used their superspeed to literally catch the bullets in their hands.

"Get them!" the new guard leader ordered.

"Get real," Paula said as she and her boyfriend disarmed the guards. They found a long 778 rope and rapped it around the guards' feet. That action inturn tripped the guards up.

They were stunned for a moment but got up again. "These fu--ers keep comin'," Mike was dumbfounded.

Marileva weakly raised her hand toward the guards. They grasped their shirts over their hearts. On their shirts over each of their hearts, crimson circles appeared. The Petrodons exited the guards bodies in writhing pain. The circles on the guards' shirts disappeared. The clear-colored Petrodons turned blood-red and disintegrated from the inside out. Marileva fell unconscious again.

Suddenly a wall was completely blasted out. The explosives started beeping (which signalled twenty seconds were remaining before the blast).

"Hurry up!" Sheriff Pook yelled as he backed a truck into the White House. This was no ordinary 779 regular truck. This was a semi-battle truck. Billy and Acro jumped through the back two doors of the truck. They helped Mike and Paula load the guards in and some of the space force. There were only ten seconds left and Edmund, Marilwa, Willy, Karyn and Jerry all remained.

The roar occurred again. "We got 'em!" Dave Harley and his bikers roared inside. Mike and Paula went in with them. The White House exploded. From the dark and dark fires emerged the Re--'s Angels and Mike and Paula.

"Yes!" Pussy hugged P.D., "We did it."

Acro and Billy opened the back doors as they almost got sucked out. Acro maintained his balance but Billy held on to the swinging door. He was slipping and his gym-shoes were dangerously close to the street. Acro pushed out the ramp to allow Mike, Paula and the bikers to board. Billy 750 used his legs to swing the door closed. He flipped off of it and stuck his landing.

"We're not out of the toilet yet!" P.J. called back.

"Shi-!" Billy felt his ear to see if his earring was still there. It was but he was feeling a little scared.

"P.J.'s been hanging around 'gart too much," Aero replied.

"What 'gart?" Marileva walked out by holding on to the side of the truck.

"'Gake over Pussy," Pook left the cockpit and went to the back.

Aero and Billy helped Marileva into a chair.

"You look like you got wasted," Dave replied.

"I think I did," Marileva looked up.

"Woah timeout," Pook said, "you're not a clone are you?"

"And if so, where the fu- is my sister?" Billy asked.

"Mike and Paula told us a little bit," Aero announced.

P.J. brought some tea over to Marileva, "Thanks pal." She explained. 781

"Quit crying, you, you baby!" Cinda screamed at M.J., "Bring me the needle. I wanna get this "over" with." A guard handed her the syringe.

"Uh - where's the kid?" the guard asked.

"Uh, shis -," Cinda dropped the syringe, "how do they do this?!"

"And what they?" the guard was confused. They're all dead. The White House blew up ten minutes ago.

"Yes, that's right isn't it?" Cinda realized the baby couldn't have gone far in the penthouse of the skyscraper hotel. M.J. couldn't reach doorknobs or elevator buttons, "I want that baby back here. Search this whole penthouse. If you so much as smash the carpet down, I will take your life. If you don't find that baby, I will take your life."

"Yes mistress Cinda," the guard radioed to his men and women.

"That is no ordinary baby," Cinda said to herself, "if any resistance 787 gets her, the Retrodane are fu--ed. They can sniff us out like dogs."

Cinda underestimated M.J.'s range of friends. M.J. rode Bitc- to the terrace where Bitc- jumped through the terrace window.

"What was that?" Cinda pointed toward the terrace.

The guards followed her over to the open window. Cinda picked up speed as she looked over the edge, "Doesn't look like there's anything over there. Must've been the wind." Suddenly Bitc-, with M.J. on his back, came from around the curtains and ran into Cinda knocking her off of the terrace.

She grabbed on but her grip was slipping, "That son-of-a-bitc-! I won't lose this body." Bitc- and M.J. jumped off the building, "They won't escape me!" She let go and turned into her original Retrodane form. Then she turned into Zart. Bitc- landed on all fours while 783

"Zart landed on the ground cracking it," I never wanted this form." Since she had their souls, she could turn into the person until that person died. Zart was now dead. His face laid indented in the ground and there was no blood.

This puzzled Bitc-. He examined the remains and then proceeded to leave. Then a hand grabbed M. J. She started screaming and crying as she struggled to get free of E.J.'s hand.

Bitc- took his front claw to scratch E.J.'s wrist. E.J. immediately let go. M.J. got on Bitc- and they took off down the road.

"Now I can get rid of them," E.J. changed back into Cinda, "I only have to get Mike and Paula."

"What'd you want us to do Cinda?" a female walked over to her.

"I want them followed," Cinda said sarcastically, "of and send a message to the S.S.C." Cinda changed into Scott Gipsword.

"Yeah this is Captain Ricardo of the S.S.C."

"We need you to return home," Scott said.

"Why?" Commander asked.

"You're a Dorodan aren't you?" Scott asked.

"Yeah, so?" Commander replied, "What the fu - - does that have to do with our return?"

"Just do it," Scott said after he turned into Deen, "Deen out."

"Something's wrong?" Cestron asked as he hugged Commander.

"I don't know," C. Ricardo replied.

"I sensed something that I've never sensed since I, I don't know," Commander was puzzled.

"Edmund, Edmund," Marileva sat next to him.

"Yeah?" Edmund answered.

"Pook says it'll be an hour before we reach the stadium," 785

Marileva said, "Why?"

"Why what?" Edmund replied sadly.

"You know why," Marileva said, "Why do you hold all of your anger and sadness in? It's killing you inside."

"What anger?" Edmund was holding it in again; "You know, you're just like Erica and Angelica. Just leave it alone and leave me alone."

"You know, you don't mean that," Marileva replied.

"How do you know what I mean?" Edmund asked, "You ask as if you can-."

"I can, remember?" she got closer to him and put her arm around his shoulder, "Why do you try to push our relationship away. You know you love. And I love you."

"Do you know of all the shi- we've been through. Every girl I've ever been close to has either been blown away, switched with a clone, or been shot into space and come back to me. I can't take this Marileva."

"It won't help anybody if you. 786" push me away," Marileva explained, "whatever happened to: "what's done is done and you can't change it, unless you can go back in the past. Don't give up your life or push me away. Your father's been through a lot more than you - and he's even remarried the queen of the Dorodans. You helped to make that happen. Peace between the two planets. Haven's even gone. Now we have a new enemy. Who knows, just because you're on the team, we could pull it off. Now do you ever know what to do? Just go with the flow Mr. Tight Ass."

"Su - - you Marileva," Edmund smiled at her.

"Why don't you?" she smiled back.

"Nah, I can't get E.J., M.J. and your mother out of my mind, as well as the others," Edmund was honest.

"Speaking of mothers," Marileva was getting personal, "I know Ceston wouldn't marry a bit - like what you described your mom to be. Who were they?"

"How'd you know?" Edmund asked, "sorry, Erica, Mike, Gort, Dean, Acro, Billy and me were all put in a home when most of our parents were put in an asylum. Billy and Acro didn't know who their parents were. The two heads were the biggest fu--ing di--'s you've ever known. We tied them to their bed and busted outta there. We were a bunch of juvenile delinquents. We then hooked up with our friends from school, Pooh, Pussy, and Willy for food, occasional shelter, and clothing. We got older and more independent. Pooh, Pussy, Billy, and Acro moved to San Fran for job applying. The rest of us moved out west too. But we went to Colorado. We got jobs, the Dorodm Wars started and ended, and here we are with the Petrodan Wars. So why'd you wanna know?"

"See Edmund," Maulwa proved her point, "you're not a loner. You've always had friends and probably always will."

"You daughter - of - a - bit -," Edmund hugged Marileva, "you think you're so fu - - in' clever."

"Can it be like it use to Edmund?" Marileva pleaded, "I want you back. Come back to me."

"I'll think about it," they stood up together and went up to the cockpit holding hands.

"Hello Edmund," Pook stood up and gave Edmund a hug.

"Sorry 'bout sleepin' on the job," Edmund laughed.

"Why haven't the Retrodane come after you all?" Marileva asked.

"There's nothing out in San Fran but desert and desert," Pussy replied.

"It would be a waste," Pook thought, "I suppose. But do you know their mission?" An enquiring mind wanted to know.

"Feminine domination is what they said," Edmund acknowledged, "but I know that's bullshi-. Do you know about their powers?"

"Jerry and Karyn updated us on the subject," Pussy replied.

"Where's Jeremy?" Marileva asked.

"He's keepin' watch over the stadium and the bar," Pook said.

"Why do people say we're so weird Jerry?" Karyn asked.

"I think we're weird when we have sex," Jerry said as he hugged Karyn and mostly red bunette hair, "your diaphragm seems to be escalating at high speeds."

"When you're closer than twelve centimeters," Karyn explained, "my metabolism speeds up in turn speeding up my hormones."

"Yes, my testosterone as rapidly affected my blood pressure in turn rushing it up the coxibis maximus."

"Ooh - Jerry," Karyn and Jerry went on like that all the time they had sexual intercourse (and mostly sexual verbal intercourse).

"Erica," Willy replied, "do, well did you really like Edmund?"

"Ea--you Willy," Erica put her arms around him.

"Why don't you," Willy grabbed her and pulled her to the bottom.

"Why don't you tell me about Kitty and you?"

"My di-- - action is my own business," Willy smiled and waited for a comeback.

"You don't have a di-- to act with," Erica smiled as Beavy walked by, and I've seen it too." Beavy started cracking up.

"You bite-!" Willy screamed, "My di-- break you in half!"

"One look at that shriveled up piece of shi- probably would break me into pieces," Erica smiled.

"Zu-- you Erica," Willy was embarrassed even though they both knew Willy had an enormous penis.

"Why don't you," Erica pulled him down, "Edmund would be very hard to beat, but you're comin' pretty close to it." They had sexual intercourse also.

"I'll never understand grown-ups," P.J. replied as he and Beavy walked to the cockpit.

"You say you'll never be like that but you know, you really won't be able to resist," Beavy explained, "the hormones just take over."

"Yeah that's right, Puberty the Child Molester," P.J. said.

"Do you think we're gettin' outta this matt?" Mimla asked.

"Fu-- yeah!" Matt was confident.

"If we are even gray I ask how?" Mimla replied.

"Well - just go with the flow," Matt said.

"Is that supposed to be a plan?" Mimla asked.

The truck stopped at the Hungry Pelican. Pook, Billy, Acro, P.J., Pussy, Beavy and Dave got out.

"Say hi to Jeremy for," Erica waved.

"You can say it on your own," Jeremy walked out wearing an apron and his sailor hat.

"What's up Jeremy," Marikva waved.

"What the fu--?" Jeremy turned to Pook.

"It's a long story," Pussy helped 7th the astonished Jeremy inside.

"We'll talk while we work," Pooh said leaderly.

"Wait, what the fu-- are you doin' to my business?" Jeremy asked.

"Just wait an' see," Dave said firmly.

"Fu-- that!" Jeremy replied, "I wanna be in on all the shi-."

Matt drove the truck to the football stadium.

"I hope our plans were sufficient and clear," Jerry said.

"Don't worry," Traun smiled, "it's only the fate of the world."

"I love you Marilva," Edmund looked into his wife's eyes, "I always have and always will.
True - I loved Erica, but she's my cousin by way of Angelica, and I loved her mind and body and your mind but I still have this bond toward you. I had our first ring, but that was annulled by the government. That was also 793 my ring I would've given Erica. I got another ring to only find it wasn't you. Commander took that. She gave it back to give to Angelica, now Angelica's gone. I could've sworn I've lost over six thousand dollars in ring costs. Since we both love each other, why shouldn't we be together? I know in my heart that this will be alright. Angelica and Commander gave me this idea, well sorta. Before the war broke out, and Angelica's body died, I - I had these made."

Edmund held out his hand giving Marilva crystal earrings.

"This is weird," Marilva held out her hand, she too had a crystal earring, "I got it the same way you did, but before. Does this mean yes?"

"Yeah," Edmund replied.

"Then I don't need a token of our love and you don't either," Marilva said.

"That's true," Edmund agreed, "we've proven that rings and shi- always pu -- up the relationship." 794

"I have a feeling that if we kill the body/soul, host, then we can get entity out in the open," Karyn supposed.

"But Cinda has our people inside of her," Jerry was sympathetic.

"Yeah but the odds are eight to the whole world," Karyn replied, "we'll need perfection on these weapons."

"Pooh has all of the people of this town locked safely in the Hungry Pelican," Jerry announced with our adapter plans.

"It won't be long 'till those fu--ers find us," Karyn held Jerry's hand, "we gotta get busy." At work - that was.

Erica and Willy stealthily ran up to the "new" Corporation headquarters.

"Where're the fu--in' guards?" Willy asked.

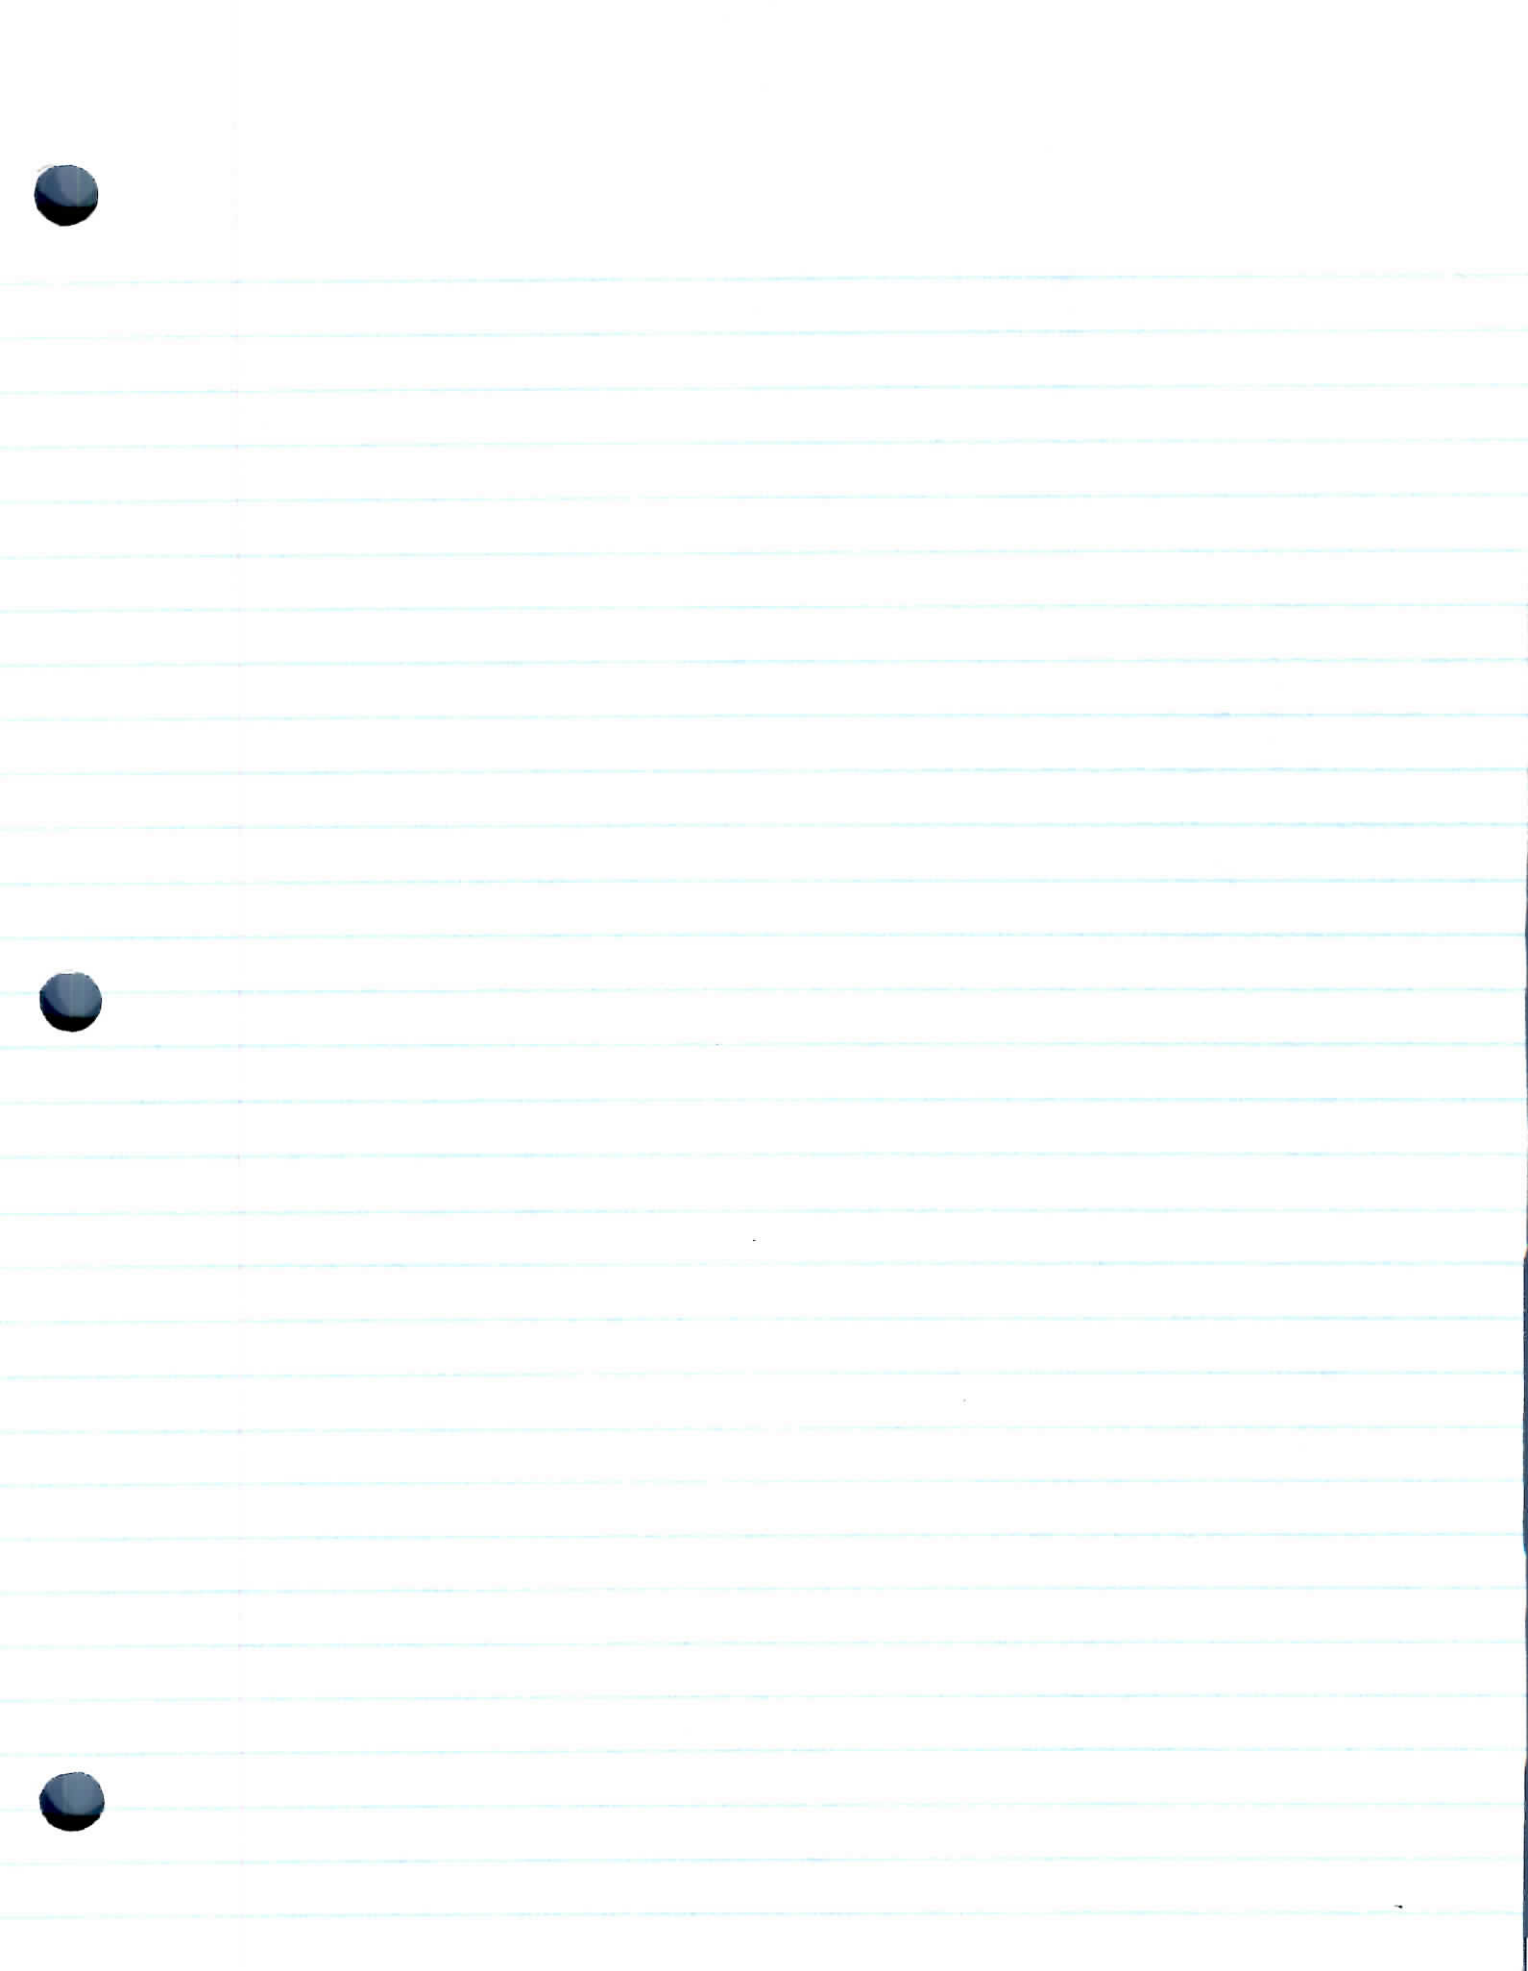

"Bull-shi-!" Erica replied, "When we don't wanna get caught, we get caught."

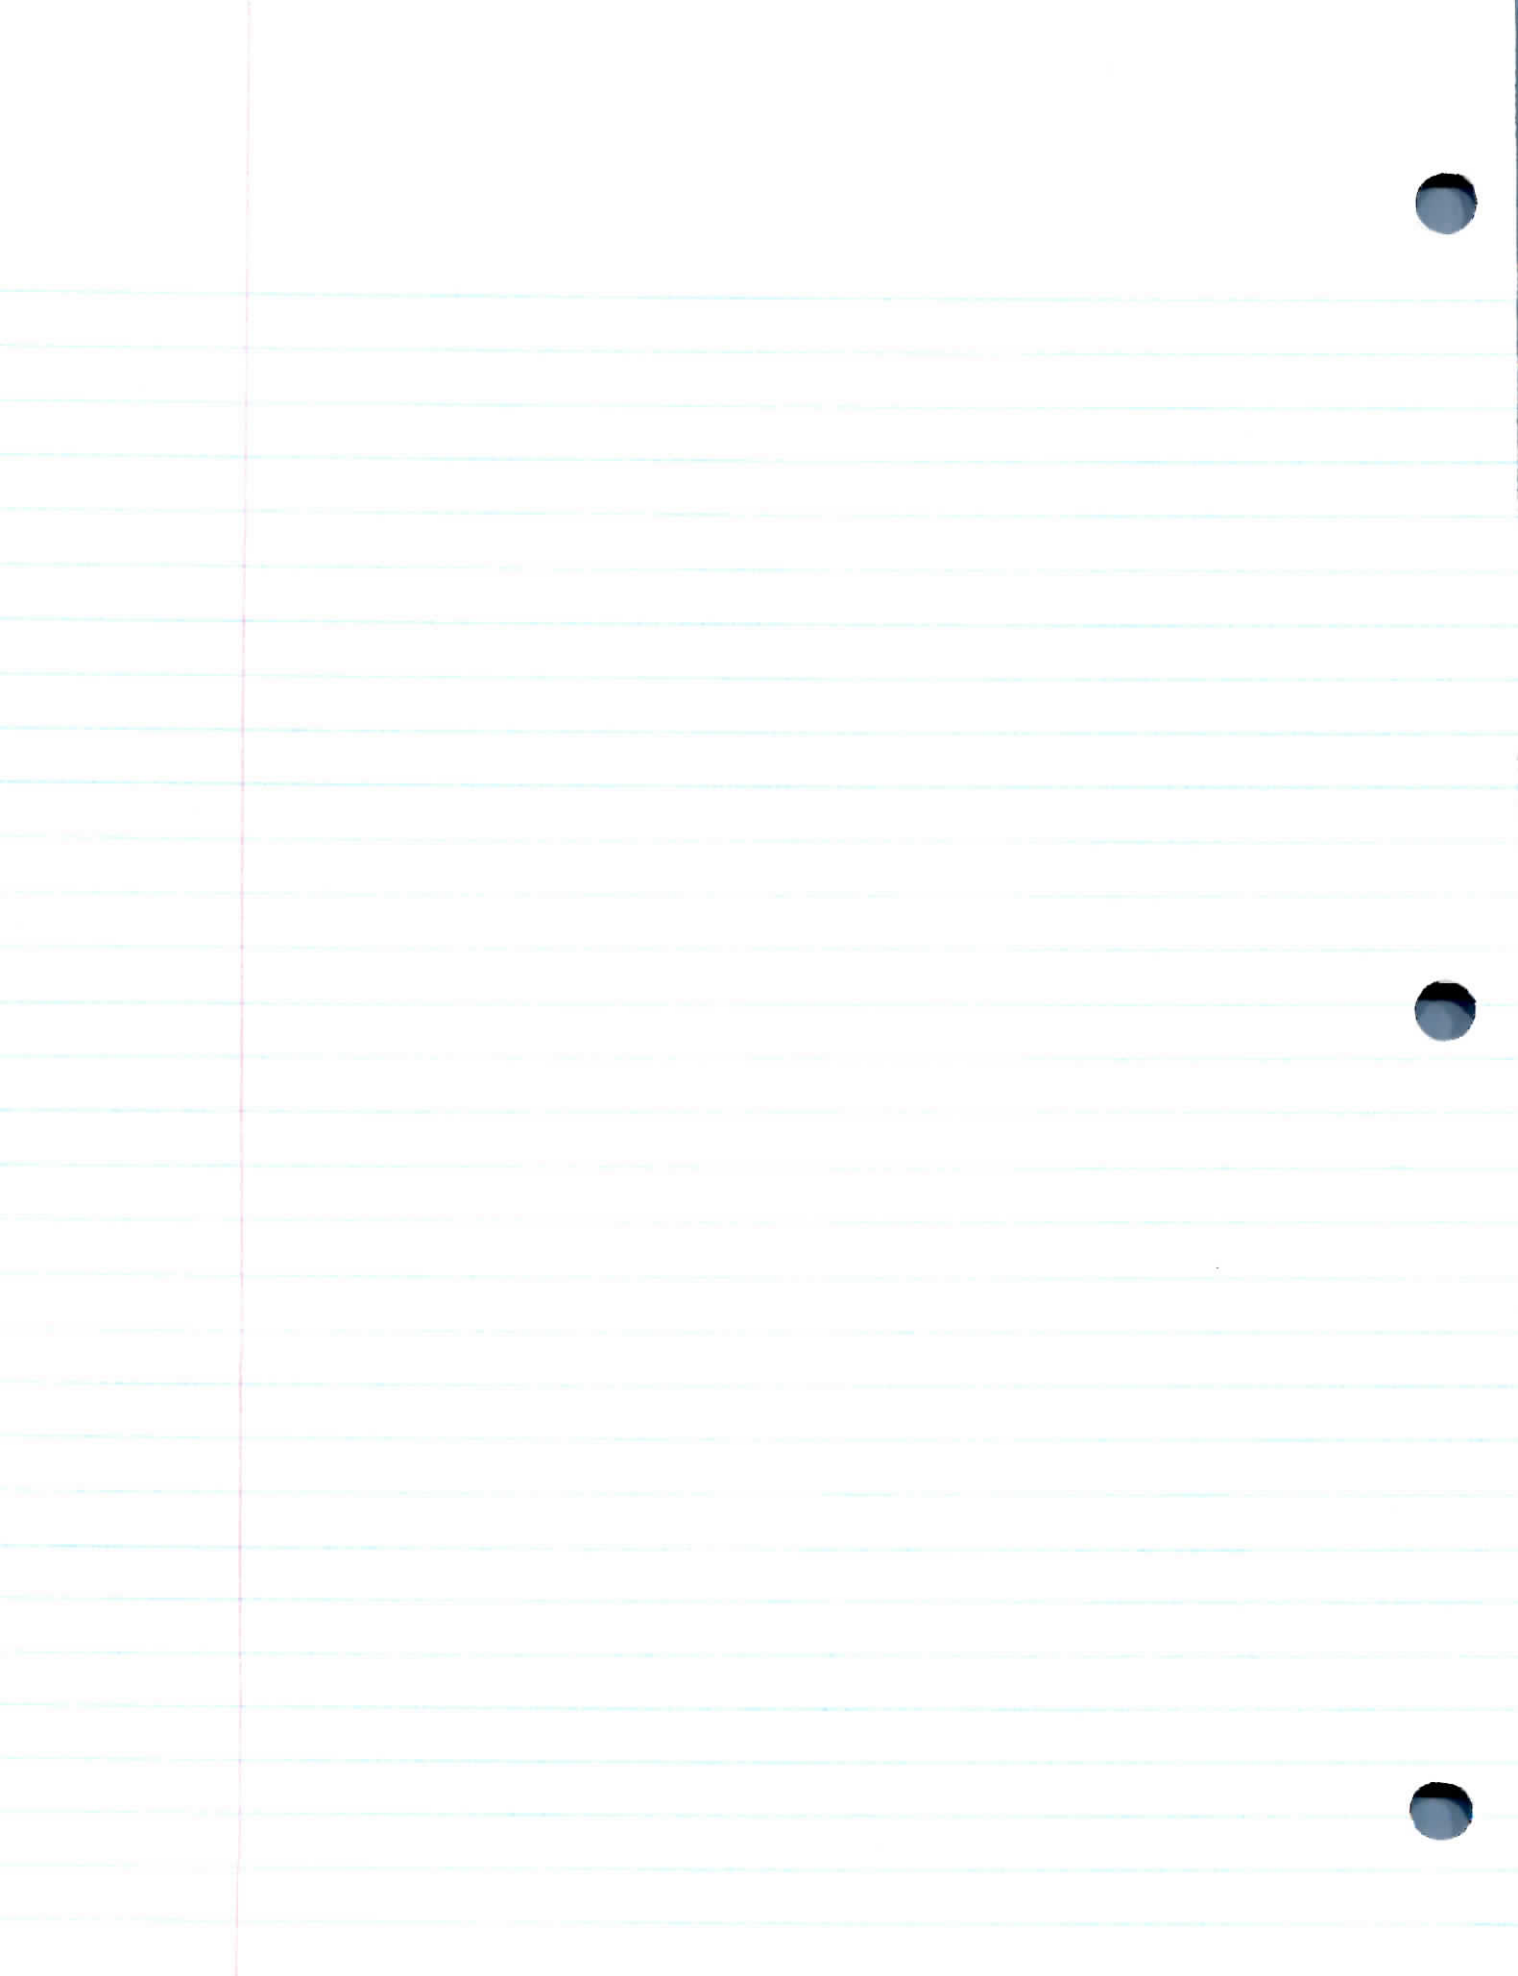

"Only one thing to do," Willy picked up a rock and threw it through a window.

"What the fu--?!" Osprey loaded his upi and ordered his men to get outside and surround the perpetrators.

"Oh shi-," Willy said in a funny way, "we've been caught."

"Da-m," Erica followed up in the same tone, "I thought we might actually escape. We really fu--ed up this time."

122: Blitzing Force

"What's your business here?"
Osprey asked.

"Don't you know?" Erica replied,
"Our planet's been taken over."
Willy and Erica explained the whole situation.

"Hmmm," Osprey thought for a moment, "I know you two wouldn't go through this much to tell me some bullshi-, but we already knew."

"What the fu -- are you talkin' about?" Willy asked.

"Get her!" Cinda pointed to Erica. The guards immediately grabbed her and her boyfriend.
'You can't get my body,' Erica hoped. Then she smiled, "Yeah that's right bit-."

"Wrong," Cinda forgot about Willy.

Willy aimed his laser watch and fired in turn disintegrating Cinda, "Take that mother f---er."

The plasma being engulfed Erica and Erica grinned, "Your girlfriend is mine now and so are you."

Osprey grabbed Willy and then more guards arrived to pin him down.

"Shirt off," Erica watched as they ripped Willy's shirt in taking it off, "Leave me now." Everyone left but Willy and Erica.

"What's goin' on?" Willy was scared as Fart and Erin, and Virginia and Mr. Sellers, came out.

"How?" Willy asked.

"I'll ask the questions," Erica pointed her first finger above Willy's forehead. A drop of plasma fell on Willy's forehead. His forehead absorbed 798 the plasma, "I control your mind now, Willy." She unzipped his pants and put his underwear down. She extended his penis and placed it into her vagina. Willy was completely without will power and felt total pleasure. He started to ejaculate. Erica smiled, "You're mine, forever."

A Retrodan put its hand on Erica and seemed to switch places with the leader.

The leader turned into a beautiful blond and brown ^{eyes} girl with pink colored nails and nice, big breast.

"What do you want of the rest of us, Nicki?" Sellers asked.

"I'll meet you back at the Space Force base," Nicki replied, "take Gert, Erin, and Virginia with you. We'll be expecting company from the S.S.C. Our friends have a date with the irresistible female."

"What about us?" Willy asked. 799

"You're coming with me," Nicki said, "you too Osprey."

Matt and Mimla took the Terror Truck to attempt to return to Gurtalia. They suddenly had truck trouble.

"What the fu-- is this?"
Matt got out and examined the engine.

A Retrodan using its clarity as camouflage to sneak up on Mimla as it seeped in and out of thin door cracks to enter the truck. It took over her body.

"Well, there doesn't seem to be any trouble out here," Matt closed the door to see Mimla with her pants down,
"Mimla? Ahh!- uhh." Matt had been converted to total obedience as did Willy.

"Do these belong to you?"
Aero and Beavy came into the stadium base with Bit- and M.J.

"What the fu--?" Maileva came out with Edmund in their 800 fresh change of clothes left at the stadium and Space Force bases in times of emergencies like these. They both wore white hi-tops, jeans, undershirts (a bra for Marileva), and their blue and yellow S.S.C. jackets as well as their laser watches.

"How?" Edmund replied in astonishment.

"That proves it," Marileva said, "m.j. and that cat are geniuses. Where'd you find 'em?"

"The kitty was scratchin' at the door of the Hungry Pelican," Beavy said as Acro handed m.j. to Marileva. Edmund got the cat its favourite food.

"Pook said he and his family'd be over soon," Acro announced.

"That's cool," Edmund nodded.

Willy, Erica, Osprey, and Nicki walked up to the Hungry Pelican.

"They made it," Pussy said happily.

"Uh-uh," Pook was skeptical, "too easy. Osprey would want to 801 Speak directly to me, not some messengers."

"So what do we do?" Billy asked.

"Send a message to Candlestick Park," Pook ordered to Jeremy.

Jeremy ran to the shelves underneath the front bar section, "Give me some slack Dave."

Dave pulled the antenna wire waiting for it to get tight as Jeremy walked back to put in a great position.

"What the fu-- is this?"

"You as-hole!" Jeremy yelled, "you pulled the fu--in' cord out of the socket."

"Fu--you, I didn't do it," Dave followed the cord to the drilled hole. He peered through it and saw a finger pointed at him. An electric beam fired hitting Dave. He flew a yard from where he was unconscious.

"Move in," Nicki blew over her finger as if blowing smoke from a gun.

"Dave!" Pook ran to him.
"Don't touch him Dad," P.J. said. Pook hesitated.

"What good are our shields?"
Pussy asked, "It can keep plasma out but nothin' else."

"Pull out the heavy guns!"
Nicki pointed at the bar.

"Not my bar, fu--ies!"
Jeremy ran out.

"Jeremy, no!" Billy tried to grab him, "You'll shut off the force field!"

"I built this place with my own fu--in' hands!"
Jeremy punched out some Corporation and Space Force guards. He immediately went down with a minor electric shock.

"Close the door!" Pook screamed.

"You're too late," Nicki's outline changed into her regular sexy figure. Willy and Erica grabbed Pook and Pussy. Osprey grabbed P.J. Various other guards grabbed the towns 803 people.

"I sense descendant of a Dorodan very near," Nicki put her hand on Billy's shoulder. He was completely frozen in place. She brought the palm of her other hand around and placed it on Billy's forehead. She removed it leaving a dab of pulsating plasma. Billy scrunched up his face and then relaxed it when his mind absorbed the plasma, "All of you, go to your business." Nicki unzipped her pink mini skirt as everyone left and unzipped Billy's jeans. They both took down their underwear. Billy inserted his penis into Nicki's vagina, "Ooh Billy, I'm thirsty for some of your lemonade." Billy ejaculated and became Nicki's boyfriend, "Less than ten people to go, and I will own this planet." Billy laid her down and kissed her as Nicki pulled off her high heels.

reacquainted with M.J. and Bitc - as Jerry and Karyn finished their important project.

"We're fu--in' geniuses!"
Jerry held up a small thin metal disc that was a little thinner than a marble.

"Let's see if that's true," Karyn loaded and cocked her laser rifle. She set it to positive energy.

Jerry placed the disk on the bottom of his digital watch and put his watch back on his wrist. Jerry raised himself, "Ready." Karyn fingered the trigger and unloaded. Jerry withstood it.

She ran and jumped behind some mirrors, "almost shot up my as-." The lasers ricocheted throughout the room.

They finally cleared. "We're one up on those fu--ers now," Jerry was very confident.

"What did you guys do?"
Acro came in.

"We used this frequency emulating, energy converter," Karyn replied, "we did the impossible. 805

This is not negative or positive.
It's neutral energy."

"It does everything each other could but we could send interstellar messages now," Jerry said.

"What about guns?"acro asked.

"We perfected the mega-lasers but it'll still hurt the host body like a regular laser," Karyn explained, "we've got the needle guns, mega-lasers, mega-rifles, and any other weapon that emits energy that we would regularly use."

"Do you think we're gonna get out of this?" Paula sounded frightened.

"I don't know Paula," Mike was honest, "just go with the flow."

"Why me?" Paula asked, "I just wanted a regular life."

"We all did," Mike announced, "but shi-aint like that." He held Paula as they gazed up at the stars which started coming 806 up.

"Mind if I join you?" Beary didn't wait for an answer because he just sat down.

"Sure, Paula said as she moved over.

"Oh I'm sorry," Beary stood up.

Mike grabbed him, "Don't leave. It must get lonely without Willy and, or Erica, huh?"

"Yeah," Beary replied, "Willy's my hero as well as my friend."

Beary sat down, "Want some?"

He offered some potato chips.

"How 'bout a game?" Paula offered.

"Of what?" Beary was confused.

"Why football of course," Mike smiled.

Gerry and Garyn passed out the discs and hooked a large system up to the stadium. The Speeds and Beary played a memorable game of football throughout the night. Acro practiced his ninja maneuvers and ways of thought. Bitc- and am. J. had turned in for they had had a very long day.

"Why do you suppose M.J. can pick out Retrodons?" Edmund asked Marileva.

"Genetic, I guess," Marileva said.

"Yeah, probably," Edmund agreed, "what are you gonna do when you face Commander?"

"Nothing," Marileva replied.

"Come again," Edmund requested.

"She's your mother-in-law," Marileva said, "and she has my respect. She gave up her bitc-daughter to save you. She cared about you and did it for me."

"You were responsible?" Edmund was confused.

"I guess I took advantage of her innate good nature when Haven was treating her like his dog," Marileva said.

"Your plan almost failed," Edmund announced, "Commander went back into bitc-mode and took advantage of your not being around. She told me about her and Haven. This shi-is do 888" fu--in' complex."

"Yeah," Marileva agreed, "if someone were to write a book about this, I'm sure the reader would be confused too. You know what though?"

"What?" Edmund was curious.

"We haven't eaten all while this ordeal has happened," Marileva theoretically has not eaten in more than a year, other than intravenously.

"See your as-es in position," Nicki ordered, "they're nearly within my grasp. I can feel them." The men of the group were all confused but the women were absorbing everything.

Nicki stood atop a pedestal; Women are viewed as objects of sex and basic slaves. Humans were placed on this planet to live in harmony and not in segregation. We (women) were not supposed to be put in roles of life. What bullshit! Women are to stay home and look pretty and have babies and play 809 house all the da-m day. Fu-- that! We've never had a female president in the U.S., or even vice-president. We've been puttin' up with this shifor hundreds of long tiresome years. There's one country (Japan), where men can bring their fellow business-men over whenever or how-fu--ing-ever late. The woman of the house is expected to stay up and cook and go to bed when the man goes.

Crazy shi-. There are "no" good men in this world or the millions of universes for that fact. They not only try to control our life, but our "bodies" to. Especially Catholic men. They say even though I'm raped and wouldn't be able to take care of my baby,
I cannot have an abortion.
Women don't even get a right to choose. The men set us women against each other in the 1990's. Those pw-iless bit-es were weak. Besides, what gives them the right to deem what goes on in my body. If they get faced with the fu--in' problem, let them do what they want. I don't see why us women have put up with this and other things for years. Men have manipulated and kept us down. YEs this shi-sounds like a speech for the presidency but I bring with me the Ketrodans and their power. Together we will bring "Man" bind to their fu--in' knees and treat us women like queens. Me as your leader, you as my followers. We will turn the men's plight of superiority around. There are more women on this planet than men. Majority rules and we've been the majority for the longest. We must bond sisters and as one, together, never again can or will we be stepping stones or unknown slaves. We have rights to and will have them by any means necessary. If you are ever saddened or hurt by a male give 'em the M treat-811

ment. After all men wouldn't be shi - without a woman. Us women have given birth to every single man out on this planet. No longer is it the age of man but the age of the Fem, of the mothers of civilization. Don't fu - - men literally, but fu - - men. There stands a few more enemies. Men who are against us, and their companion but - es who they've brainwashed and corrupted. Help me catch them and set them straight. You wonder, sisters, why we come out of the blue and just take over. That's what man did, for no reason. We have millions of reasons. And if no one did, who would?" There was a large standing ovation that lasted for a long time. Even the men cheered their new master.

"It's not right Pussy, Pool replied, "nor is it fair."

"I think it's a load of bullshi -," Jeremy said.

"I'm not like that," Dave expressed 812 his opinion, "I treat a bitch like a queen."

"See, all you men are alike!" Pussy said, "shovennistic pigs. That's who I'm surrounded by."

"That's not like Pussy," Pook was astonished.

"Fu--you Pook," Pussy got ready to place her hand on Pook's forehead.

"Shi-," Jeremy said, "she's one of 'em."

"Keep her away from Pook," Dave said as he grabbed her. Jeremy grabbed her also but Pussy shocked them off of her.

"What are you gonna do?"

Pussy was sarcastic, "You're such a fu--in' goodie goodie. You won't hurt me. Come to me."

Pook looked to the ceiling, "God forgive me." He balled his fist up and took a slug at Pussy hitting her in the side of the face. She fell to the floor unconscious.

Pook knelt down next to the others but remembered his sons warning, "Sorry Jeremy, sorry" 813

Dave, it's better this way.

"It's time for polarization and energizing," a female guard walked up.

"Time to put aside your disbelief of violence Pook," he said to him self. There was a hook above the door. He tied all of Jeremy's and Dave's clothes (except the undergarments) together until he got it over the hook and a good motion going, "I hope Billy's trick works out."

The guard opened the door, "What the fu - happened?" Pook used the clothes to lift her gun away. He kicked her straight in the stomach, took her laser, locked the door, stole the only key to it, and ran.

The female guard held her stomach and coughed as she got her communicator, "N-nick-ki, th-the Sheriff has escaped."

"Shi-!" Nicki yelled, "He can blow everything. He won't cooperate, collar him. Jim so close to victory. But how much can that little runt do? My women will have him captured in no time at all."

"Don't underestimate Pook," Billy put his arm around Nicki as she put the cell camera on, "if he can withstand his wife and even punch her out - even leave his friends, you know he's desperate."

"How was his son's polarization?" Nicki asked.

"Worked perfectly." Billy smiled, "he's ready for energizing."

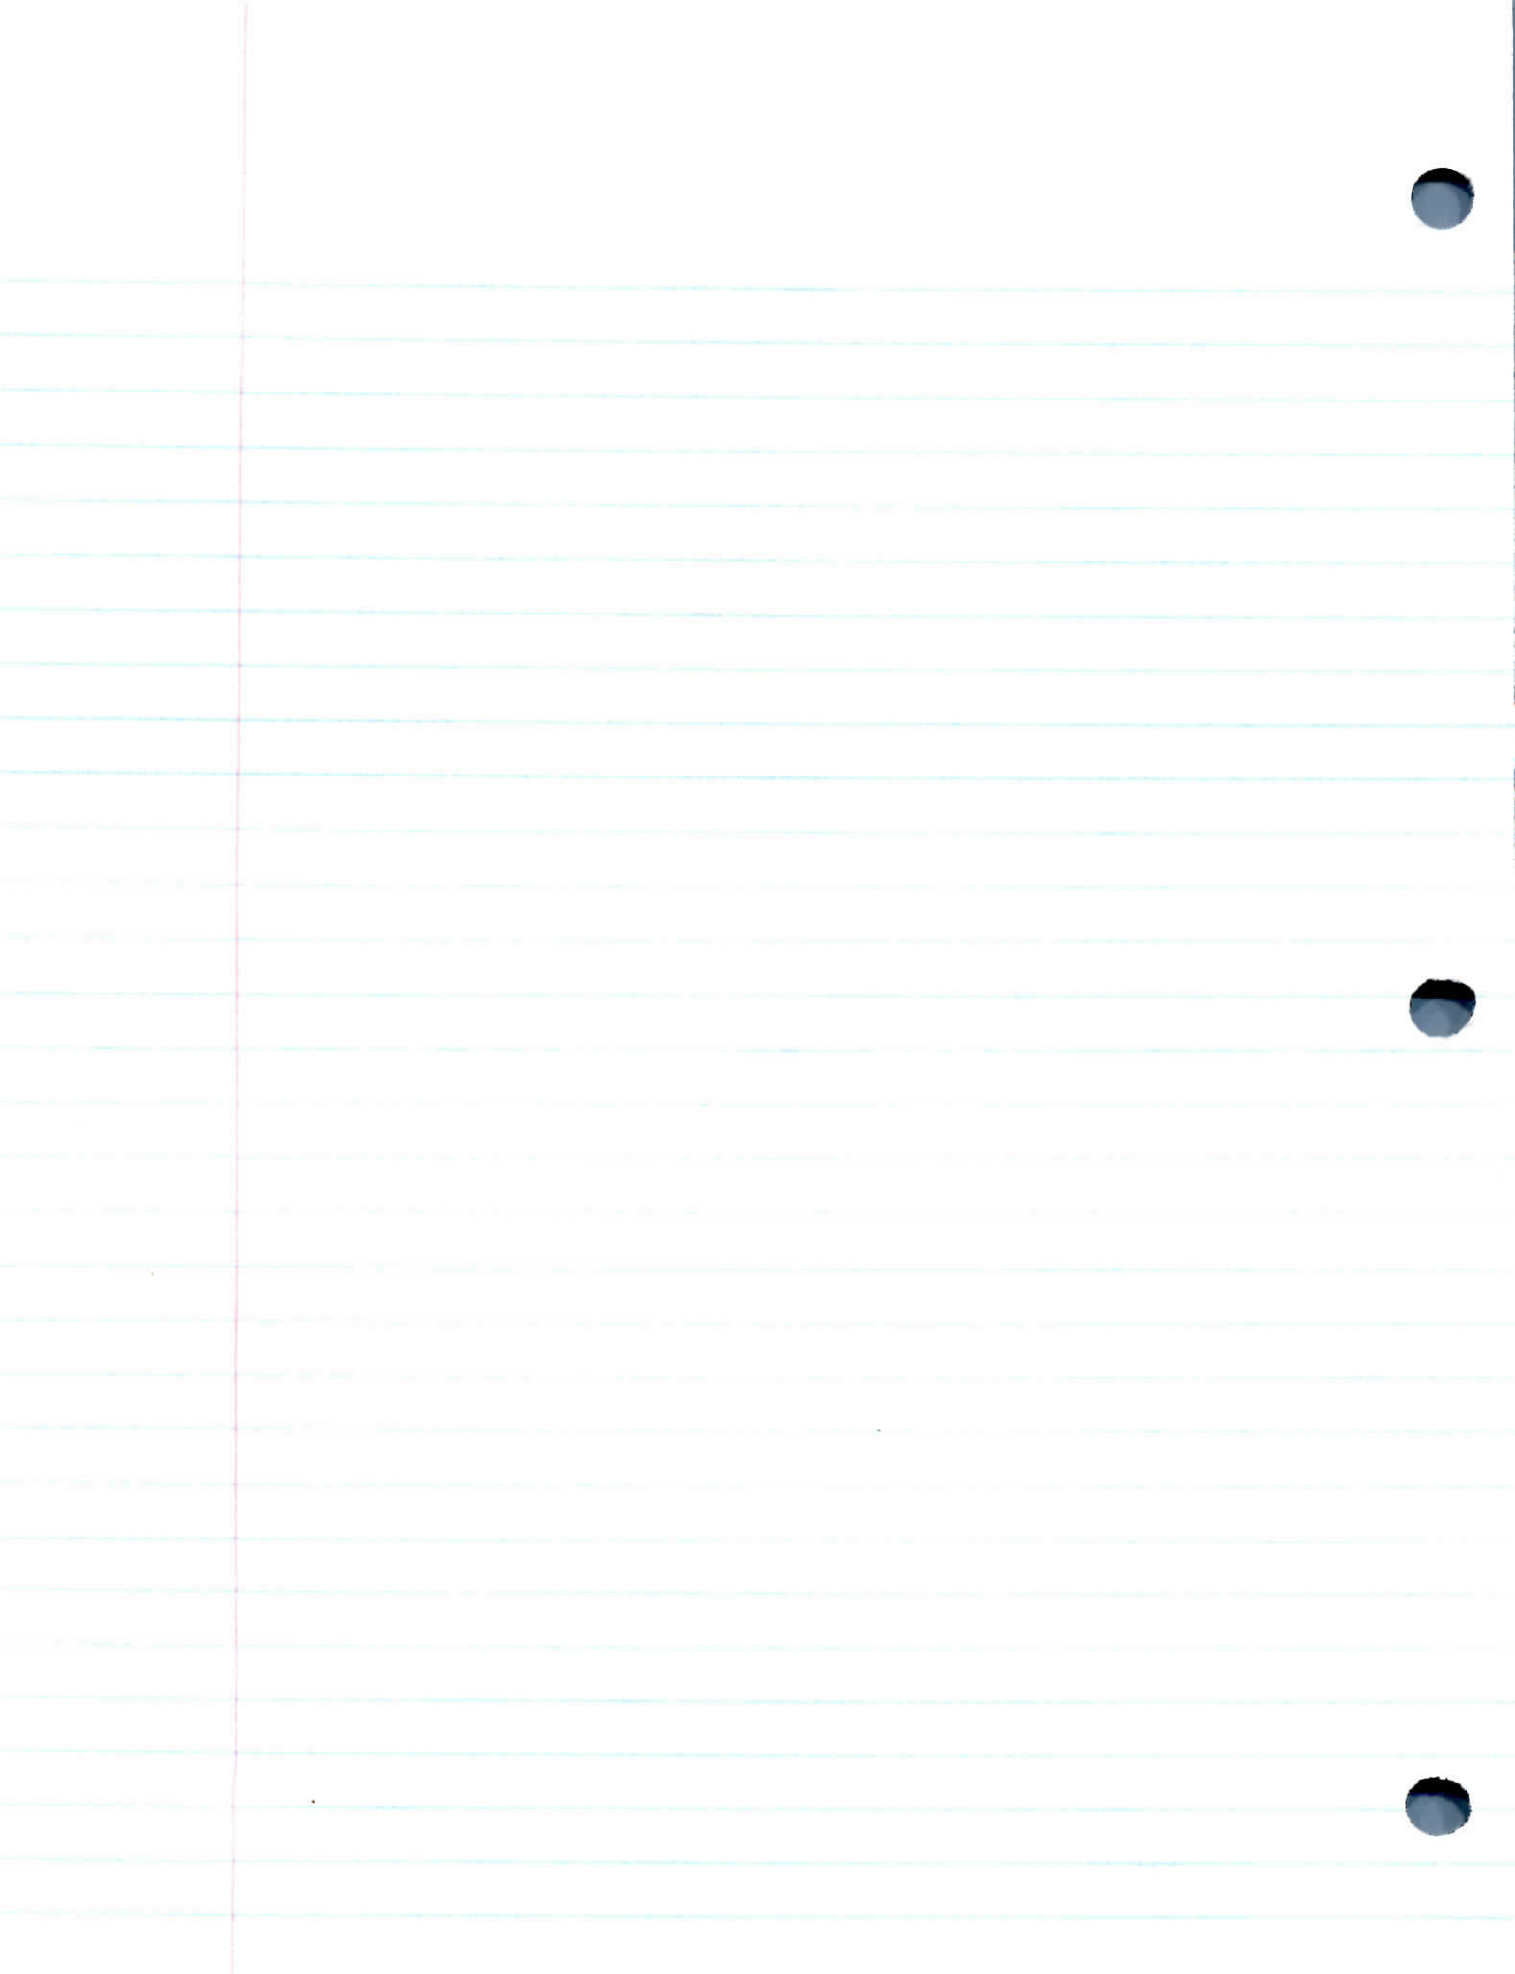

"Get all of them ready," Nicki ordered.

"Let's not take Colt in there yet," Arison suggested.

"I agree," Commander stepped in, "I want to get some answers on the Crystal Planet first."

"What's wrong?" Cestron asked, "You mentioned something you've sensed before."

"I felt it too," Sonya said.

"Could it be dangerous?" Gitson asked.

"I'm not sure," Commander wanted answers, "dar-m!"

"It's settled then," Captain Sellers announced, "this area is completely sealed off from all other Space Force starships and spacestations 'cept for the S.S.C 818 and its sub-vessels."

"Your message is sent," Charlene said.

"I just hope our people are okay," John prayed.

"Don't worry," Sped Strong patted John on the shoulder.

"Next to us of course," Gant smiled.

"What the fu-- is this shi-?!" K.A.G. asked, "My girlfriend, I've got to know if she's alright!"

"See ahold of yourself soldier!" K.D.G. slapped him hard.

"You're not leaving this vessel," C. Neff ordered.

"Well see about this," K.A.G. said to himself.

"Was the call Sellers?" D.J. asked, "We gonna stay away or go?"

"Stay away - for now," C. Sellers ordered, "but at the first sign of shi-been' stirred up, we're movin' in."

Edmund put in his old gold earring, his father, Ceatron gave him. Edmund hooked up the thin circular plate to the bottom of his watch as all the rest had. He combed out his mini-tale in the back of his head and combed the top to the front to make his fringe point out. His sides were already shaved. He put on his Drakkar cologne. His attire included a blue and white button down, pitch black jeans, virgin (which he definately wasn't) white gym shoes, and then he put the S.S.C. jacket on the bed.

He walked into the dining room as his girl walked in. She wore a red one piece (which was strapless but half on the ^{shoulders} mini skirt (which was looser than some of her others but showed off her figure beautifully) with dark panyhose, red high heels, and red rose earrings with hanging black tassels.

"Da-n," Edmund shook his head, "good evening Miss Dike." 800

"Good evening Mr. Sims," she came in the room and moved in on Edmund. He got her chair for her, "thank you."

"Sure," Edmund said. They never lost eye contact. Edmund poured the champagne, "it's a real good year."

"What year is that?" Marileva got her glass from Edmund.

"1992 was a great vintage year," Edmund answered. They held their glasses up, "Here's to the end of the Dorian War and the unification of our two planets, to us and our planet under siege."

"Here, here," Marileva said as they touched glasses. They drank a sip and then put it to each others mouths and sipped.

They leaned over the table for a kiss when Bitc - jumped on the table and got in the middle of them as they accidentally kissed the cat.

"Bitc - !" Edmund was astonished as he took his napkin to wipe his mouth, "Where's my gem."

Marileva wiped her mouth with her napkin, don't shoot me. I'll take care of it." She put her first two fingers of her right hand to the side of her head. Bix - jumped off the table and curled up and fell asleep.

"Should you do that?" Edmund smiled.

"The same way I do everything else," Marikva used her powers again on Edmund.

He felt a warming sensation around and in his genitals, "What'd you do?" The feeling went away.

"I switched back your sperm into Kirman and not Dorodan," Marikva took her hand down, "angelica fu--ed you up and theoretically made you have Zanya."

"How's that?" Edmund got about what Dorodan first wanted.

"She would've been breeding Dorodan after Dorodan and I don't intend have billions of bids."

"That's gotta hurt," Edmund agreed. They stood up and kissed as they held each other. 807

"I've succeeded," Marileva was picked up by Edmund and carried off to his bed.

"And how's that?" Edmund lowered her onto the bed.

"You've finally come back to me," Marileva explained, "the Edmund I want has finally come home."

She kicked off her heels.

"And which one is that?"

Edmund got on top of her.

"The one who can let go and let out his feelings," Marileva put her arms around him and forced him to the bottom position, "my friend as well as lover. I don't and haven't said this a lot for I had an untimely leave of absence. If you EVER lay an eye on a girl like Erica or Angelica again, or anyone else for that matter, I will kick your ass. I have the power and the brains to do it. I love you and would be honored to be your girlfriend, and you my boyfriend, and if we ever get out of this, husband and wife."

"You got it Marileva dice," Edmund kissed her again, "I love 873"

a take charge kind of woman who is strong willed and powerful and smart."

"I should hope you do," Marileva smiled, "did you sincerely miss me? I know it wasn't your fault with Commander and Angelica. They both seduced you at once. You couldn't have fought them both at once. I'll never let you feel that fu--ed and pressured again. I promise you. You've gone from family to family and your life has been less than shi-. You don't deserve that. You're way to good for any of that."

"I truly missed you and I won't let you go ever again Marileva. I promise you," Edmund kissed Marileva, "does that prove that I missed you?"

"Nope," Marileva said, "now get it right this time." They had sexual intercourse all night long. It was the best ever, even better than Erica and Angelica combined.

"I still can't believe Angelica made you do such degrading things," Marileva replied.

"They had a victory for a while," 824

Edmund said, "because she promised that she'd have me one way or the other."

"I will never use my Dorodan influence to reduce you to a child," Marileva pleaded, "someone has to fix up their fu--ups. She completely broke your will-power down. I have to build you up again."

"You're doin' a pretty good job, a great job as a master of fact," Edmund said as they resumed. They both knew that what Angelica and Commander did was sexually and morally wrong. They could have messed up nature and a non-Dorodan being that is not supposed to take that kind of fluid and sperm change. Edmund and Marileva both knew that they would make things right. The Earth was not ready for billions of Sims-Dorodans. That strategy was known as Commander's last resort to take over the planet.

"Good luck you all," Beavy 825 said that next morning as Edmund, Marileva, Mike and Paula and Acro left the base.

Marileva kissed M.J. and Edmund held the drunken-out cat.

"We'll take good care of things while you're gone," Jerry agreed as Edmund handed Jerry the cat.

Edmund kissed M.J. and Marileva let Karyn have her, "They'll - well we all'll be waiting for your return."

"Don't forget to get word to the S.D.C.," Acro reminded.

"Take care Beavy," Paula patted him on the back.

"Be good little man," Mike shook Beavy's hand.

"You got enough weapons and ammo?" Jerry asked.

"Sure do," Marileva replied.

"We'll hopefully be seein' you all later," Edmund was scared.

He gave Jerry a nod as Marileva hugged Karyn. After all, she owed Karyn and Jerry, her life. They actually separated Marileva's mind from Angelica's and 826 put it back in her original body.

"The neutral-energy attachment is attached to your fighters too," Garyn pointed.

Mike and Paula took off on foot for the space force base. Acro, Edmund and Marilwa took off in their fighters.

"It's very unusual Paula," Mike announced.

"What Mike?" Paula asked.

"Why haven't our guys called us back?" Mike replied, "or at least called home."

"That's what we're goin' to find out," Paula sped up.

"Aye wait!" Mike could hardly keep up with Paula.

"What is the secret to this maze?" Pook ran into a very lit up room. It looked like a giant battery holder. He walked down the huge hallway exhaustedly. The tubes were similar to the freezer tubes, the Dorodans used. Inside the tubes were P.J., Pussy, 827

Have Harley, Jeremy, and Erica and Willy, "What's goin' on here?"

"You're probably wondering what's goin' on here aren't you?" Nicki asked.

"The thought had crossed my mind," Pook was honest.

"You see that glow around your friends?" Nicki replied, "It means that they've been polarized. Their soul and energy can now be taken from their bodies. Directly across from them in these tubes are the plasma beings that will absorb the energization and become my new breed of humans called the Robots. You'll soon be energizing. You can't fight us for your friend is one of us." Nicki stepped back.

"What's up Pook?" Billy stepped out. He was ready to fight.

"I won't fight you Billy," Pook backed off.

"Tough shi-," Billy charged, "you're gonna get your fu-ur" as - stomped. "Nicki laughed.

"Forgive me Billy - wherever you are," Pook used Billy's speed against him by tripping him and cracking the gun to the back of his neck. Pooh took the gun strap off and held it as he shot open all of the tubes.

"Go!" Nicki screamed, "Get him before he ga--'s up everything."

Billy used an unsuspecting back sweep kick to trip Pooh. Pooh hit the back of his head on the hard metal floor. Pooh was very dizzy and lost his weapon. Billy took the gun and reloaded it. Pooh took the gun strap to slap the gun away from Billy.

"You're starting to pe-- me off!" Billy used various jumpkicks on Pooh.

"Over here," Nicki directed as she opened a tube. Billy used a powerful roundhouse-spin kick to knock Pooh into the tube while flying.

The tube started to close when Pooh thrust the strap into the door with his last bit of strength.

"He never gives up," Nicki was astonished as Billy ran over to get the door unstuck.

"Everybody out," Edmund said as he hopped out of the fighter. They all pushed buttons on their watches to activate the neutral shields on the fighters and themselves.

"We've got enemy infiltration," a woman ran in to tell Nicki, "what should we do?"

"Stop 'em you fu--in' idiot? What do you think?" Nicki was frustrated with trying to get the door closed.

Female soldiers surrounded the area and started to attack. Marileva used her power of the crimson circle. The females were easily released. Edmund blasted the door open and avoided the fem-guards' blasts. He blocked some with his laser watch made cover for Aero to penetrate and search for the captured Space Force.

"I can't get a clear Crimson circle out," Marileva fired at the fem-guards, "we've gotta take 'em out first."

"No doubt," Edmund flipped over their rubble, which was being used for cover and ran down the corridor drawing their fire.

Marileva followed up by knocking them out with the laser blasts. She then used the Crimson Circle to bill the Greysdan and free the human.

Edmund waited up for her, "Great work." They kissed and went their separate ways.

"Good luck and be careful Edmund," Marileva replied.

"Ah, the vent," Acro used his harpoon gun to shoot out the vent on the roof as well as crawl up through it.

"Don't let 'im get away!" The women beaded holes in the vent hitting him each time. If not for his force field, he would be dead by now.

"I never knew this place was such a fu--in' maze?" Edmund ran a backed up against a wall, "Shi-, left or right."

"Neither," women guards come up on both sides of the Y-forked road, "blast that mother fu--er!"

"Or shi-!!" Edmund hit the deck immediately having the female guards shoot themselves, "Well, it works in the movie. Now which way should I go?"

"No where to go but up," Marikva peered at a vent. A laser shot out and blasted her against the wall making a splat sound.

"We got the Drodan," female guards surrounded Marikva and aimed their weapons.

"Should we call it in?" one asked.

"Yeah, why not, she's not goin' anywhere," she reached for her communicator but it melted as she touched it.

"What the fu-- is goin' on?" all of the females' communicators melted.

"Oh well, well just take her to-," she looked but saw no Maileva.

"Now whered' that bix-go?" one female asked. She got tapped on the shoulder. She turned to see Maileva punch her lights out.

"I'm no one's bix-," Maileva back kicked another female with her white tennis shoes.

"Get her!" the leader ordered as they opened fire on Maileva. She put out her hand forming a force field. The lasers ricocheted off the field, but this time the women turned into Retrodons and absorbed the energy. They put their hands out and concentrated all of their energies against the field.

"Shi-!" Maileva said as she crystalized deflecting the beams.

"Take her body!" the leader pointed for a Retrodon to possess Marileva.

"Touch me and die," Marileva turned back into herself. Her hands glowed a dark red color.

"Retreat," the Retrodians did not seem scared but had fear in their molded eyes.

"Zu-- that," Marileva used her powers of the Crimson circle to eliminate the Retrodians. The regular female host fell out of the disintegrating outlines. Marileva turned her gaseous form and went up through the vent holes. She rematerialized and crawled through.

"We finally got him," Billy exhaled as he helped Nicki get the other unconscious bodies into the tubes, "now what?"

"Release the Retrodians?" Nicki ordered.

"Why?" Billy asked.

"I want to try it on myself," Nicki replied, "I sense an alien presence near and their combined energy will be quicker than one to one action." She got in a tube and closed it.

"True, very true," Acro jumped through a vent; but basee makes waste."

"Fu-- off, woman hater," Billy come closer to his master in fighting style.

"I don't want to fight you," Acro put down his guard.

"Fu-- the television corn," Billy rolled his eyes, "and let's get it on. But take off your watch first. You owe me. Ninja law states that to become a master of the art, you must take on and beat your master."

"But your not ready," Acro looked into Billy's eyes, "your mind is not clear and sunny, but clouded and fogged up with silly and false ideas. I know it's not you that is challenging me but that Ketrodan."

"Fu-- you and fight me!" Billy gave an ultimatum, "or die in ignorance."

"You're the ignorant one my friend," Acro removed his watch and tossed it in the distance.

"Da--it!" Edmund pounded his arm on the wall, "I should've gone the other way. How the fu-- does the Corporation get around in here?"

"That's for them to know," female guards came up, "and for you to die pondering over."

"Don't I get last words?" Edmund needed to stall so he could think of a way out of his situation.

"Su-- no," the leader of this bunch of ladies replied, "only your guardian angel can save you now."

"What's that perfume?" Edmund replied as he saw the other ladies sniffing and confused. He took his laser and simply shot them in their legs. He didn't want to kill the innocent hosts. Crimson circles formed over their hearts as the Retrodams turned red and disintegrated. The hosts fell to the ground unconscious.

Marileva materialized, "Is this a good enough guardian angel for you?"

"Su--yeah," Edmund said as he hugged Marileva, "Now how do I get up there?"

"No sweat," Marileva held his hands as they both dematerialized into gasses. They went through the vent holes and rematerialized.

"Shi-, that was wild," Edmund crawled on in search of Acro with his girlfriend.

They almost fell through a vent, the one Acro went through. They viewed Acro and Billy, fighting.

"You have too much anger," Acro said while dodging the fury of Billy's feet.

"Cut the mother fu--in' corn--you bastard," Billy was accurate.

Acro built up anger for the first time in his life. He never knew his mother because she claw-billed her. He took all of his Chinese stars and cracked 837 all of the tubes so they would not function.

Nicki felt distortion, "you asshole! I don't have their souls or all of their energy yet."

Acro did a handstand and wrapped his legs around Billy's neck. He used pressure and forced Billy down on his back.

"Awe, what the fu--?" Billy was scared and weak from the lesson Acro was teaching him.

Acro almost cracked Billy's neck when a beam of pure energy blasted Acro off of Billy. They were both unconscious.

Marileva used her crimson circle on Billy, freeing him of Retrodan control.

"ah, the Dorodan is here," Nicki blasted a beam through the vent missing Edmund and Marileva.

They both jumped down to the floor.

"I want my mother back, E.J., Deer and Snow now," Marileva said firmly.

"Fu-- you," Nicki smiled, "you 838 can't even use your powers against me. What'll happen to your friends and family. I'll never free their souls nor will I give up. We've already won."

"How bitc - ?" Edmund asked.

"Your daughter will take out Jerry and Karyn and my people at the Space Force base'll take out Mike and Paula and then your S.S.C. buddies."

"You know us well," Marileva knew not what to do.

"Just calmly enter the tubes and give up," Nicki knew that they would not comply.

"Fu-- you three times," Edmund said.

"I suspected as well," Nicki turned into Angelica.

"What's goin' on?" Marileva asked.

"I bet I could answer that," Haven stepped out.

"How can we bill you?" Edmund was astonished.

"The Space Force failed and that fool, Claw, failed," Haven explained, "I'd been doing plasma 839 experiments for years. I finally perfected my plasmatic people. I knew Claw was not to be trusted for he killed one of my own Dorodans. I put another of my clones in their for him. I knew he would lead my empire that I BUILT down the fu--in' toilet like a piece of shi-."

"If you knew all this, why didn't you handle it?" Marileva asked sarcastically.

Haven raised his hands and fired energy beams at Edmund and Marileva, knocking them across the room, "I did do something about it wit-! I had a Retrodan take over my daughter, Angelica, before I shot her out in space. She came back to you. Commander tried to use you as you well know, but Angelica was a triple agent of sorts. I've once again played on your feeble-as-ed emotions."

Edmund was angry as he tried to get off floor but he and Marileva were literally 840 magnarized to it.

124: Up the Creek, Without a Boat

"It's all over," Raven grinned, "I finally have this planet, and All of my worst threats."

"It's never over Raven," Marileva struggled.

"Oh yes it is," Angelica walked over to Edmund, "your daughter, well our daughter, Zonya, will take care of your pals aboard the S.S.C."

"I forgive you Angel but it's over between us," Edmund struggled against the floor.

"It's never over," Angelica smiled, "not even the power of love can keep you from me now. I used my Doodan influence to make you ingest my fluids. Remember your breast and pu--y feeding?"

"I try to forget," Edmund rolled his eyes, "how come Marileva knew none of this?"

"Her mind was fused with mine but not in total control," Angelica smiled as she preened next to Edmund, "come to mommy. I control you now, ... and forever." She allowed Edmund to stand up as they hugged. She unzipped the charmed Edmund's pants and pulled down his underwear, "Now for a taste of real pleasure." She did the same on her clothes.

Marileva closed her eyes, "Noooooo!!!"

Billy peered at Acro and they both knew the plan.

"I'm gonna kick your as-!" Billy and Acro flipped up. Acro jumpkicked at Billy. Billy caught him and through him across the room using Acro's speed as an advantage.

"What the fu-- is goin' on?" Angelica and Edmund's penis were less than a centimeter away. In mid-air, Acro threw 843 his last Chinese star inbetween Angelica and Edmund. Marileva used her powers to make it explode blowing Angelica into heaven and Edmund to the side of Marileva.

"Snap the fu-- out," Billy slapped Edmund.

"That's not the way," Acro grabbed Billy's arm, "I must clear his mind." He balled up his fist and punched Edmund with all his might.

"Awe shi-!!" Edmund said in dire pain, "You almost broke my fu--in' jaw."

"Get off me!" Heaven pushed Angelica off.

"How do I get off?" Marileva quit struggling.

"We've gotta break the connection," Edmund explained. Acro put his watch on and the force field.

"Push up and we'll fire in," Billy replied.

"You're not goin' anywhere," Heaven held out his hand and did a crimson circle on his S.D.C. jacket so he wouldn't get the circle on it but on his undershirt.

Edmund. Edmund luckily removed 844

"No Father!" Angelica knew Edmund would be freed of her control.

"Too late," Edmund said as the plasma being died.

Billy and Aero freed the people in the tubes and Marileva.

"I'm sorry you bit-!" Haven went to hit his petrified daughter.

Marileva used the crimson circle on Angelica freeing her but killing off Deen, Scott, Ms. Dike, and E.J. She fell into Edmund's arms, "Our president and vice-president, my mother, our son."

"You had to," Edmund kissed her on the forehead.

"I must flee, but I'll be back for you all!" Haven had lost a humongous battle. ⁹⁹⁰

Dematerialized, "I just may be a clone."

Marileva helped Edmund over to Angelica.

"Hello Edmund," Angelica said weakly, "how you been lately?"

"Fine," he and Marileva helped 8415 her up.

Marileva and Angelica looked at each other and shook hands.

"I'm so sorry for you both," Angelica was honest.

The others started to come around "Shi-" Marileva replied.

"What's wrong, Acro went over to the Space Force.

"M.J.," Edmund read her mind for a change.

"We can handle things here," Billy said.

"Take care," Angelica knew she had lost her man. She truly loved him.

"Where's my son?!" Pussy was whaling and bawling.

Pook put his arms around her, "Don't cry. Well - w - will avenge him."

"No shi- Pussy," Billy walked over with his arm around Angelica.

"We all have a score to settle," Angelica replied.

"Remember, this is Haven we're talking about," Acro punched in his palm.

"Aes fu--ed us around for the last time," Dave Harley walked in 846 with Jeremy and Sam Osprey.

"Bullshi-!" Angelica used her crimson circle on all three as fell to the floor unconscious leaving the disintegrating Retro Dams.

Pook took charge, "Acro, you're in charge 'til I get back. Keep Osprey in jail and things under control. Billy, Jeremy, Dave, and Pussy stay here."

"No Pook, I refuse," Pussy was upset.

"We all have our part to do," Pook explained, "I can't risk losing you too. You have to keep things going around here. Acro can't do it alone."

Pussy first looked at Acro and then Pook, "Alright."

M.J. reached under her pillow and held on up in two hands. She used all of her might to cock it.

"Did you hear something?" Beavy asked Karyn and Jerry.

"Can't say that I did," Jerry replied.

"Oh well," Karyn said as she dealt out the cards.

"You may be geniuses but anyone can win in cards," Beavy smiled.

"We'll soon see," Jerry grinned.

"Take this mother fu--ers!" M.J. aimed the uzi at the poker players. She fired hitting Beavy only in the arm. The kickback was enormous for a baby.

Karyn grabbed Beavy, "She's one of 'em!"

"Get Beavy some first aid," Jerry ordered.

"What're you gonna do?" Karyn asked.

"How the fu-- do I know," Jerry replied, "my 22's the same as yours. How do you handle psycho babies anyway?"

"Su--!" M.J. got her fingers stuck in the trigger. The kickback was way too much. M.J. tripped over the rail of the crib. She accidentally turned the uzi the wrong way.

Karyn covered Beavy's eyes. Jerry was astonished.

Edmund and Marileva ran in. Edmund walked out. Marileva fell to her knees, "No, not M.J." She knew what she had to do as she watched the smoking, blood filled oatmeal mush of what used to be M.J., "Da-n you Kaven. Da-n you!"

"Go feed the cat Deamy," Karyn ordered, "you don't need to look at that. I'll fix your arm in a sec. Keep pressure on this towel until I tell you take it off."

Suddenly the Retrodan using M.J. as a host came out of the remains. It concentrated it electric fire on Marileva, it's only threat. She flew a few feet before crashing to the floor knocking her out.

"Come on as-hole," Gerry tried to lure the Retrodan

"Fu--you, - as-hole," the Retrodan blaste beams into Gerry. He immediately fell to the floor unconscious. It walked back over to Marileva. It concentrated electricity into her when it put its hands 849 on her chest.

"Edmund!" Karyn ran up to the only one with a chance of saving them, "Marileva and Jerry - a Retrodan." She was out of breath.

Edmund sprinted back to the room, "Hey you!"

The Retrodan took his hands off of the now cringing Marileva. She's taken a few thousand volts of unfiltered pure electricity. It fired electric beams at Edmund which were easily deflected by the laser watch. The Retrodan picked Marileva up and threw her through its body and then into Edmund's arms, "Here's your wife."

Edmund forgot about the volts inside of his girlfriend. They had been magnified since Marileva entered into the pure energy. Edmund fell to his knees in writhing pain as half of the thousands of volts entered his body. He was too weak to let go, so the energy transfer was easily accomplished. Edmund then fell to his side, unconscious.

"Heaven will be pleased," the Retrodan put one hand on each of their chests. It split down the middle and half of the plasma went into Edmund and the other half into Marileva. This was the ultimate electrocution. Edmund Sims and Marileva Dike were seconds away from death.

"Who are you?" Karyn asked as she put her hand on a person with a high-top fade.

"A friend," the person replied.

"Then how can I help you?" Karyn asked.

"Where's Edmund?" the person immediately followed Karyn

The person hooked an apparatus to Edmund and Marileva's hands while wearing rubber gloves. He activated it. A humming sound occurred, "They have enough energy in them to start two cars. I hope this battery can hold it.

Karyn went over to Jerry, "You 851 alright?"

"A little dizzy though," Jerry was more than dizzy because he had a migraine.

The person removed the apparatus. "Well how 'bout you dood?"

"Tom?" Edmund immediately sat up, "How can I be sure it's you? Gimme two synonyms for girl and the handshake."

"Birc-, ho," Tom gave the handshake correctly.

Marileva sat up and Tom helped her to her feet.

"That's 2," Edmund said.

"So what's goin' on Mister put yourself through college?" Tom asked.

"Nothin' much Mister had a dad to put you through college," Edmund said.

"Well well, who is this," Tom helped Marileva to her feet.

"My name is Marileva Dice," she announced herself.

"So you're not married, I suppose?" Tom moved in.

Edmund stepped in the middle, "She's engaged."

"Shi-, you?" Tom was astonished. 852

"Aye Tom," Jerry finally walked over weakly.

"What's up Jerry?" Tom greeted.

"Why weren't you affected by the Retrodons?" Karyn asked.

"My brother could and would never be seduced by a woman like you or me, Jerry," Edmund said, "he's too strong."

"Besides," Tom explained, "I was sick in bed with the flu. When I got out, she looked weird, so I came to the place where I knew stuff would be kinda okay. So update me on what's goin' on."

"Hold on," Marileva paused, "where's the Retrodon?"

"Retrodon?" Tom was lost, "that extra energy she is in this battery."

"Follow me Tom," Edmund suggested.

"Why?" Tom was confused.

Marileva used her Crimson Circle which blew up the Retrodon and the battery. She walked back in and walked next to her boyfriend together. They were saddened over the loss 853 their children.

"Oh shi-!" Karyn ran to Beavy.

"Took was popped by," Beavy pointed to Pooh and Angelica.

"Are you single?" Tom walked over to Angelica.

Angelica looked toward Edmund. She then looked at her left hand. Finally, she looked at Marileva, "Yes, but -" She grabbed Edmund and laid the biggest kiss ever on him. When she was through, Edmund fell into Marileva's arms, too weak to move, "Now you'll see what you'll be missing. Consider it a divorce."

"What the fu- is goin' on" Tom replied, "Star Wars or Star Trek?"

"Angelica," Marileva called, "you're so much like your mother."

"And how's that?" Angelica asked.

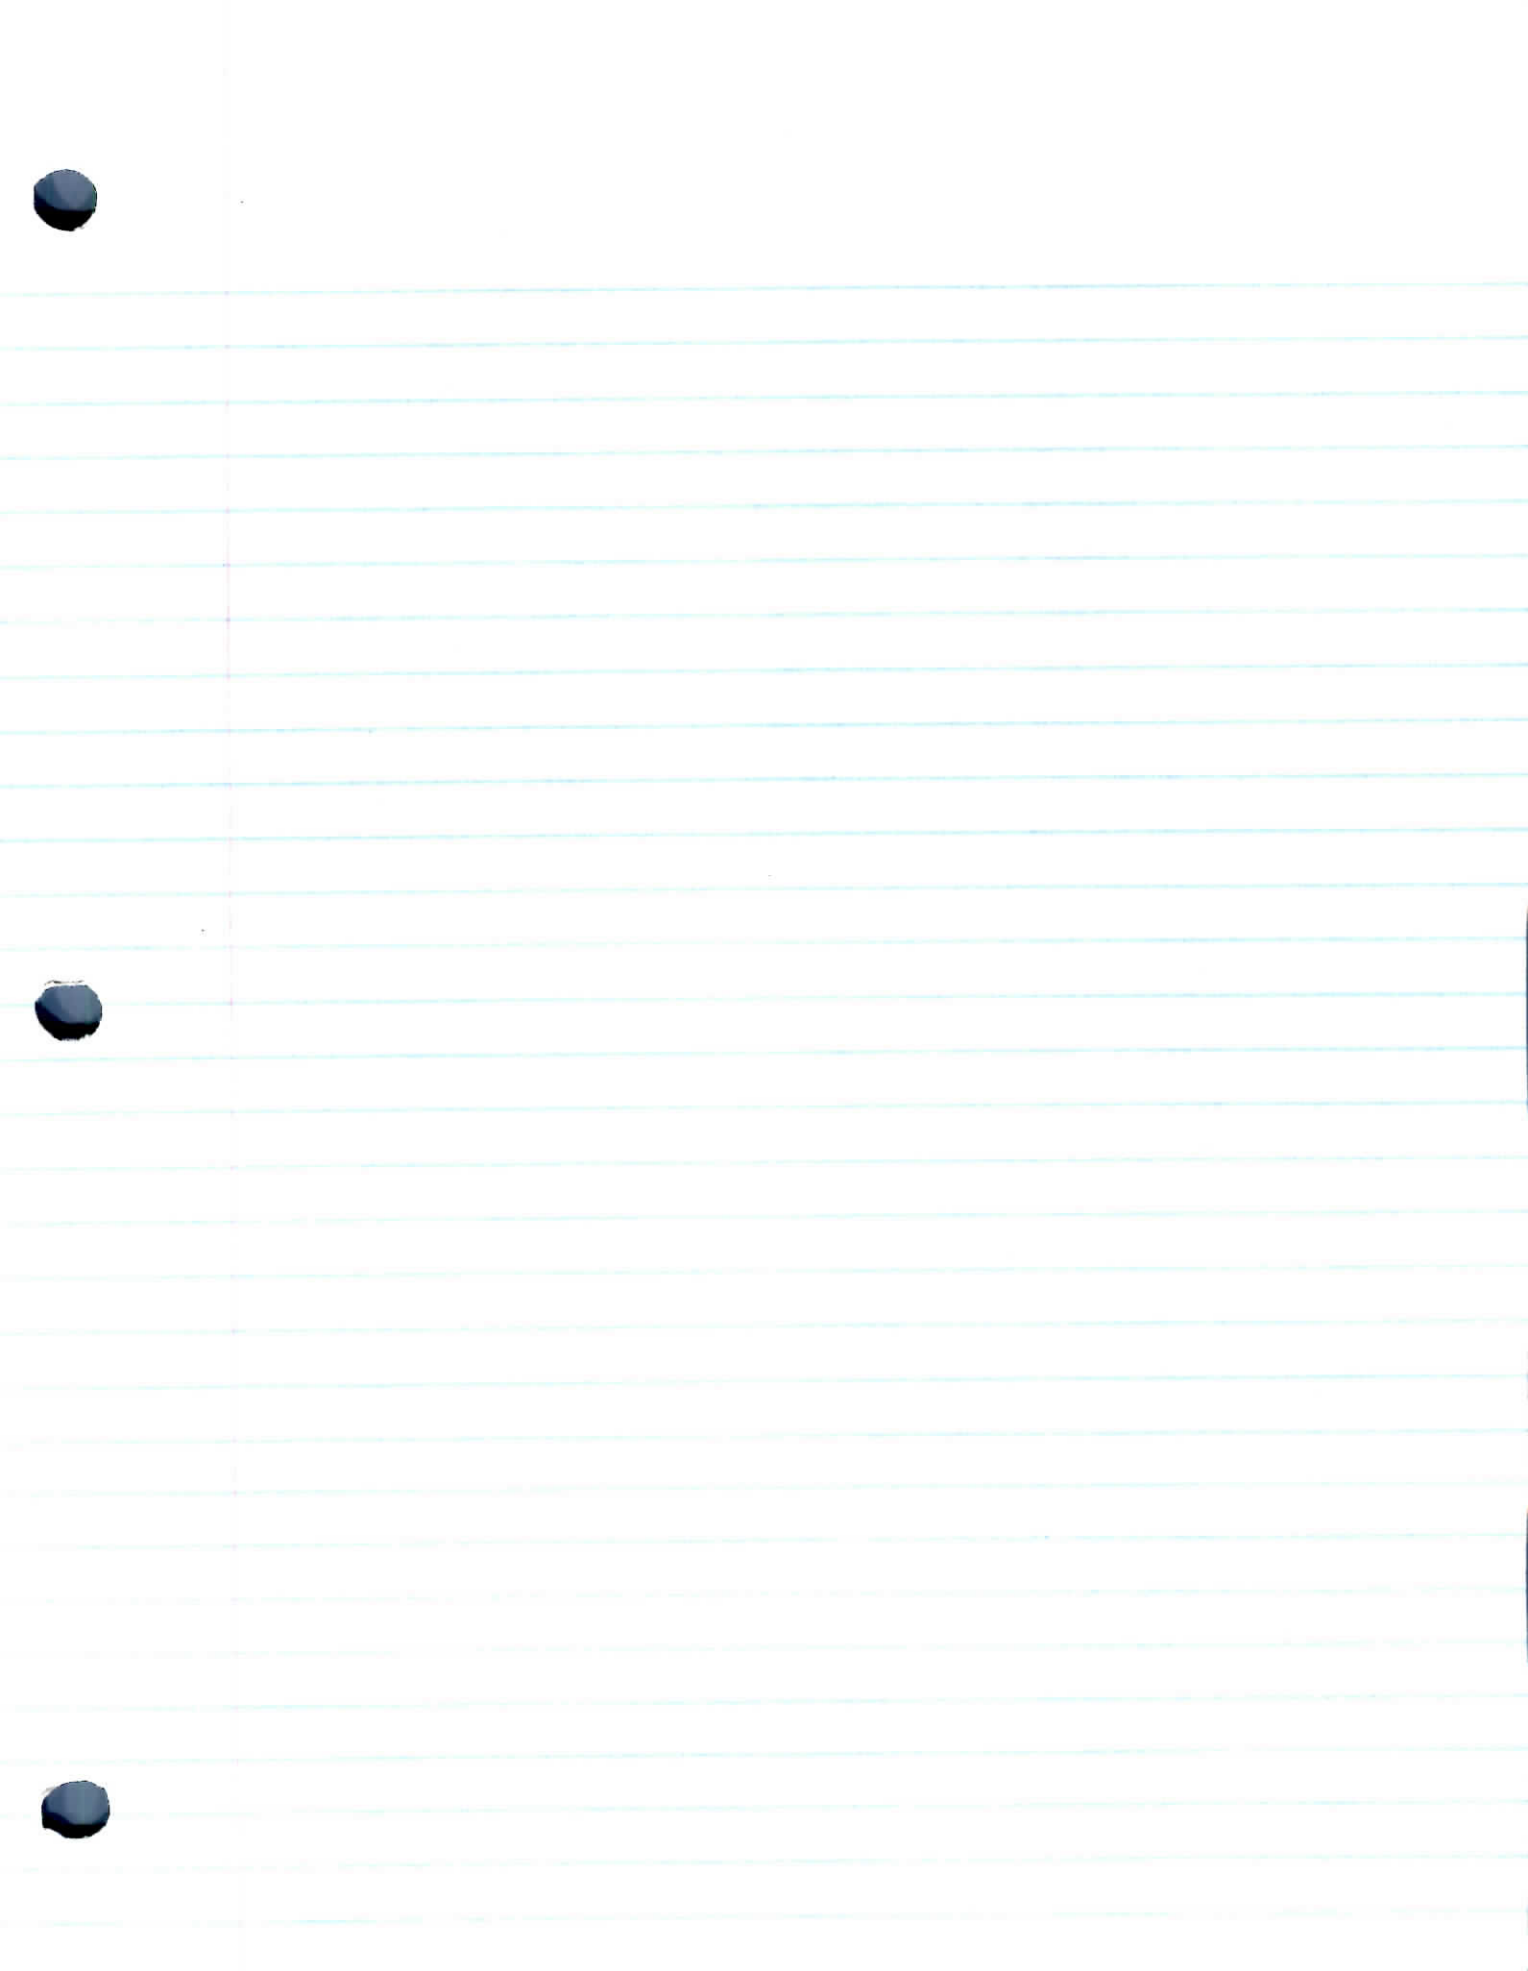

"You got her dominant bitc-gene," Marileva held Edmund up.

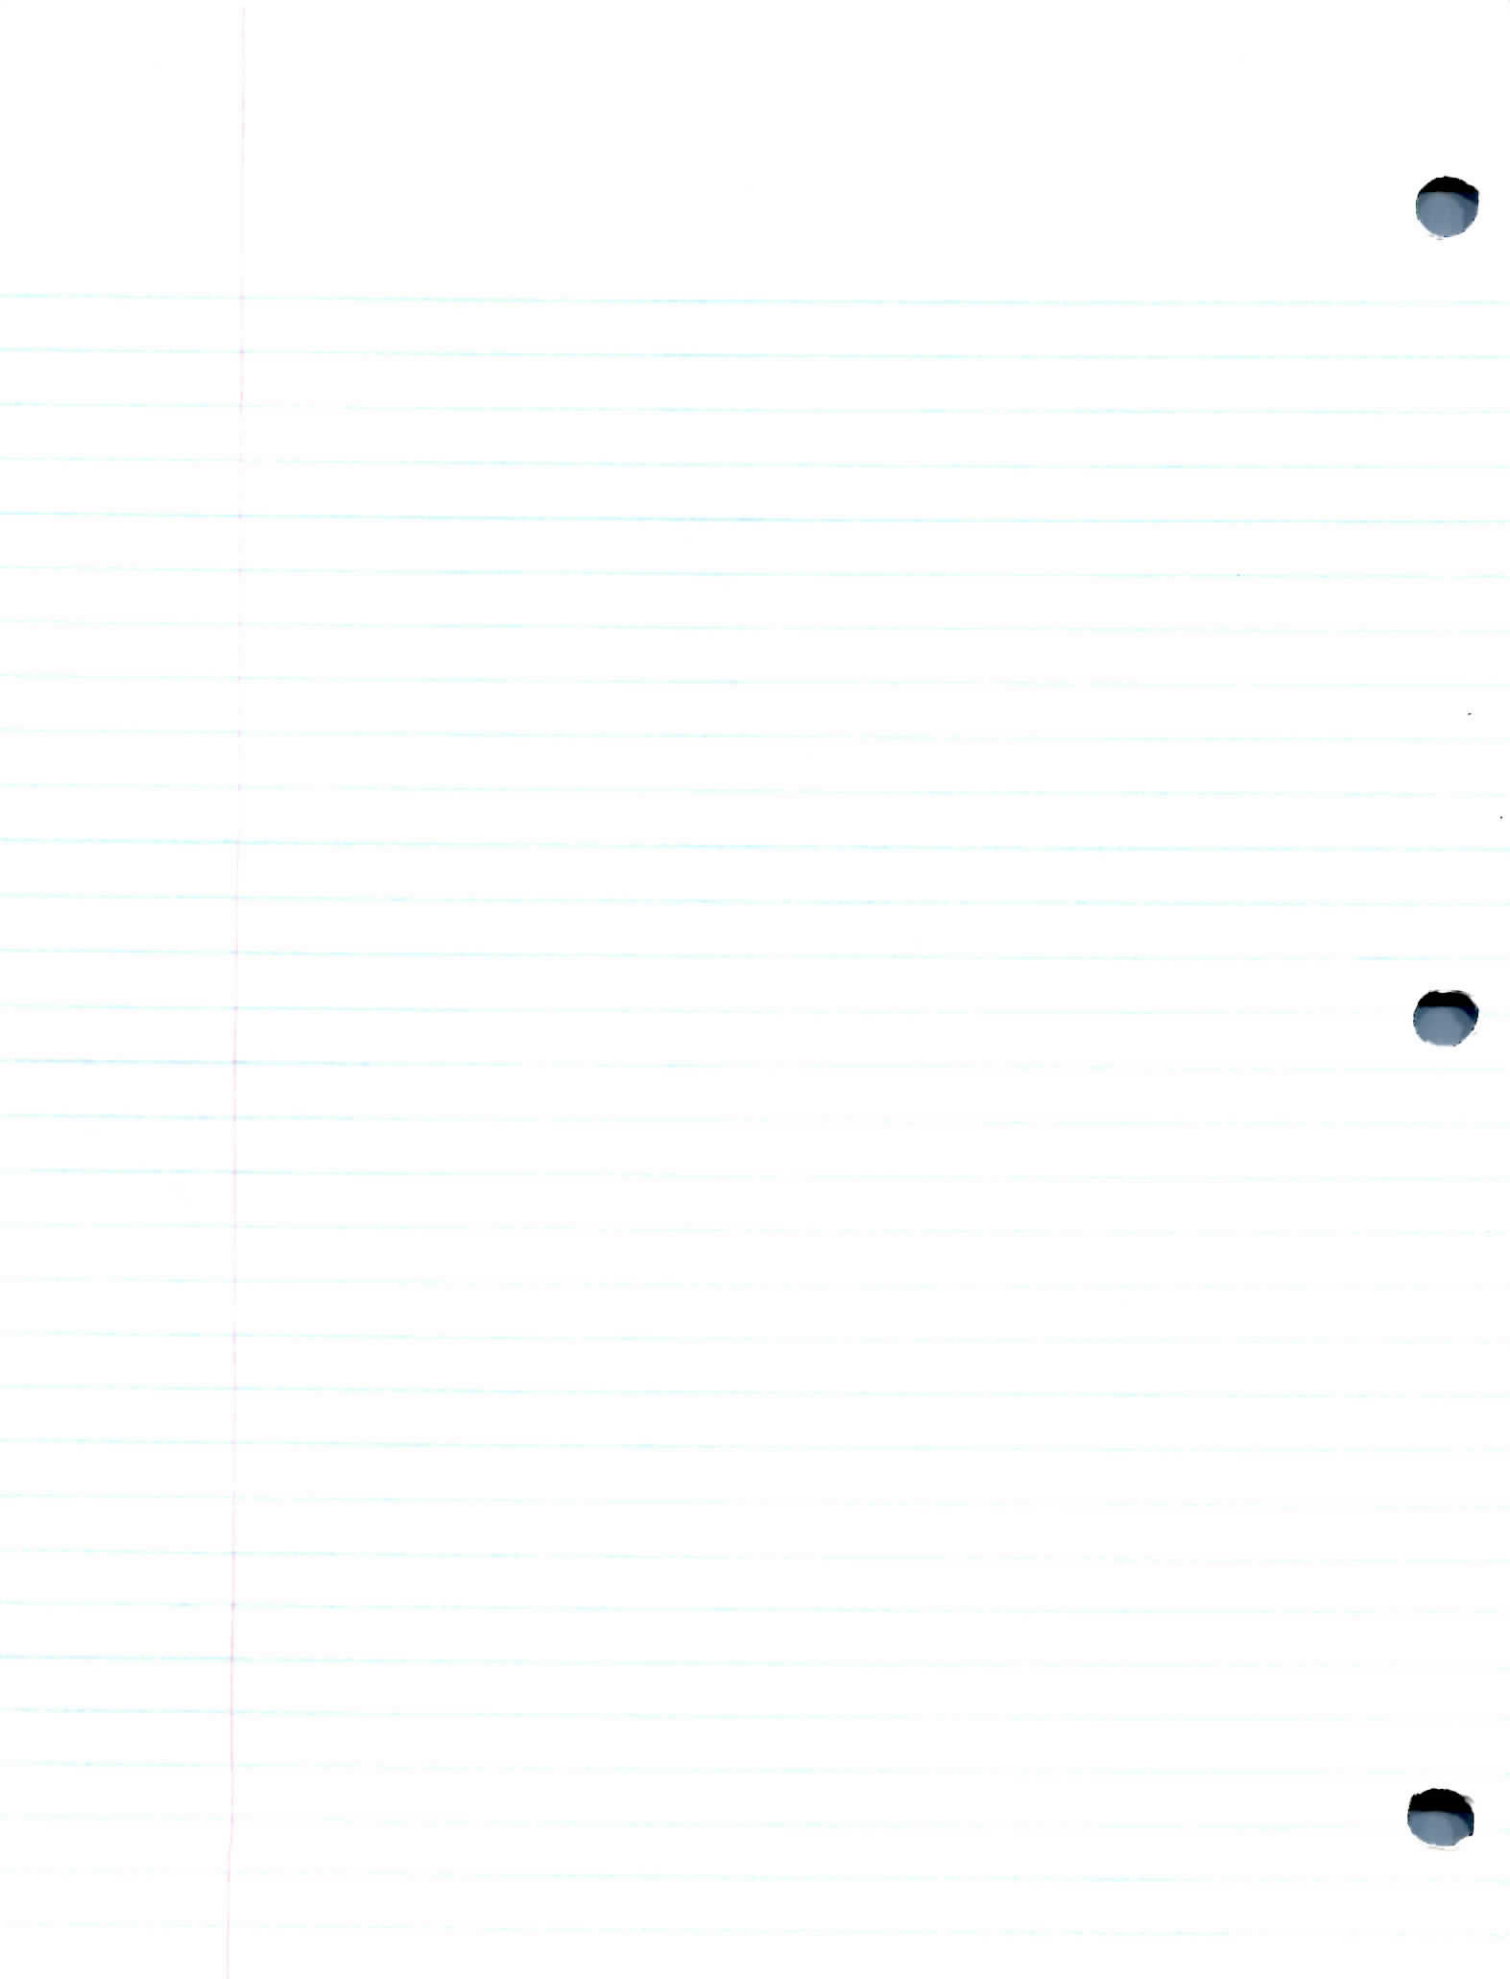

'She won't be able to do that with Tom,' Beavy gambled.

Angelica kissed Tom but afterwards fell into his arms.

"Shi-," Jerry smiled, "he's immune to Dorodans."

They explained all that had happened throughout the Dorodan Wars all the way up into the Retrodan Wars.

125: The Return

"Uh C. Ricardo," Gert called, "this is probably none of our -."

"What is it Gert?" C. Ricardo walked over to the monitor, "Magnify it please. Wait - what the fu-- is that?"

"I thought we had this whole sector guaranteed," Jim replied.

"Apparently," Micky said, "someone's fu-- ed up orders."

"It's one of ours too," Charlene sighed, "don't you think we oughta try calling."

"Anyone that hardheaded would never listen or attempt to listen," Johnny replied.

"How much longer are Astron 859 and Commander gonna be on the Crystal Planet?" John asked.

"Until they get the necessary information," Gison answered, "I'm gonna go down too."

"I've gotta go after that person in the ship," Arison volunteered.

"I can't allow that," C. Ricardo said.

"You could seriously fu--shi-up," Gart thought.

"You know me better'n that," Arison smiled as he walked down the corridor to the shuttle bay with Gison.

"Did you mean what you said when you said I was engaged?" Marileva asked as she came into their room wearing a black one piece outfit with two skinny straps which she put off to the side, making the outfit strapless.

"Well, yeah - yes I did," Edmund was honest.

"Don't you even worry that you might be committing adultery?" 800

Marileva sat next to Edmund.

"I like ^{to} put it this way," Edmund explained, "I married your mind, not her body. I don't consider that adultery, do you?" Edmund put his arm around Marileva and looked into her eyes.

"Besides, she forced you with her Dorodan influence," Marileva started laughing.

"What's so funny?" Edmund asked.

"It was funny how her influence backfired up against your brother," she couldn't stop laughing.

"That was great," Edmund started laughing too, "Wanna know something funnier?"

"What could be funnier than this?" Marileva replied.

"My brother's got a girlfriend," Edmund laid back and smiled.

"That is funny," Marileva started to lay on top of Edmund when someone knocked at their door.

"What d'you want?!" Edmund sat up.

"Your cat's been scratchin' up the sofa again," Angelica came in, gave the cat to Marileva, and sat next to Edmund, "I'm not the bitch - you all perceive me to be. I can be really lovable."

"At times," Edmund stepped in.

"Yes - at times," Angelica was being honest, "we all have our, you know, but maybe you don't. You're not a D.rodian."

"Angelica," Marileva asked, "what's your point."

"Yuce," Angelica offered her hand in friendship. Edmund held out his hand and put Angelica grabbed and hugged him right out of the blew, "I knew we'd be l-friends." She looked at Marileva and grinned. Marileva built up anger inside. It was hard to believe that Edmund had the next move...

"Alright Angelica," Edmund pushed her away, "you're starting to act like your mom. Besides, I'm not that kind of guy." 562 Marileva smiled now. "Angelica was now jealous, 'See you tomorrow, Edmund. Good-night.' She blew a kiss as she walked out and closed the door.

"I can't stand that bit-!" Marileva put the cat down and stood up, "She just like her mother."

"Where are you going?" Marileva knew not what to do so her anger grew as she tried to fall asleep.

"What's up Angelica," Edmund entered her room.

"Ooh Edmund, you dog," they made love throughout the night.

The next morning, at breakfast, Karyn came in with Angelica. Angelica came off the biggest grin ever, "I'm pregnant."

"That's great," Edmund hugged Angelica and once again she grinned at Marileva.

"You fu-- my bit-," Marileva could not hold her feelings in anymore, and Edmund. You fu--ed her."

"But Marileva, Edmund tried to explain, 'she's my wife.'"

"Oh shi-," Jerry grabbed Maryn's wrist and pulled her way from the action.

Pool calmly got up and left.

"What are you gonna do about Marileva?" Angelica held Edmund.

"Just step back Marileva," Edmund ordered as he straight armed her.

"Excuse me," Tom walked in, "What could it you reach Beany?"

"The cereal up there," Beany pointed. Everyone looked at the two as they turned around.

"Oh don't mind us," Tom said, "864 please resume."

"Move Edmund," Marileva tried to walk.

"Don't make me hurt you Marileva," Edmund pushed his arm out straight.

"Get the fu- - outta my way," Marileva had a firm voice, "I don't want to hurt you though betrayed me."

"Then step back," Edmund put more force on his hand, "we can't fight amongst ourselves."

Marileva grabbed Edmund's arm, "I warned you."

Suddenly Edmund fell to his knees in writhing pain.

"Well," Beavy said as he and Tom exited, "good morning to you to."

Angelica shot an energy beam at Marileva's back.

Marileva let go of Edmund and fell into his arms.

"Thanks Angel," Edmund held the weakened Marileva up.

"In case you're wondering Marileva," Angelica aimed for another beam from her gun," 865 that was the Neuro-Dan's modified sonic beam. It can now affect 50% D-D-D-D-D like you. Don't-cha just love disrupter beams." Angelica moved Marileva's chin up so they would look at each other.

"You e-jacked Edmund," Marileva built her energy back up, "you also used your D-D-D-D-D influence. No man can resist. It's just your style."

"It works," Angelica smiled, "he has great sex."

"Time for an abortion bic-!" Marileva flipped Edmund into Angelica with all of her might.

Edmund got up quickly and went after Marileva, "I'm gonna kick your fu-- in' as-." He tackled her as he grabbed the disrupter. Marileva grabbed his arms and forced the weapon away. Angelica was still down. Suddenly Edmund felt a stinging force that numbed and weakened him. 866

It originated from where Marileva grabbed him, he fell into her arms with no resistance. She then forced him over and got on top. Marileva placed her hand over his heart and then over his face. A pink dust entered through his nostrils. Edmund opened his eyes as Marileva kissed her prince.

"I-I couldn't control myself," Edmund said, "my hormones ran for Angelica. It was like fa-- in' puberty."

"Don't worry Edmund," Marileva replied, "I understand. Just relax. Uhh- ."

Angelica fired the disrupter at full power. Marileva was down and wounded badly as in genetics.

"Stop Angelica!" Edmund used his laser watcha to deflect the beam hitting Angelica. Marileva used her crimson circle to free the unconscious Angelica.

Edmund carried his princess to their room. They were very 867 wiery. Someone one knocked at the door.

"Was the fu-- is it?" Edmund and Marilewa replied.

"It's Gerry," Gerry came in, "two things. One, Angelica has lost her child and two, you both need to have an all human child. We need the detection power."

"Yeah," Gorn came in, "we've decided that you can't come out until you patch things up and help save the universe along the way." They left and locked the door shut.

"I don't know if I'm ready this again," Marilewa said softly. "I don't think I can take the depression. If you're wondering, I used my crimson powers on you so it wouldn't mess up your shirt."

"At least," Edmund pleaded, "think about it. We need each other. If not for me, then for the universe as my brother says. I love you."

Marilewa sat and thought awhile, "I believe we can make it work." 808

"You don't sound like it," Edmund brow his girlfriend, "what's wrong?"

"Think about it," Mailewa replied, "our two children are dead, we're not even married.
You're still married to Angelica. Your daughter's on the I.S.C. I'm not even human.
My mother's dead. The president and vice-president are dead.
Our guys are gonna be set up. The whole planet is fu--ed up. You fu--ed Angelica last night."

"That wasn't my fault," Edmund interrupted.

"That's beside the point
Edmund! You have to be stronger. I figured out why the Space Force doesn't allow inter-zone marriages. Too much shi-happens. I can't handle this anymore."

"You have to be strong Mailewa," Edmund turned the tables, "we need each other.
Listen to you and do it for the planet. We've been given a chance to start over. What the fu-- is it to 869 cry over E.J. and M.J. Sure it's okay to cry but fu-- them."

"Shut up!" Marileva turned around in rage, "Cut out your Spock - as - logical bullshi-. You weren't there in the delivery room twice. I watched both of our children die."

"But so did I," Edmund said, "it's over. If we can't get on we're fu--ed."

"I'll never work between us," Marileva pleaded, "Don't you understand? There are too many fu--ing obstacles."

"Fu-- the obstacles Marileva! You know you want me."

"Fu-- you Edmund, it's over."

"It's never over," Edmund said as he pushed the struggling Marileva down on the bed and got on top of her.

"What the fu-- are you doing?" Marileva stopped fighting. She could have easily overcome Edmund but did not do anything.

"I won't let you go, Mrs. Sims," Edmund looked into Marileva's eyes.

"What are you proposing to me now?"

"Sore of," Edmund kissed Marileva.

"You AS-hole," Marileva gave in to Edmund's will.

"When do we move in?" Paula asked Mike.

Mike viewed through his binoculars at Matt, Mimla, Fart, Virginia, Erin, Willy G., and Erica, "Shi- who's that." Mike pointed at a fighter landing in the Space Force base.

"I think I know why our signal didn't get through," Paula viewed toward a large black box that pulsed every once in a while.

"Welcome home R.A.G.," Virginia went to hug her boyfriend as she signaled for the Hetrodans.

"are you alright?" R.A.G. 871 hugged her with ease, "Where is everyone?" R.A.G. turned.

"Why do you ask?" Mimla came around with Matt.

Suddenly a fighter came in hard and fast and blew Virginia to a million pieces.

"Ooooo!" R.A.G. fell to his knees as he saw a gun fall.

"Whose fighter is that!" Matt pulled a laser and unloaded. The fighter easily dodged the fire.

"What the f- uh," a Retrodan took over R.A.G.'s body.

"I'll get that fu-er in the fighter," Willy G. said as he closed the cockpit and took off.

"The rest of you report to the storage tubes in the Space Station Intrepid," Haven ordered.

"Yes master Haven," Erin left with the others.

"No-shi-!" Arison replied, "Haven's back. Gotta radio in. What the fu- - is wrong 877 this da-m radio? Nothin' but static." Suddenly Arison felt the turbulence caused by Willy's enemy fire. He looked back, "Willy, what's goin' on."

"Land your plane now Arison," Willy ordered, "or I'll blow your as-away."

"Not you two," Haven ordered to the Bonillas, "I need your skills. Let's go."

"Time to learn a lesson you fu--in' amateur," Arison used his special moves to start the dogfight.

"Amateur," Willy replied, "you learn that shi-- in first fu--in' grade."

"What'd you find out Cestron?" C. Picardo asked.

"Everyone on Earth is fu--ed," Cestron said.

"There were a group of rebel Dorodans, loyal only to Haven," Commander explained, "We exiled them but apparently, they've escaped to Earth."

"What's their fu--in' motive?" Gant asked.

"Could that be it?" Grease Monkey pointed to the big screen.

"We've left Earth's atmosphere," Mimla announced.

"Engage Mr. Bonilla," Haven replied, "I've always wanted to say that. The planet is yours rebels. Take us out of here with force fields please."

"Shields up!" C. Neff, C. Accardo, and C. Sellers ordered at once as the huge space station hurtled by.

"I'm gonna follow it," C. Neff agreed.

"So will we," C. Sellers said.

"We will?" D.J. was astonished.

"Yeah," C. Sellers explained, "they can't handle that alone."^{*}

"Good luck," Sped Strong said as the Atlantis and Petya flew off.

*To Be Continued

"This is so fu--in' easy," Roy Abern, leader of the Rebels laughed.

"You can't win!" Acro said as human hosts took him, Billy, Sam, Pussey, Jeremy, and Dave Harley captive.

"What should we do with them?" Gresh asked.

"Can we kill 'em?" Goresy gnarled his teeth.

"Why are you so fu--in' violent?" Yrina said with her Russian accent.

"The dream of C.P.3 will come true," B.O.G. replied.

"What the fu-- is he?" Sam Osprey was scared.

"I am a cyborg, first class," B.O.G. explained.

"How long can those two beep that up?" Mike asked.

"Until one runs out of gas. So bad about K.A.G.'s girlfriend huh?" Paula changed the subject.

"Time to try out Hitson's 875 new adaptations," Arison flicked a few switches and moved a binocular like suspension over his face, "this'll teach you to tailgait on my ass." Arison pushed the missile launchers that were in the back of the fighter.

"What the - !" Willy ejected in time.

"That's our invitation," Paula said, "move in."

"What the fu--?!" Roy yelled.

"What's up?" Grina put her arms around Roy.

"The Space Force base is under attack from some fighter," Roy slammed the phone down, "Gresh and Gorey, come with me. Grina and B.O.G., see what you can do about the Stadium base."

"I can't seem to radio to Arison," John said.

"Jemme look at that," Gitson hooked a scrambler to the 876 radio, "try it now."

"What was wrong?" Charlene asked.

"The signal is being scrambled when we send it so if we scramble it, it should become the regular signal," Gibson explained.

"That makes sense," Johnny replied.

"What's going on?" Yonya asked.

"We're only tryin' to save the planet," Zart smiled.

"Zart," Commander said, "this is serious. Just leave so you won't be in the way."

"Well I don't wanna get in the way either," Yonya left, "call me if you need me."

"Aye Zart, wait," Speed Strong ran after his friend.

"You guys chill," Grease Monkey replied, "I'm goin' to rendezvous with Petya. They might need my superior tactics planning." He took 877 off in a fighter.

"You didn't have to be so hard on Gart," Castron told Commander.

"Hard?" she asked, "You guys cuss him out when he does something wrong."

"Well that's different," Johnny said, "he's use to that. He's not use to that serious stuff."

"I'm convinced," Commander replied, "you guys are fu--in' weird."

Gonya materialized behind Sped Strong and Gart, "Fights out mother fu--ers!" Gonya fired the 9mm taking out Gart and a disrupter gun messing up Sped Strong's electrical system. They went down but Sped Strong went down in sparks and energy surges, "You both have a date with Heaven."

"I'm n-not that b-kind of g-guy," Gart said as he passed out unconscious, "I use to be."

Gonya put their bodies in 878

two fighters with the weapons and set them on auto pilot with the coordinates to lead them to Heaven, "Mission accomplished. It's your turn Arison."

"He's unconscious alright," Mike said as he looked at Willy, "take him back to the rendezvous point Paula. I'll be there after I get some answers."

Paula agreed and sped off. Suddenly Mike felt writhing pain as he turned over in sparks, half unconscious. He peered up to see Arison holding a disrupter.

"Good work Arison," Gory praised, "but you f---ed up with Willy!"

"Take him to the tubes and put yourself inside," Roy ordered.

"It was great to have Sonya & Jack her boyfriend," Gresh replied.

"Can you read me Stadium 879

Base 2?" John called again.

"Stop the signal," B.O.G. pointed to the satellite disc.

Yrina looked at it and it exploded.

"Shi-!" John hit his hand on the equipment.

"Did one of Givson's gadgets not work?" Johnny asked.

"Not the great Givson," Cestron pleaded.

"Yu--all of you," Givson replied, "their communications could've gotten destroyed too."

"I can't believe Givson messed up," Charlene patted Givson on the back.

"We'll never know," C. Ricardo said, "we have to return to Earth." Everyone nodded. Givson, Cestron, Commander, and Johnny boarded fighters and took off.

"Another space station is approaching," John announced.

"It's the Space Station Diamond," Charlene replied, "the Dorodan ship." 880

"They answered our call for backup," C. Ricardo smiled.

"Da-m," Yonya said to herself, "I can't take over the rest of the ship. There's only one thing to do."

"What the fu- happened to the satellite?" Jerry asked.

"Don't go out there," Tom said.

"What if the Retrodons are out there?" Beavy deduced.

"I've got to do it," Jerry crawled up a ladder, "Who are you?"

"Oh shi-!" Tom ordered, "Get the A.K. 47!"

"What does the A.K. stand for?" Beavy asked.

"As-Killer or Kicker, now go," Tom went to warn Kayn and Angelica.

B.O.Z. grabbed Jerry's shirt and pulled him up onto the dome. With his free hand, he placed it on top of Jerry's head, "Your mind has just 881 been changed from a brain that sends messages to one that receives orders from me."

"Cut the bullshi- and toss him down to those guards for storage," Grina ordered.

"His mind will be mine then," B.O.G. sucked all of the memories, ideas, and thoughts through his arm and into his central processing unit, "now take him." B.O.G. threw Jerry down to the guards.

"Let's enter," Grina got onto the ladder.

"Get a move on it!" Tom ran into Angelica's bedroom.

"What's goin' on?" Kramp asked.

"We're under attack," Tom picked Angelica up and carried her out.

"Thanks Tom," Angelica was a lot sweeter and nicer since she was de-retrodarized. She pushed off onto her feet, I can walk on my own now. '882

"Where's the underground exit?" Tom asked.

"Follow me," Karyn ran down the corridor as they met up with Beavy.

"I wasn't sure which one it is so I brought an assortment," Beavy handed the weapons out as they ran to the hidden door.

"Wait," Karyn stopped, "where's Jerry?" Suddenly lasers whizzed right by them.

"We can't worry about 'im," Angelica replied.

"Yeah get through," Tom allowed everyone to get through the door before he got in.

"Can you fly a fighter Tom?" Beavy asked.

"There are only three seats in this type of plane so I'll put someone on my lap," Tom agreed, "you fly Beavy."

"Alright!" Beavy hopped in the front. Karyn got in. Tom helped Angelica onto his lap.

"Don't you get the feeling we're missing someone?"
Angelica asked as they plunged the silent jet plane into the ocean to get to Watery base 3 that not even the Petrodons knew about.

"Edmund and Marileva!!!!!!!"

"What about Post?" Beavy asked.

126: Rendezvous and answers

Edmund kissed Marileva and backed off, "When do we get out of here?"

"Who cares?" Marileva ran her hands through her hair, "What you wanna leave?"

"Oh no of course not," Edmund hugged Marileva, "This just seems unusual."

"Then let's get dressed," Marileva suggested, "wait."
"What's up?" Edmund asked, "I feel evil presences here," Marileva shook her head.

"The door's still locked," Edmund knocked on it.

Suddenly Pook ran in with 885

Bitc - and closed the door behind him.

"Why'd you do that?" Marileva asked.

"We're under attack," Pook replied, "here." Pook tossed to each of them an eye and two clips. He put his Betty rope around his shoulder.

"What direction are they coming from?" Edmund asked.

"The dome," Pook answered "in a matter of minutes, we'll be - awe!!!"

"Shi-, Bitc - is one of 'em!" Marileva and Edmund backed up. Bitc - attacked and Edmund timed the jump so he was able to punch Bitc - in the face knocking him across the room.

"What now?" Edmund asked.

"Let me take your body," Marileva pleaded, "I could turn us into gasses but we would be able to fit through the wall where it's connected."

"Will this hurt?" Edmund was scared.

"You won't feel a thing," Marileva held his hand as he disappeared and turned into a crystal that could fit in the palm of a hand. She dematerialized and passed through the crack to the outside.

"I feel a presence of another Drodan," Grina replied.

"It's Marileva Dike and Edmund Sims," B.O.G. said. "I want them," Grina asked, "but where are they?"

"Over there!" B.O.G. pointed, "Guards, subdue them."

Marileva reformed Edmund, "What now Marileva?" "Wait, what's that?" Marileva looked at 4 fighters coming hard and fast.

"Get down!" Grina said as the lasers sprayed the area.

Commander and Astron landed. Commander was the first 887 out, "Where's Angelica?"

"We don't know," Edmund answered. Gisson and Johnny landed.

"Oh son," Cestron hugged Edmund, "Marileva - h - how?"

"It's a long story Cestron," they hugged.

"Where's Gerry?" Gisson asked.

"And Erica?" Johnny also asked.

"Yo we have no fu - - ing idea now step off," Edmund said.

"Sister matter fu - er," Commander picked Edmund up by his shirt, "Where's my daughter?"

Marileva came up and pushed Commander off into Cestron's arms, "We no know you set Edmund up for your last chance at Dorian domination. It backfired when Haven triplecrossed you."

"What Haven's back?" Johnny asked.

"What does it take to kill his as - ?" Gisson asked.

"Dad you're back," Edmund announced.

"Are you serious?" Astron asked.

"Look fu-- him," Commander approached Marileva.

Edmund got off the ground and ran in front of them, "Look don't fight, we've gotta stick together." Commander touched Edmund and he flew ten yards out of the way.

"Don't you touch him like that," Marileva ordered.

"What are you gonna do bitc-?" Commander asked.

Astron approached but Edmund grabbed his leg, "Commander no."

"You even put Edmund's father under the Dorodan influence didn't you?" Marileva asked.

"Let me go, Edmund," Astron ordered.

"Commander fu--ed up Marileva's life," Edmund explained, "E.J. and M.J. are dead. Ms. Dike is dead. This is 889 her fight.

"Make your move you fu--in' bitc-," Commander tempted, "take the first shot."

"You already did," Marileva explained, "you say Raven did all those things to you but after he did it you could've defected easily."

"So I could've," Commander said.

Suddenly Marileva kicked Commander in the stomach, "that's for my mother," she punched her in the face, "that's for Bitc-."

"Who?" Gibson asked.

Marileva continued by punching Commander's face back the other way, "that's for M.J.," she jabbed Commander in the chest, "for E.J.," Marileva jumpkicked Commander in the chest, "for human race," she followed it by a fast, powerful, spin-round-house kick that knocked Commander down on to her back, "that's for Edmund and Cestron and this's for me," 1890

Marileva kicked Commander in the side with all of her might, "Who's the bitc - now, Commander." Marileva and Edmund hugged.

"You used me," Cestron knelt next to Commander, "you never loved me. I should've never tried to replace his mother with-."

"It wasn't your fault," Edmund put his hand on Cestron's shoulder.

Cestron stood up, "Single again." He held his hand out.

"Single," they shook.

"But dating," Marileva smiled as her hazel eyes gleamed in the sunlight.

Gitson helped Commander out, "Any serious wounds?" She didn't answer, "Okay - well, yeah." Gitson calmly walked away.

"Where do we meet the others if there are others?" Johnny asked.

Edmund helped his woman into a fighter and Cestron and Commander doubled. Gitson 891 and Johnny got their own fighter.

"You didn't happen to see my brother Arison did you?" Gison asked. They all plunged into the water on their way to the Watey Base 3.

"We know where they went," B.O.G. announced, but the Earth is $\frac{3}{4}$ water."

"Roy," Yrina spoke into her walkie talkie, "we found'em but don't know where they went."

"What the fu-- is that s'posed to mean?" Gorey asked.

"Shut up and give me the com.," Roy snatched the walkie talkie, "Hold on Yrina. Alright, Gorey, take space force Base 1 and a few soldiers. Since the whole planet is under the Petrodan plague you may have as many slaves as you need. Fresh, you get Corporation K2. Yrina, you there?"

"Yeah," Yrina replied.

"Wait for me at Stadium Base 2," Roy ordered, "we'll have to find 892 out where that third base is."

"I just love monitoring enemy transmissions," Johnny replied.

"Yeah those fu--ers'll never find us," Gorn said.

"No databank in the world has the coordinates to this place," Gitson smiled.

"But I do!" Willy replied, "and so does everyone else the Retrodans have captured."

"You're wrong Willy," Commander explained, "only superiors know where we are and the pres and vice pres are dead."

"What about Gerry?" Karyn asked.

"Oh shi-!" Astron yelled.

"Someone has to go get them," Marileva announced, "we need our space force back."

"I'm game," Karyn agreed.

"You have to go take out Space Force Base 1," Angelica announced.

"I'll go too," Johnny said

"You'll need Speed," Paula joined them.

"That's enough for a strike force," Edmund said.

"Yeah," Beavy tried to be one of the gang. The three left for the flight to Base 1.

"You're lose," Willy replied, "let me out of this chair!"

"Why didn't I think of this before?" Marileva asked.

"What, use the crimson circle?" Angelica asked.

"No," Marileva answered, "we can probe his mind for answers."

"Before you do that," Commander replied, "you need to know about these Rebels. If they've teamed up with Haven, we're all fu--ed up the nose. Haven helped create these Rebels. They invented the disrupter sonic ray gun. I'm sure you're all familiar with it. If Haven has to team up with them, he's really desperate. I don't see how 'cause they don't work cheap. He must've promised them something big."

"Like a planet?" Beavy asked.

"Yeah Earth," Commander

continued, "Their leader Roy Abern is just that. He has the power of influence. Anyone he gets to will inevitably follow him. Grina Crawford is often referred to as Venus. She has the power of seduction even though she's Roy's girl. Fresh Martin is second in command. He's their scientist. Gorey Slupper is the crayed psycho. Battery Operated Toy has the power of mind control as well as brute strength. With Heaven's scientific know how and Roy's Rebels you get shi-like Metrodans. I wouldn't be surprised if they had the powers of the Metrodans."

"We need to retake Base 2," Cestron agreed, "I'll go."

"I need to catch up on old times so you and me Dad," Tom said as Angelica approached.

"You wouldn't mind if I went would you Tom?" Angelica asked.

"Sure," Tom didn't care if she went or not. They left.

"That still leaves Corp. N.Z.," Commander replied.

"If we go to take that-," Edmund paused, "that's fu--in' suicide."

"I'll go," Beavy agreed.

"We can't let the little tike go alone," Maileva put her arm around Edmund.

"Okay," Edmund agreed.

"You guys are fu--ed!"
Willy replied, "Let me go!"

Commander walked over to him and put her hand on his forehead.
He immediately fell into a trance.

"Are you sure that's safe?"
Gitson asked, "With the Petrodan and all, Commander?"

"Maileva will be ready with the Crimson Circle if anything goes wrong," Beavy reassured.

Suddenly Commander flew across the room as if she was shocked by Willy.

"What the fu-- happened?" Edmund asked as he helped Commander up.
Maileva used the Crimson Circle on Willy to free him from the Petrodan.

"You alright Commander," Gitson checked her pulse.

"Must crowding over me!" Commander pushed Edmund and Gitson away, "I'm fine but as a whole, the planet isn't. The Rebels plan to set a force field over the whole planet by setting up stations at the four Poles. No one gets in, no one gets out."

"But why do they need our bases?" Marilewa untied Willy.

"I was cut off before I could get that information," Commander ran her hands through her hair.

"Well you all go out on your mission," Gitson said, "I'll maintain things at this base. I won't give it up."

"I change my mind," Beavy announced, "you may need me Mr. Gerrison."

"I'm the only air patrol you've got," Willy replied, "call me if you need me."

"Don't forget to try out my new gadgets on the three person jet," Gitson called as Commander, Edmund, and Marileva walked to the pressurized hangar.

"It's no fighter," Edmund deduced, "but it'll have to do." He helped the ladies in before he boarded and then closed the cockpit. He flicked a few switches that that closed a thick heavy metal door and then opened the one that lead to the ocean. Gons of water rushed in. Edmund pushed another button to unlock the latches connected to the wheels that held the plane down. He engaged the thrusters and the plane took off and slammed out of the water.

Gitson closed the outside door and allowed the water to drain. He then opened the inside doors and everything was back to normal.

"Sonya," C. Picardo asked, "have you seen Sped Strong or Zart?"

"No not lately," Sonya replied, "why 898 do you ask?"

"They're no where to be found," he closed her door, "sorry to've bothered you."

"Oh Ricardo," Gonya called.

"Yeah Gonya."

"Do you think the space force has a chance to win this war?"

"Sure," C. Ricardo sat on Gonya's bed next to her, "we will win."

Gonya put her arms around C. Ricardo, "You're absolutely - wrong." Suddenly C. Ricardo felt the sharp stings of being electrocuted. He was immediately knocked unconscious.

Gonya went to the cockpit section.

"Have you seen C. Ricardo?" John asked.

"He was just askin' me where Sped & Long and Hart were," Gonya announced.

"This isn't right," Charlene replied. Gonya grinned even though no one saw it.

"What'd you find out B.O.Y.?" Roy walked in.

"No databank on this planet knows where Base 3 is," B.O.Y.

"Well maybe you made a mistake," Grina said.

"I never make mistakes," B.O.Y. announced, "but I do know where the base is."

"How?" Roy was impressed.

"That person that I sucked out his brain knows everything," B.O.Y. pointed to his head.

"So we're here," Johnny announced.

"How do we get in?" Paula asked.

"I have to outsmart my own inventions," Karyn said.

"Good fu--in' luck," Gorey fired his assault rifle hitting Johnny square in the back.

"Get down!" Paula sped up to the sniper.

"Take this!" Gorey swung the gun at Paula but she easily stole the weapon away.

"You gonna get a big as-whipping," Paula said.

"By a bit - like you?"
Gorey started laughing.

"What's so funny?"
suddenly Paula knew what was so funny as she fell out in sparks.

"Great shot, Karyn," Gorey said as the Retrodan left Karyn's body.

"I'm not out - yet," Karyn fired a negative energy beam from her laser taking out the Retrodan and then took off for Base 1.

"Where you goin'?" Gorey pulled a 9mm and easily stopped Karyn in her tracks, "a ya Roy. I stopped my invaders."

"Zuna, you better go backup Base 2," Roy suggested, "the competition can only get better. I've got an invasion force to lead."

"Does anyone here know where to go in here?" Cestron asked.

"I've only been here once, 901

so, "Angelica replied.

"I'm the newcomer," Gorn raised his hand.

"You picked the wrong time to come back," Gresh aimed his eye.

"Split up!" Gorn grabbed Angelica's wrist and took off through the woods.

Suddenly Grina jumped down on top of Cestron.

Gresh ran into the woods with fully armed soldiers, "You know what to do."

Grina had Cestron on his back. She sat on top of him and shocked him to weaken him.

"What the fu-- is goin' on?" Cestron was too weak to struggle.

"Just relax," Grina took Cestron inside the base to her room and laid him on the bed. She got completely naked and sat on top of Cestron again. She put his face to her vagina as to allow her navel to be directly in front of his 907 forehead. A swirling electric beam came out of her navel and went into his mind, "I control you now Astron."

"Should've never taken this fu--in' job," Gorn cocked his 9mm.

"Which way?" Angelica asked. Suddenly bullets whipped over head.

"Go the opposite of the lead shower," Gorn suddenly stopped. They were surrounded.

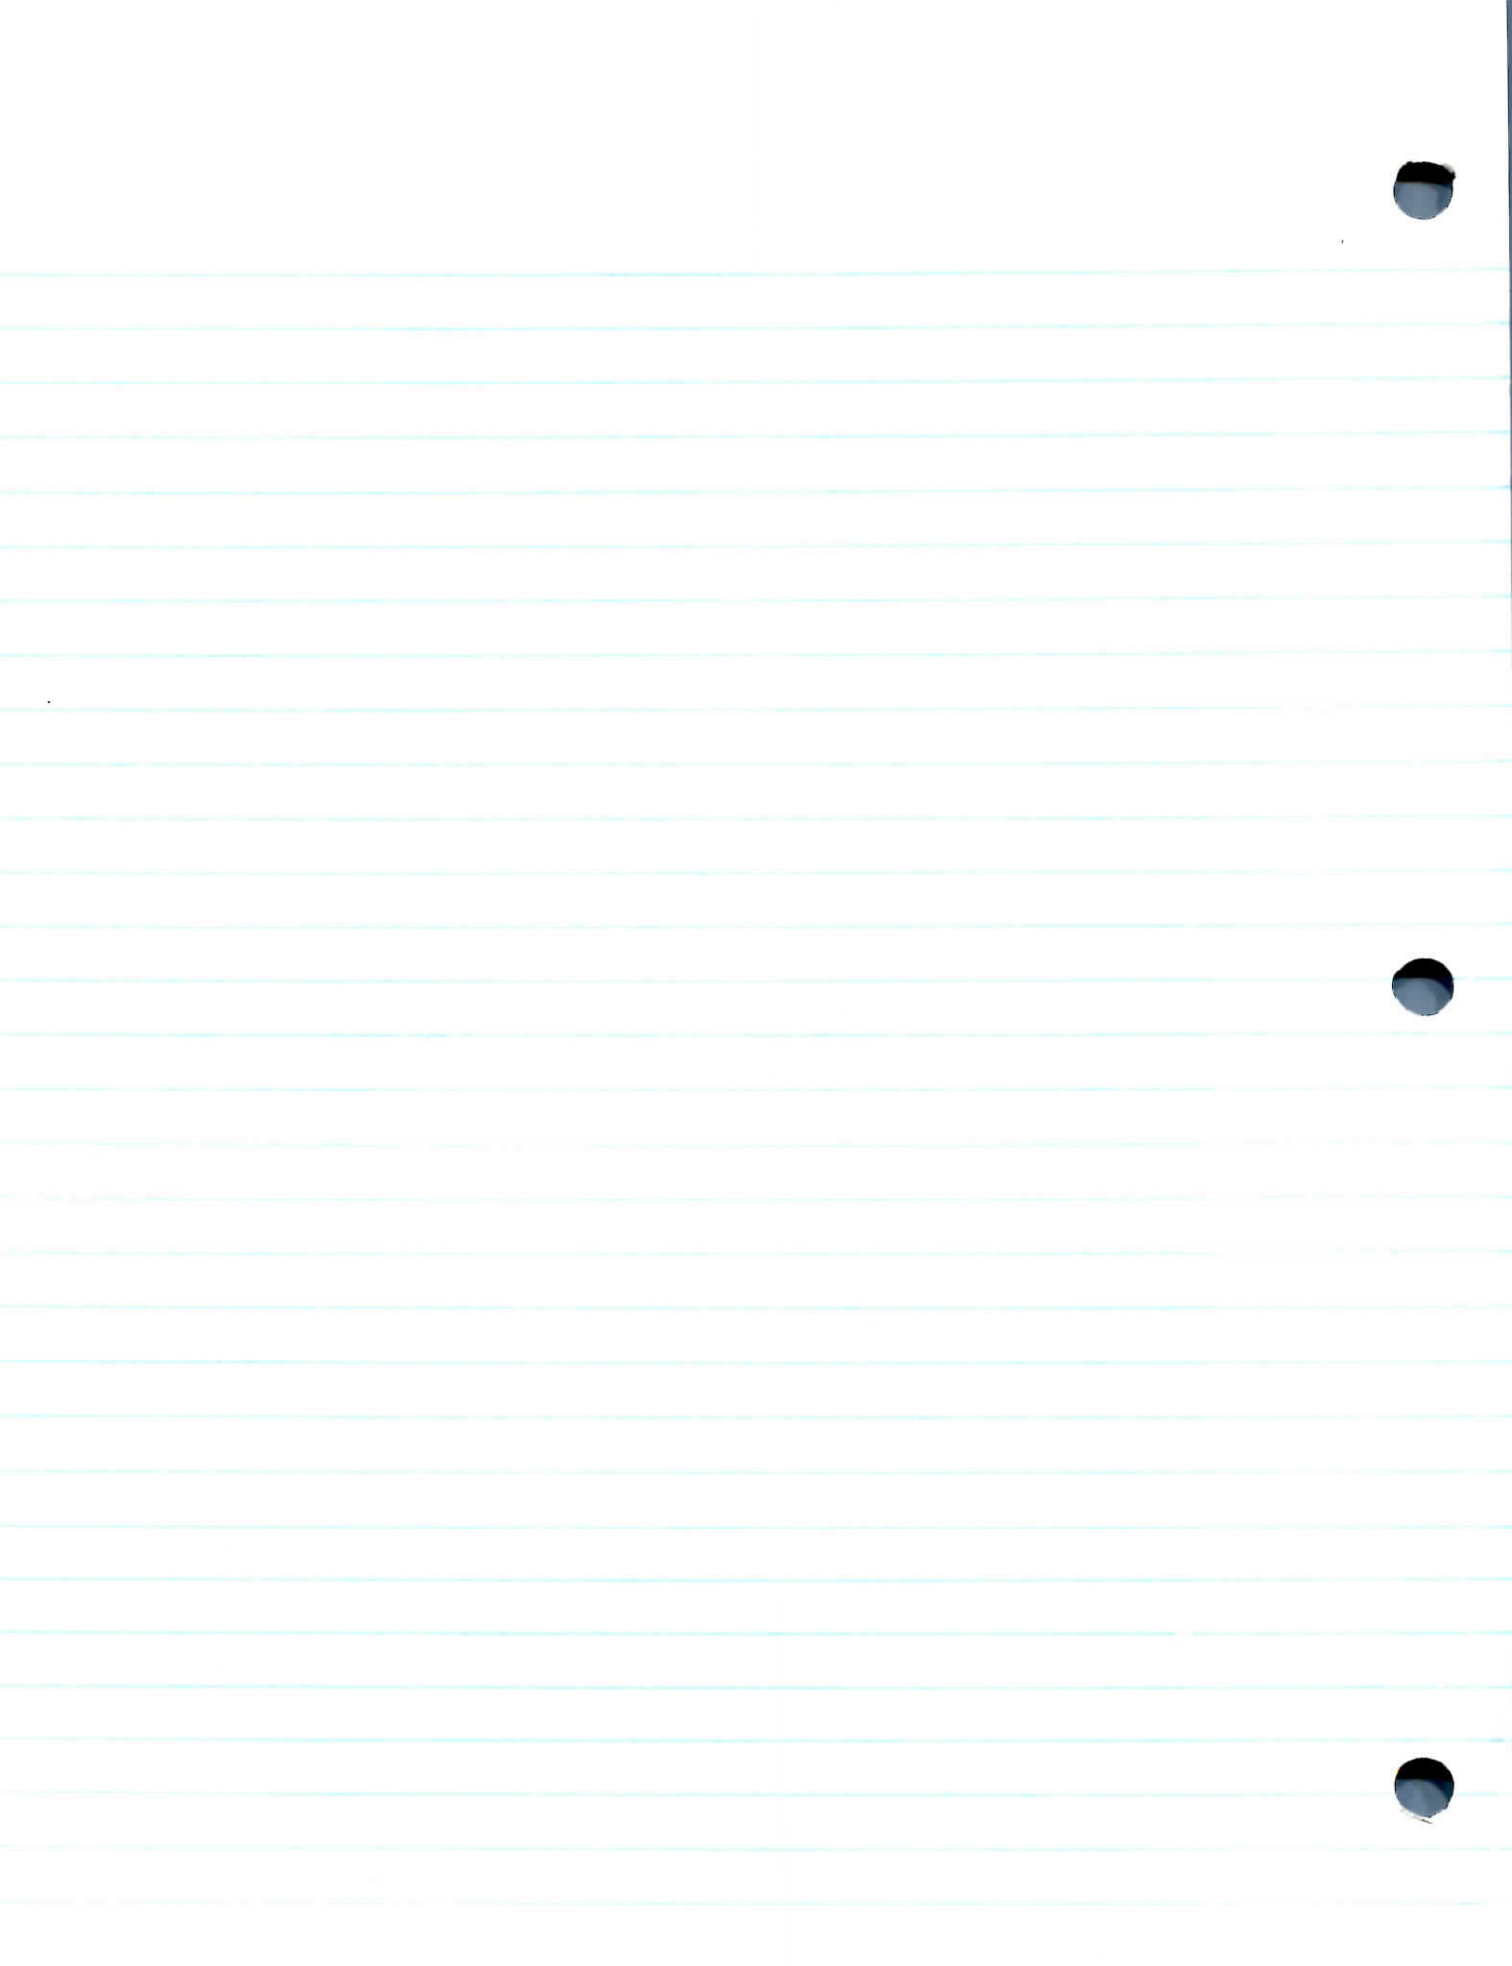

"Welcome back Angel," Gresh attempted to kiss Angelica when Gorn pulled her away and hit Gresh right in the face with his gun, "You'll pay for that shi-. Blow their as-es back to Planet Exile." Angelica curled up with Gorn. He contemplated what his next move would be. He could contemplate all he wanted because there was no way out.

"Finish off their as-es!" Gresh's face was actually bleeding. He walked out of the scene to receive medical attention.

Suddenly a three-manned jet flew over by. Angelica used her crimson circle on the soldiers in her way.

"Get up the tree!" Cestron called. As soon as Yom and Angelica were aboard, Cestron took off.

"Shi-," Gresh was angry.

"Don't worry," Gina put her arm around Gresh, "It's already over for them."

Tonya followed Charlene 906 to the hangar, "Do you think they could've been here Mrs. Smith?"

"Who left these fighters open?" Charlene looked in to see C. Ricardo unconscious. "What the fu-?" Charlene turned but Sonya pushed her into the fighter and closed the hatch. Sonya used her laser to weld the hatch shut. Charlene was trapped, "Sonya noo!" The fighter took off.

Suddenly she felt a seering pain in her arm. It was a laser wound.

"I knew something was up," John hid around the corner and then came back in to see nothing, "Where the fu-- did she go? What's that smell - perfume - uh." John grabbed his throat. Sonya's gaseous form literally took John's breath away. John laid on his back but was too weak to fire up. He then fell unconscious.

"Da-n-all out of fighters," Yonya rematerialized, "oh well, he's no match for me."

"What are we waitin' for?" Edmund asked.

"The go-ahead signal," Commander replied.

Suddenly Marileva felt a hand on her shoulder. Angelica, Cestron, and Tom met up with them.

"Why are you here?" Marileva asked.

"We couldn't overtake the base," Angelica announced.

"It was a trap-like this one," Cestron grabbed Marileva and put a knife to her throat. Everyone stood up out of the way.

"What the fu- are you doin' Dad?" Edmund asked.

"What he's been programed to do," Roy stepped out of the base with B.O.G.

"It must've happened when 908

we split up," Tom said
"Don't move," Gina came around with Gresh.

The rebels pulled out disrupters and fired them at Commander and Angelica.
Edmund caught Commander while Tom caught Angelica.

"How's it feel?" Roy asked,
the queen of the Dorodans, my prisoner."

"Yu--you," Commander got another dose of the disrupter.

"Don't forget this one,"
Cestron announced.

"What?" Gina asked.

"She's also a Dorodan," Cestron explained.

"Dad no!" Edmund knew their cover was blown.

Commander used the Crimson Circle on B.O.G. and Roy while Angelica used it on Gina and Gresh. They had now lost their Dorodan powers.

"Stay here Commander," Edmund laid her down and ran up to Cestron.

"Don't move!" Castro ordered. Suddenly Maileva dematerialized. Edmund tackled his father.

"Kill him," Gina ordered. Maileva helped Commander up as she rematerialized.

"Let's see how your new boyfriend stands up against this!" Gresh tried to use his crimson circle on Tom.

Angelica blocked it with hers. Gina joined in and Angelica started to have a hard time.

B.O.G. grabbed Maileva, "I want your mind." He threw her against the side of the base. He then picked her up by her arms and used his own disrupter that his roboticness provided. He was much bigger than her and stronger. B.O.G. dropped her to the ground like a doll. He extended his hand over the top of her head. Maileva rolled out of the 910 way.

"You want more do not you," B.O. Y. extended his arms and fired intense disrupter beams.

"Awe - Edmund!" Marileva was in dire pain.

"What?" Edmund turned to see his dying love. He could not help her because his father was on top of him with a knife. His father was a lot stronger than him as was his brother. Edmund kicked Cestron off and went after the knife, crawling. Cestron grabbed Edmund's leg and pulled him back. He turned Edmund over and started hitting and beating him up.

Commander was being pinned down by Roy, "You were never a match for me."

"Su - you Roy," Commander replied, "uhh."

"You will," Roy seduced Commander.

Marileva was down for the count, "Edmund." Her plea for help was a lot weaker when she saw Edmund being beat up.

"You want more huh!" B.O.Z. continued his murderous torture.

"Awe - no!!" Marileva barely moved.

Two fighters flew over head and landed right in the middle of Angelica's battle. Willy G. and Beavy jumped out and let their lasers blaze. They took Zuna and Fresh totally. They were wounded and Angelica's Crimson Circle did not hit them but captured them. They turned bright red and were suspended in animation.

"Mother?" Angelica saw Roy and Commander making out.

Tom ran and tackled Astron so Edmund could try to save Marileva. Beavy and Willy blasted B.O.Z. in the back but it hardly pleased him. Edmund tickled B.O.G. but B.O.G. pecked him up by his neck and slammed him into the wall.

"Ow, shi-," Edmund got up and reslammed into the wall. This time he fell next to Marileva, "Marileva, what happened?"

B.O.G. pecked her up by her shirt, "Her brain is mine."

"Don't you know you're not supposed to touch a lady there in public," Edmund cocked, aimed and fired his 9mm. He got up in enough time to catch Marileva, "Make your move fu--er!"

"You first," B.O.G. provoked a fight, "you destroy me, you destroy the mind of your friend Jerry Ferrison."

Commander and Roy walked over to Angelica, "Give it to Roy, Angel."

"Move mother," Angelica wanted to use her Crimson Circle but was caught from. 913 behind by Gorey. She had taken shots to the back by Goreys 9mm and she was in excruciating pain as she felt the her bones.

"Fight's out-bitc-," Gorey put another clip in and cocked it.

"Isn't this great Commander?" Roy asked.

"Yes Roy," Commander kissed him.

Suddenly Tom came over on Gorey with a powerful up round while Beavy and Willy carried Angelica to supposed safety.

"Gorey!" Roy left Commander and she snatched out of Roy's control before it was too late but she was too weak to do anything.

"You win B.O.Y.," Edmund replied.

"Now give me Maulova," B.O.Y. ordered.

"She's mine," Edmund shot B.O.Y. directly in the forehead.

"Did you kill Jerry?" Willy 914

asked.

"Nah, I figure his C.P.U. is in his forehead but his brain is in his arm."

"Then let's take it off," Beary suggested as he handed Willy the blow torch.

"Haven't never said we'd have this much trouble!" Roy said while holding Gorey who did not have Aerostrian powers, "We send him all who we capture and we get fu--ed in return. It's not worth it, just to get a planet." Gorey died just like B.O.S., Gina, and Bush, "Nooo!!!"

"I think it's time to leave," Willy boarded his fighter

"My-m-mother Z-ton," Angelica was fading fast.

Z-ton carried her to the three person plane, "Shi-, wait here."

"You!!!" Roy aimed his Crimson Circle at Z-ton. Cestron grabbed Roy, "Get off you slave."

"I-I'm no nobo-I-die slave," Cestron punched Roy and crawled over to Commander and passed out on top of her. 915

"Don't go yet, Edmund," Roy called as he held a gun to Gitson's head, "It's not over yet." They were re-surrounded by human slaves. Tom and Angelica were gone to the space station while Willy and Beavy followed. Edmund and Marileva were all alone.

"Is it true Roy," Gitson asked, "that you have the whole planet's people stored in all of the bases?"

"What the fu-- does that matter?" Roy replied.

"It matters - lock," Gitson spoke into his watch and Roy let go of him as soon as he heard rumbling. Gitson hit the deck while Marileva and Edmund fired a round of 9mm blowing Roy away.

"What'd you do?" Edmund asked.

"I locked them in the bases - no escape," Gitson announced, "I read it in 916 my son's files so I just finished it. So did we win?"

"Y-fu-no!" Roy hurled a knife into the back of Gison.

"Go," Gison ordered as he breathed heavily, "avenge the space force." He fell unconscious as he pulled the knife out. Roy passed out.

Edmund ran while still carrying Marileva. He helped her into the three person jet.

"We still have to deal with your daughter," Marileva replied, "thank you." She kissed Edmund on the cheek.

"Fu-!" Edmund screamed, "Captain, Commander, Gison - all gone, everyone. We haven't won shi-."

"Calm down Edmund," Marileva felt her stomach, "there'll be plenty of time for that."

"We've been waiting for you," Willy announced as Edmund and Marileva left Earth's atmosphere.

"Are you ready to go this?"
Angelica asked.

"You're never ready for this shi-", Edmund replied, "just play it by ear."

"Then let's go in," Tom said.

"Shi-," Gonya turned the S.S.C. around to face the S.S.D., "goodbye."

"What are they doing?" Beavy asked.

"She's gonna attack the Dorodans," Marilewa deduced.

Suddenly John grabbed Gonya, "You're not gonna restart the war."

"Let me get you as-hole," Gonya flipped him over into the console, "Oh shi-!!!" Gonya turned to see the remaining Space Force. She turned red and disintegrated but Angelica, Edmund, will never forget the look on her face as long as they live.

Edmund fell to knees and pressed his head against his girlfriend. Angelica fell into Tom's arms.

"You did the right thing Angel," Tom whispered to her.

Marileva put Edmund on his feet as they walked out.

Beavy helped John up. Willy radioed to the Dorodans, "He did it but y'all might wanna use your crimson laser on the planet below."

The Dorodans did just that, billing off all of the Petrodons. What of Boy and what did he do with Commander and Astron and Gibson?

John and Tom connected B.O.'s arm to the S.D.C. so Gerry would be around. The people on Earth were freed and went back to there way of lives that were regular.

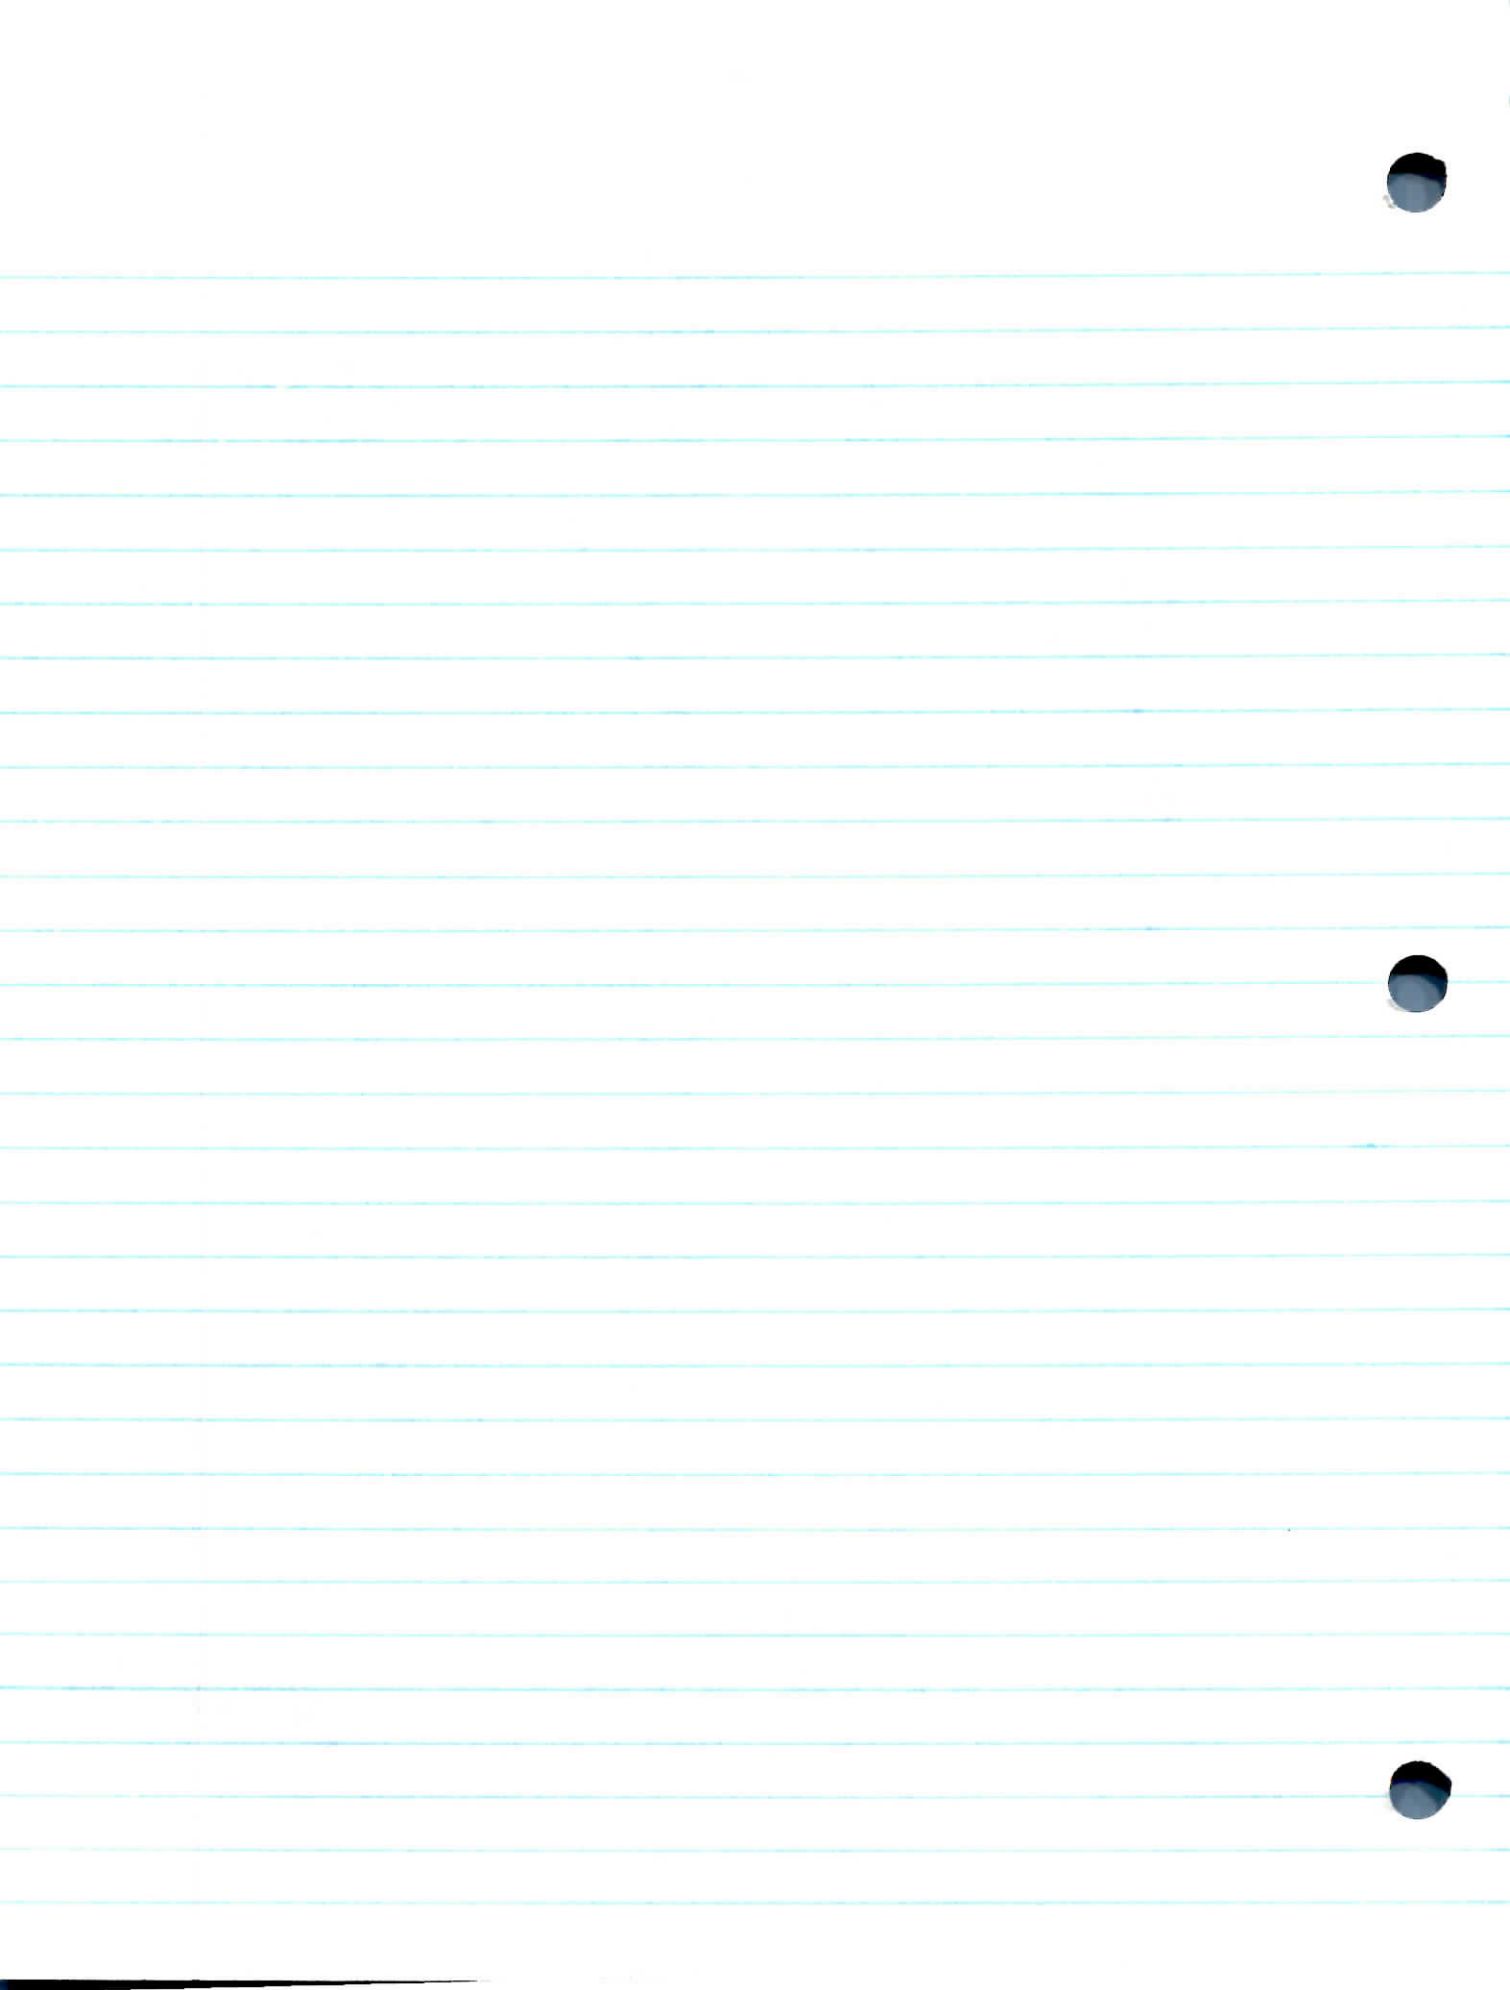

C. Neff and N.D.G. intercepted the fighters Gonya had tried to send to Haven as well as the other ships the Rebels sent. The Space Force was nearly back to normal having C. Sellers, H. J. Jevone, C. Neff, N.D.G., C. Picardo, Commander,

Castro, Angelica, Beavy, Marileva, Edmund, Tom, Jim,
Charlene, John, Gerry, Willy,
Mison, Sped Strong, Fart Jr.,
Karyn, Pook, Pussy, Billy, Acro, Bitc-, Dave, and Jeremy.

Matt, Mimla, Fart Jr., Erin, R.A.G., Anson, and Erica were prisoners of war.

Roy was NEVER found. The Retrodan Wars are not over.

"I now pronounce you,"
C. Ricardo pronounced, "man and wife. You may now kiss the bride."

Edmund undressed Marileva with his eyes.

"Cut it out," Marileva went to slap Edmund but he grabbed her and pulled her to him, "Och Edmund."
They kissed and put all of themselves into it. Marileva put her arm down and around Edmund. They got a standing ovation from all of the world, "You better cool it before you get me pregnant again."

"Ooh, Marileva," Edmund said as Marileva pressed against him in a very sexual manner.

"Edmund and Marileva," a reporter called, "you've just saved the planet, where are you going now?"

"Home," they said at once.

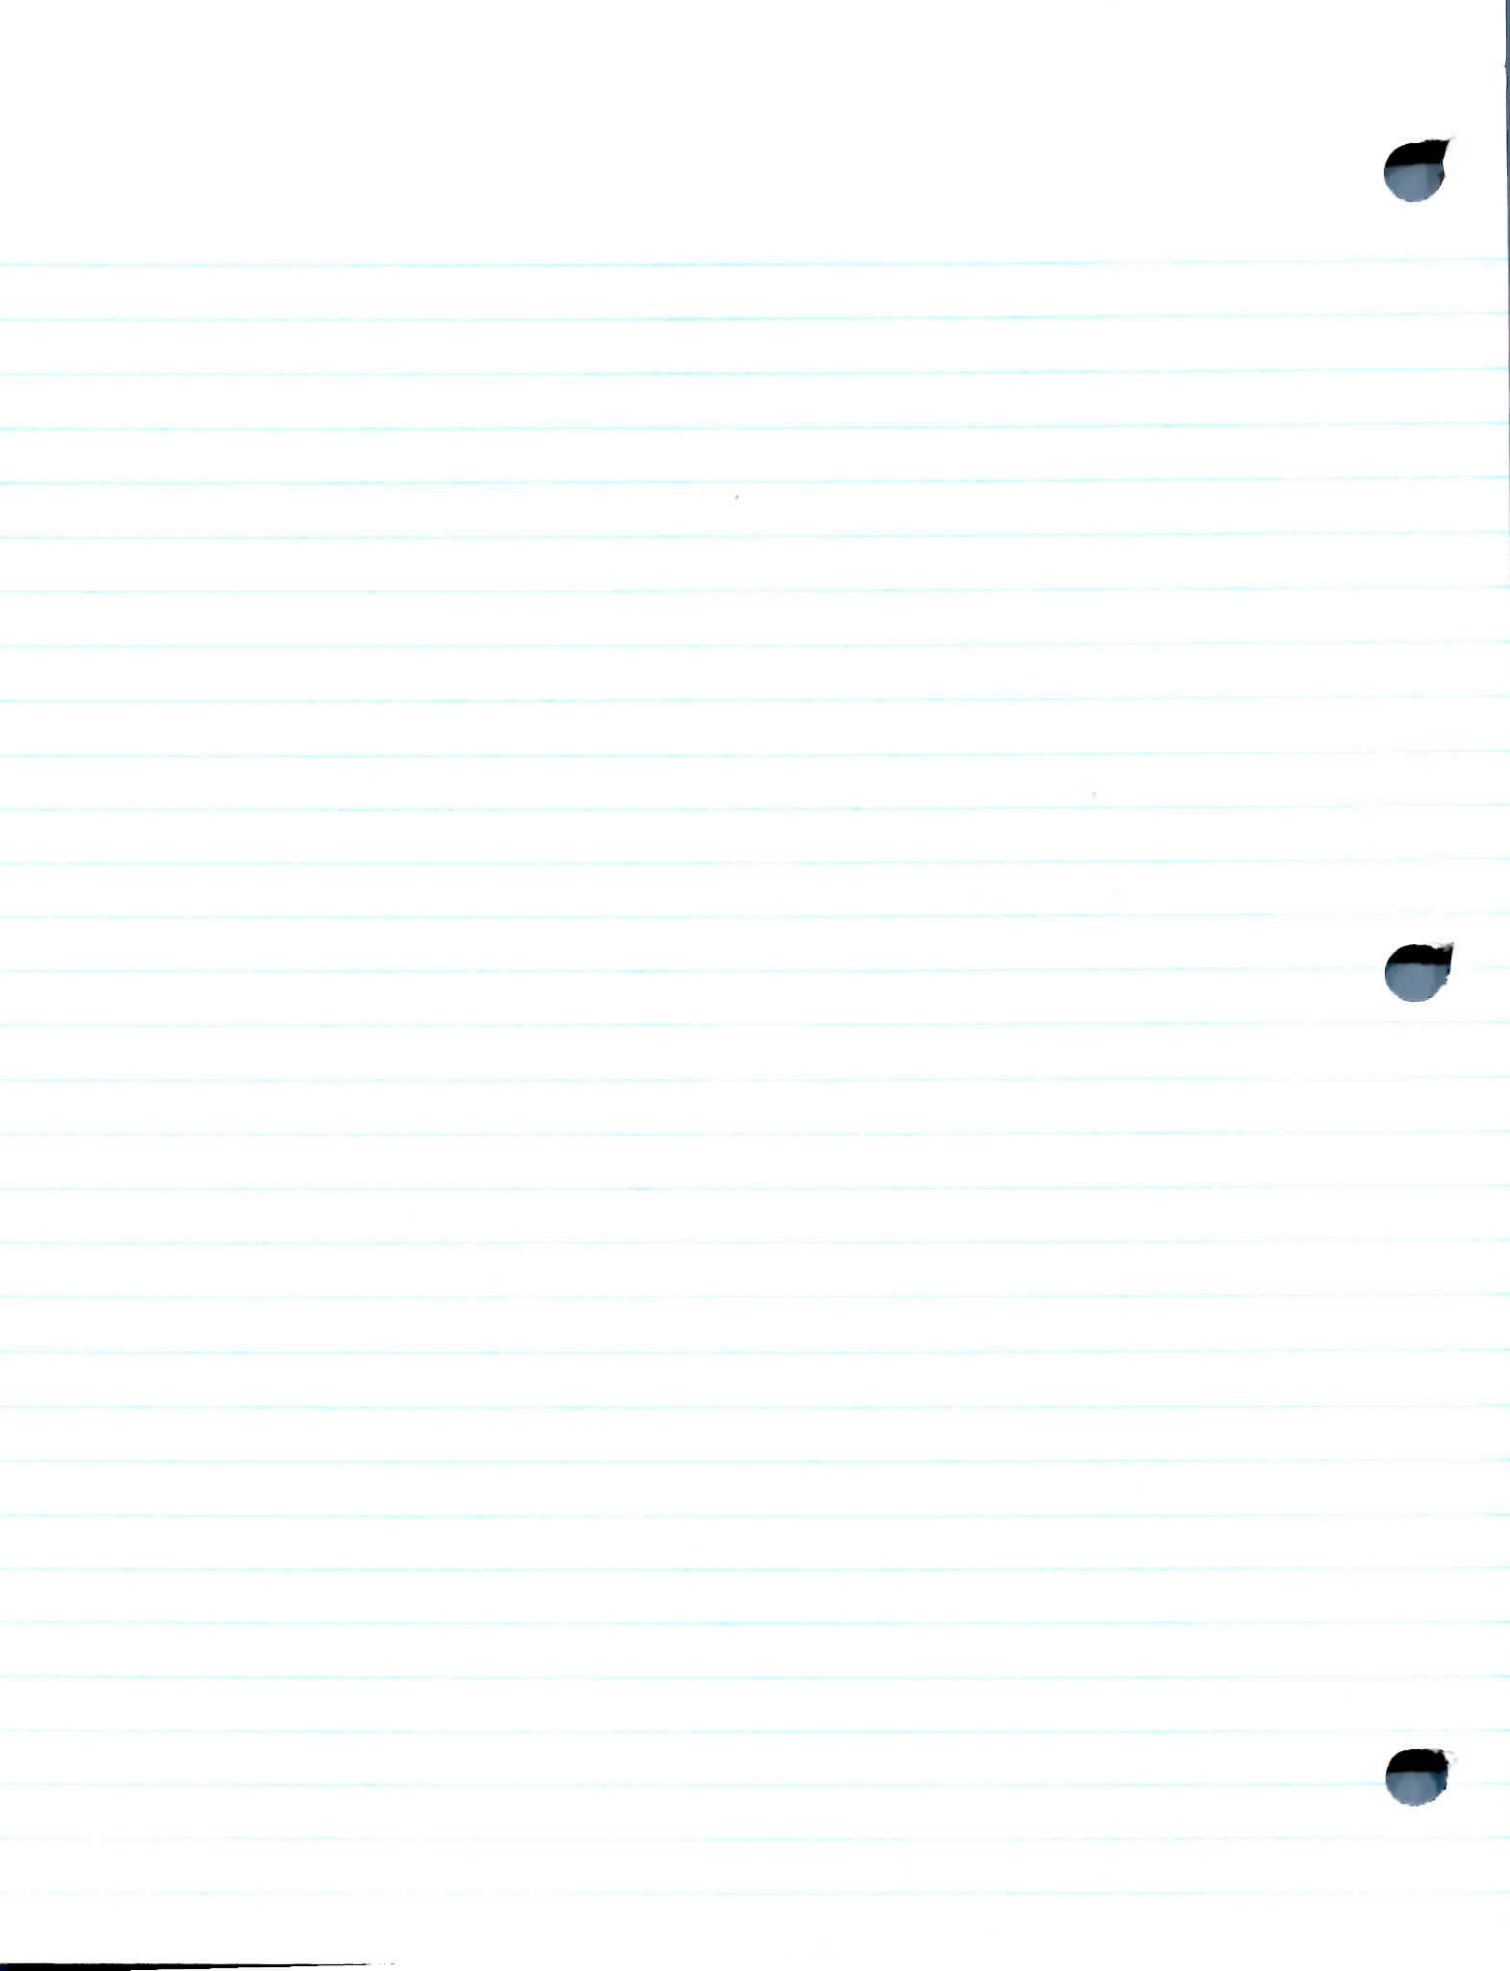

"You're supposed to say Disney World-cut!" the reporter left.

"Let's get the twins into the car," Marileva replied as her sexually explicit dress was carried by Derek Sims and Vanessa Sims.

Marileva removed the long part and dumped it in the trunk leaving her with high-heels, white nylons, and a white mini skirt that was strapless. She put on her S.S.C. jacket and helped Edmund put the kids in the car. Edmund opened Marileva's door and picked her up and put her in the grey Stealth designed by the Ferrisons for 977 speed. The car took off down the road. Edmund

Alexander Sims and Marilena Willa-Dike Sims deserve this rest (or sex). The true M.V.P.'s of the war.

P.S.: Their rings were of silver, Edmund's favorite, and crystal to signal the truce between the two worlds which Marilena beautifully signified.
